

JAIL SENTENCES IMPOSED BY JUDGE ON TRUST OFFICERS

Two Wealthy Men of Naval Stores Sent to Jail Under Sherman Law

WAS THEIR SECOND OFFENSE AGAINST IT

Three Others Fined Heavily BY Judge Sheppard. All Will Enter Appeals

(By Associated Press.) SAVANNAH, Ga., May 14.—Overruling the motion in the arrest in judgment by the defense, Judge William B. Sheppard this afternoon sentenced the five men found guilty of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust law, and for the first time so far as is known jail sentences, in two cases were imposed. The sentences are: Spencer P. Shotter, chairman of the board of directors of the American Naval Store company, three months in jail and a fine of $5,000. Edmund S. Marsh, president of the company, $3,000 fine. J. F. Cooper Myers, vice-president of the American company, and president of the National Transportation and Terminal company, three months in jail and a fine of $2,500. George Mead Boardman of New York treasurer of the American Naval Stores company, $2,000 fine. Carl Moller, of Jacksonville, Fla., agent of the American and general manager of the National Transportation and Terminal company in Jacksonville, $5,000 fine. Was Second Offense. Mr. Shotter and Mr. Myers were sentenced to terms in the Chatham county jail, Judge Sheppard imposing the punishment upon them because they had been before the court two years ago entering pleas of guilty. At that time Judge Emory Speer, who was presiding, stated that a term in prison would be imposed if they should come before the court again. Mr. Marsh was accused on the former occasion when the grand jury returned a "no bill" as to him, as he was a witness before the grand jury. Mr. Moller's sentence was made heavy because of his connection with terminal yards in Jacksonville, where

BRYAN MAY ENTER RACE FOR SENATE AGAINST BURKETT

With Roosevelt From New York In The Upper House Times Would Be Lively

WOULDN'T BE ABLE TO DOMINATE THINGS

Senatorial Courtesy A Tradition That Ignores Past Fame And Present Greatness

(By Sheldon S. Chinc.) WASHINGTON, May 14.—Democrats in congress are vastly interested in the reported possibility that William J. Bryan may seek election to the senate as the successor of Elmer J. Burkett, whose term expires March 3, 1911. A dispatch from Little Rock, Ark., quoted Mr. Bryan as saying that while he should prefer that some other Nebraska democrat be nominated for the senatorship, he would not say that he would not be a candidate. Earlier dispatches from Nebraska had represented Mr. Bryan as an acknowledged aspirant for senatorial honors. While Mr. Bryan's advent in the senate would not be hailed as an unqualified blessing by all the democratic members thereof, no doubt the rest of the country would take a great deal of pleasure in seeing Mr. Bryan a senator and derive no little pleasure therefrom. Then, if Mr. Roosevelt would only come to the senate as a successor of Chauncey Depew the satisfaction of the country would be complete. Would Stand Hazing. If either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Roosevelt is under the impression that upon becoming a senator he would at once step into the leadership of his respective party in that chamber, he would as well be prepared for a rude surprise. It is a pretty good guess that both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt would have to undergo a course of hazing, though the dose would not be so severe, probably, as the one for instance which is being applied to LaFollette of Wisconsin. There are a number of democratic senators who genuinely and sincerely acknowledge Bryan as the leader of their party, but they are hopelessly in the minority. The average democratic senator is deeply convinced that he himself would make a much better leader than Mr. Bryan. And how

MANY LIVES LOST AND MANY INJURED IN SEVERE STORMS

Series of Tornadoes Swept Over Missouri And Adjoining State

PROPERTY DAMAGE IS REPORTED VERY HEAVY

Many Widely Separated Towns Were Struck About Same Time

(By Associated Press.) KANSAS CITY, May 14.—A series of tornadoes in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma late today killed a dozen persons, injured about one hundred, devastated Hollis, Kan., and wrecked a train and did great damage to property. Twenty-five were injured in suburbs of Kansas City. At Hollis three men were killed and ten seriously injured. The Eckstrom family of five persons is missing and may be dead in the ruins of the home. Near Great Bend a tornado killed two and injured twenty. All wires are down in that vicinity and it is feared that the death list may be greater. William Akerley, a Santa Fe engineer, was killed while working with a barge gang between Great Bend and Kinsley. Frank Nicholson, a conductor, was killed. The storm spread over a wide farming area and laid waste many farm houses and barns. An estimate of the rural casualties could not be obtained tonight. At Holington, Kan., a tornado injured a number of persons and greatly damaged farm property. At Pond Creek, Okla., a severe wind storm injured four persons and unroofed several houses. Many wash-outs interrupted traffic. Electrical disturbances crippled telegraph and telephone wires. Twenty-five persons were hurt, several seriously and much property was damaged by a tornado which struck Mount Washington and Fairmount Park, suburbs, at dusk tonight. It is believed that five of the injured may die. Among the most seriously injured are: Mrs. James O'Gara, her father, mother and five year old boy. Mrs. Mary Robinson and baby. Mrs. George Root and two children. Mrs. Ferguson.

Getting Ready For Charlotte

INDIAN IS DANGEROUSLY HURT IN SHOOTING AFFRAY ON COLLEGE ST.

Wade Wilson, Who Runs Soft Drink Establishment, Admits He Did Shooting. Claims It Was in Self Defense. Tomahawk Was Found In the Place Later.

Will Wade, an Indian, who is better known around town as Allen "Whippoorwill," was shot and dangerously wounded in the soft drink establishment at the northwest corner of College and Lexington avenue about six o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Wade Wilson who runs the place is held charged with the shooting. Although the Indian is shot through the right breast, the bullet piercing the lung, Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, who was called in to attend him at the Mission hospital last night said that the wound is not necessarily fatal. At midnight he was resting easily and seemed to be suffering but little. The Indian was wounded in two places by the one bullet which struck him. It passed entirely through his arm a little above the wrist making a flesh wound, and then plowed his way into his chest. Unless pneumonia or some complications ensue Dr. Reynolds said last night the Indian is likely to get well. Can't Find Witnesses. The shooting caused great excitement in that part of College street, where there are always many hangers, but just how it occurred and why it occurred, no one had been found last night who could or would tell although it is known that there were eye-witnesses to the affair. The only accounts of it which the police had secured last night were from Wilson himself and from the Indian, and these accounts differed in a most unusual manner. Wilson admitted firing the shot, but in the little he would say he declared that he had fired in self-defense when the Indian attacked him with a tomahawk. The Indian in his statement made in the presence of the officers at the police station and also in the presence of Dr. Reynolds, after he was taken to the hospital, said that the shooting must have been an accident as neither he nor Wilson was mad at the time. Wilson, he said, had ordered him to leave the place, and in some way the pistol had been fired. "Whippoorwill" had been drinking as he usually does when he strikes the city, and although not drunk, was very much befuddled at the time immediately after he was shot. He repeated his statement, however, that the shooting must have been an accident to several persons. Walked From Place. After the shooting, the Indian left the place and walked down College street and out Haywood until he reached the Hatherton building. There he became faint from loss of blood, and staggered up against an automobile. A police officer assisted him there. Dr. M. C. Millender, whose office is in the building, hurried out and stopped the flow of blood from his arm until the police patrol arrived. He was then taken to the Mission hospital where Dr. Reynolds dressed his wounds. At the hospital when he sat up, the blood gushed from the wound in his breast in a stream showing that an intercostal artery had been severed, but there was no indication of hemorrhage from the lungs. Wilson's Arrest. A witness of the arrest of Wade Wilson told the following story of the affair last night to a representative of The Citizen. This witness was in the Hotel Berkeley about 6 o'clock when he heard a shot fired. He immediately left the hotel and looked for an officer. While looking for the policeman he saw men running from the soft drink place. With Policeman Presley he went to the place, and found it apparently empty. They passed into the room reserved for white people but could see no one. Then the policeman tried the door

SENATORS WAXING WARM IN DEBATE ON IRON SCHEDULES

Everybody wants Everybody to Stop Talking And Pass Tariff Bill

MONEY GIVES ROOT SHARP CALLING DOWN

Republicans Present United Front When It Comes to Voting

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 14.—Again the committee on finance was upheld when the senate today voted down an amendment by Senator Cummins to lower the duty on round iron, etc., by a vote of 35 to 42, and upheld the house rate which was recommended by the Senate committee. Almost the entire session was given up to a debate on the profits of the United States Steel corporation and toward the end of the day personalities were freely indulged in by senators. This occurred after Senator Root had spoken in defense of the finance committee and in criticism of senators who had complained of the failure of that committee to provide more ample information concerning various schedules. Mr. Money, addressing himself directly to the senator from New York, resented what he characterized as a lecture to the senate and said if the senator from New York desired less speaking in the body "He should do less of it himself." Stop Wind Jamming. Asking that an interview with J. J. Hill be read immediately after the senate convened today, Senator Scott endorsed its advice to congress that oratory be suspended and that congress promptly pass the tariff bill. "This," said Mr. Scott, "is in line with letters I am daily receiving begging and praying that these gentlemen," waving his hand over the senate chamber, "get through their wind-jamming and let the country go ahead with its business." An extended discussion took place on an amendment offered by Mr. Cummins reducing the duty on round iron from 8-10 to 5-10 of one cent a pound, and on iron in slabs, etc., from 4-10 to 3-10 of one cent a pound. Mr. LaFollette made complaint that he had difficulty in obtaining from the committee on finance information to guide him in his course on the tariff bill. Senator Root, in defense of the committee laid down the proposition that the committee on finance in reporting a house bill was under no obligation to furnish information to the senate except on those paragraphs on which it proposed amendments. Mr. Root said other senators would do well to confine themselves to clear-cut, short statements and "to refrain from declamation and to refrain from general discussion for home consumption." This was said in relation to a criticism made by Mr. LaFollette. Become Sarcastic. "If gentlemen think that the people of the country will applaud them," added Mr. Root, "in my judgment they are much mistaken." Mr. LaFollette referred in sarcastic language to the "suprem" confidence of the committee on finance. (Continued on page four.)

CHURCH UNITY CAN ONLY BE WITH RECOGNITION OF TWO FUNDAMENTALS

Episcopal Congress Again Expresses Various Views On Vexed Question.

UNITED IN SPIRIT

(By Associated Press.) BOSTON, May 14.—The outlook for visible church unity was a topic which greatly interested a large audience today at the Episcopal church congress which concluded its sessions after a number of eminent men had spoken. The conclusion reached was that there can be no visible church unity without a full recognition of the validity of the priesthood and the sacramental system. One of the speakers expressed the opinion that no help toward the desired end can be expected from the Roman Catholic church until the idea of a primacy at Rome supplants that of the papacy. Bishop William Croswell Hoar of Albany, N. Y., thought that the possibility of visible church unity is not likely to be realized in this world. The Episcopal church was arraigned by Dr. William Faber, D. D., of Detroit, who he claimed is lack of unity within its own ranks. "The office and work of the Holy Spirit within and without the church," was discussed by Rev. Canon H. Denley Hansen of London, Rev. Dr. Joseph G. H. Barry, dean of the Cathedral, Wis., Theological Seminary and president of the church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York, Melville F. Bailey of New York and Rev. J. D. Perry, Jr., of New Haven, Conn. The congress was closed by a brief farewell address by Bishop William Lawrence, the general chairman. Congress Successful. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Newton, chairman of the committee of publicity and editors of The Church Militant, said tonight: "The congress was one of the most successful sessions of recent years, both in point of attendance and in the quality of papers and addresses. Many views held in one spirit rather than one view held in many spirits as Phillips Brooks once said, is the

OSLER DECLARES THE FIGHT AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE MUST NOT CEASE

May Never End in Victory, But Can Accomplish Much Good At Least.

CANNON MOCKS HIM

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 14.—That tuberculosis is no longer a problem of the doctors, that it probably will take two or three generations to reduce its ravages to the rate at which typhoid fever has been regulated, and that the public must be awakened to a greater sense of its responsibility in combating the disease, was the substance of an address by Dr. William Osler, the noted physician of Baltimore and Oxford, England, before a public meeting today of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Other distinguished men who spoke were British Ambassador James Bryce, and Speaker Cannon, of the national house of representatives, both of whom urged the fostering of the idea of children's play grounds as a means of keeping them in the open air as much as possible. Dr. Osler congratulated the association on the work it had done, the three principal things accomplished having been, he said, the awakening of the public, the loosening up of the money bags of the legislatures and of philanthropic persons, and the enlistment of men and women who are thoroughly in earnest in the campaign. What Must Be Done. Three things remained to be done, he said. The first was to keep the public awake, the second to obtain more money and the third to arouse the interest of more men and women, because the campaign was no longer one entirely for the doctors. "Whether tuberculosis will be finally eradicated" he declared, "is even an open question. It is a foe that is very deeply entrenched in the human race." Ambassador Bryce praised the men of science because he said they belonged to all the people. The men of science he declared, were more of a link and bond of union between people than any other class. FRIENDS MISSED THEIR MARK, KILL EACH OTHER

Each While Trying to Protect the Other Fired With Fatal Results.

ROANOKE, Va., May 14.—William Bailey and E. M. Young, two young men of prominent families of Lee county, this state, shot and killed each other while trying to kill another man last night at a school entertainment at Dayton. Young and Bailey had an altercation with William Jones over the matter of tickets of admission. Young and Bailey accused Jones and the latter struck one of them. Jones and Young punched and Bailey in an effort to shoot Jones, shot Young. As Young was falling he fired aimlessly the ball hitting his friends Bailey. Jones was shot in the ribs and another man was slightly wounded. Pandemonium reigned in the hall where the entertainment was held. Women fainted and others screamed hysterically and it was many minutes before the frightened audience was permitted to leave. Young was the son of a former member of the Virginia legislature and Bailey was a telegraph operator. (Continued on page four.)

NO INJUSTICE DONE THE NEGRO SAYS HERBERT

In Address Before Confederate Veterans Foretells Solution of Negro Problem.

(By Associated Press.) NORFOLK, Va., May 14.—An address by former Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert, a military and civic parade marked Confederate Memorial day here today. Mr. Herbert said in part: "We had our battle for the independence of the Confederacy. To that we are re-entitled. We all agree it is best that there be but one flag. What we have to be proud and grateful for is that at last in the Union with the idea of disunion forever buried and under the flag that is powerful enough to protect us and our descendants against all the nations of the earth, we finally triumphed in all our over-throw and negro rule, the creature of radicalism. "There is no law among our statutes that does the negro injustice. New constitutions have been devised for the benefit of both races and I honestly believe that now we have reached the solution in its main outlines of the negro problem which has been the curse of America." Confederate veterans who had previously marched in line on Memorial day since having grown old and feeble today rode in automobiles. (Continued on page four.)

(By Associated Press.) RICHMOND, Va., May 14.—The International League for Highway Improvement began its convention here today. Mayor Richardson made the welcoming address and Governor Skason. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and a number of other prominent men made addresses. Delegates from all over the country were present. President John A. A letter from President Taft was read expressing hearty approval of the objects of the convention. This convention is being held in a "hot bed" for highway improvement and there is much enthusiasm. The league has among its officers Eugene Masters, St. Augustine, Fla., vice-president; J. E. Ingram, St. Augustine, treasurer; and Harry L. Brown, St. Augustine, secretary.
