strikers. Meridian, Miss., April 13 .- One of the three striking telegraphers here has rework, and trains on the Southern and Alabama Great Southern railroads are running on schedule time. Railroad officials here claim the backbone of the strike is broken and that all acancies will be filled before nightfall. Charlotte, N. C., April 13.-The fast mail trains on the Southern railway from Washington and from Atlanta passed Charlotte on time this morning. Railway officials claim this division is experiencing no inconvenience on account of the strike, while operators say the contrary is the fact. Trains on branch roads were on time this morning. No outside information regard-ing the movement of freight is avail-

Regarding the strike Superintendent

"It did not show the strength I had expected. Some of the strikers are back and we have operators for all important points. So far as the handling of trains is concerned, we have not suffered the slightest inconvenience, but there has been some little inconvenience caused by the men who are out tampering with the wires in the offices and outside. The wires nave been cut in various places, particularly in the mountain sections. Linemen are at work all the time, but cannot watch the entire line. I offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any person tampering with the wires in any way. "So far as I am concerned, there is no strike; no train has been delayed and the unimportant stations are occupied by men who are not operators the wires having been cut out. J. H. Barrett, the general superintendent was here today and tells me the situation is practically the same through out the system." One of the effects of the strike is that a train must run on time, or not at all. Every passenger train is followed by one freight train running as retains the strength, flavor and aroma a second section. The wires being cut of their coffees which are roasted daily in a great many places, any accident and insures to the consumer fresh or delay would badly derange things, goods at all times.
