Betsy Hamilton to Give Readings.

Betsy Hamilton, one of the best known and most popular southern authoresses and public readers, will give a series of readings in Asheville this week. The dates will be announced later, one evening at Battery Park, one at Knifsworth Inn and one at the Manor.

Betsy Hamilton in private life is Mrs. M. V. Moore, of Alabama. Mrs. Moore has written a number of character sketches. "The Georgia Cracker," "Ole Mis Freshours, Bob and the Preacher," perhaps being the best known through her impersonation. These sketches have never been published, but Mrs. Moore impregnates these original characters in her recitations. Henry Grady said of her: "The Betsy Hamilton recitations in dialect are rich verbal pictures which cannot be reproduced in cold type; they depend for much of their most enjoyable value on that feature of lingual expression which defies the printer's art."

The Two Pits.

A message to the Christian Endeavorer of Louisiana published in their state paper:

A toiler bent a patient back Above a yawning pit. And time and strength and love and wealth.

He shoveled into it. And still, though many years he toiled And bitterly he cursed, The pit remained a hollow hole, As empty as at first.

A second workman bent his back Above a second pit. And time and strength and love and wealth.

He shoveled into it. And, lo, before his sun was set The pit was brimming o'er With ruddy gold and jewels rare, A vast, exhaustless store!

Oh, toiler in the field of life, 'Tis not the work you do, But where you do it and for what. Means bane or bliss for you! Alike into a yawning pit May go your strength, your toil, But one pit is the church of God, The other is—yourself. —Amos R. Wells.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern for Girl's Frock Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4635

The changes of fashions in children's clothes are never at any time so marked or sudden as is sometimes the case with the fashions of their elders. We hear very often these days that children were never so well dressed as now, and surely good taste and simplicity are more evident than for some time past. For general wear it will be found in the long run that the plain, simple, comfortable mode of dressing them usually survives the longest. We have here illustrated a pretty frock for the little daughter. It is an exact copy of our little English cousin's sailor suit. It is made with a real sailor collar, and the waist is in one piece—that is, it has no shoulder seams and comes very low over the shoulder where the sleeve is joined. The lower part of the sleeve is made plain shirt style, with pointed cuff, or, rather, English sailor style, as that is the way all of them are made. The skirt is side plaited and attached to an underbody. Many mothers make just one blue serge skirt and then half a dozen galatea or pique waists to wear with it. The insignia may be used or not, and a very pretty idea is to put a band of red on the left arm at the joining of the sleeve to the dress. Either wash goods or woollens may be used in the development of this design. Sizes, 5 to 11 years.
