

REVENUE CUTTERS KEEP GUARD OVER STR. NANTICOKE

Have Alleged Filibuster Safely Penned up in Pamlico Sound

BELIEVED TO BE ONE OF CASTRO'S SHIPS

Federal Authorities May Search For Warlike Cargo if She Sails

(By Associated Press.) BEAUFORT, N. C., June 13.—With two revenue cutters, the Seminole and the Pamlico, on watch and with great seas making the inlets connecting the North Carolina sounds with the Atlantic Ocean impassable for any but the strongest craft, chances of success of a filibuster expedition from these waters directed against Venezuela are today small.

The treasury departments aid was invoked because of persistent rumors that ex-President Castro's friends were planning a hostile expedition against President Gomez's government.

Waiting For Arms. According to advices the promoters of this enterprise realizing the impossibility of transhipping these arms at any Atlantic port, planned to send them to some interior port of entry, whence they would be transported quietly to some small South Atlantic port and shipped to Venezuela.

It was discovered that two vessels suitable for filibustering purposes had been sold by a New York ship brokerage firm to unknown parties.

There is no warrant out for the seizure of the Nanticoke but there is nothing to prevent them from searching the vessel which they will doubtless do if they fall in with her.

It is reported from one quarter that the vessel is designed to ply in peaceful trade upon some of the inland waters of Venezuela.

SENATE MAY SEND TARIFF BILL TO HOUSE THIS WEEK

Prospect That It Will Be Completed In Upper Body by Saturday Next

But Little More Time Will Be Spent on Schedules Which Have Been Contested

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 13.—The feeling in all factions in the senate is that the tariff bill is approaching the last days of its consideration in the senate. Senator Aldrich is hopeful that the end may be reached by next Saturday.

The week will be devoted to a general clearing up. With the exception of one disputed point in the silk schedule the senate last week disposed of all paragraphs of the schedules which the committee had reported.

But little more time will be spent on schedules which have been contested. The tariff bill remains on the doubtful side but the question of the amount of duty and the differential between the duty on rough lumber and on manufactured articles remains to be settled.

Hides, oil and petroleum are giving the committee on finance no little concern. Present indications are that the rate will place a duty on all of the articles. Zinc, zinc ore and zinc blocks, pigs, and sheets, and other products are still to be considered as a separate article.

DR. WILSON WARNS AGAINST MODERN TREND OF AFFAIRS

Cites Labor Union as Illustration of Unprofitable Servants

AND HONEST ROGUES DEBAUCH A NATION

Strong Baccalaureate Sermon Preached by Head of Princeton

PRINCETON, N. J., June 13.—The members of the class of 1909 of Princeton University and their families and guests gathered in Alexander Hall today to hear President Woodrow Wilson deliver his baccalaureate sermon.

President Wilson spoke from the scriptural text from the Gospel of St. Luke, "We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do." He said in part: "Duty is a very handsome word—it is a very handsome thing—but let every man look at it so that he comprehends what it really means. It conveys an obligation from within, not merely from without. We have not done our duty, we have not even earned our wages, when we have done merely that which we were obliged to do. We have done our duty only when we have done that which we know completes the service, when we have put the best that was in us into the task, our hearts into the bargain."

Labor Unions. "You know what the usual standard of the employe is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trades unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. In some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skillful of his fellows can do within the hours allotted to a day's labor, and no one may work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is."

SUPPOSED LEPER EARLY, IS MADE VICTIM OF OFFICIAL RED TAPE

May Not Be Given Opportunity to Take Free Treatment Offered Him by Leprosy Expert Who Declares He Has Not the Dread Disease at all—Nothing Done for Him by States' Representatives.

Further delay in the proposed removal of John R. Early, the supposed leper, from his quarantine in the outskirts of Washington to New York for treatment, under Dr. Bulkeley, the leprosy expert, is indicated by a special dispatch to The Citizen from Washington.

Some weeks ago Dr. Bulkeley examined Early, who has been detained as a leper outside of Washington since last September, and after his examination he pronounced his case not leprosy at all, but merely skin poisoning due to his long exposure to the fumes of acids in the plant of the Champion Fibre company at Canton, where he had been working.

Thereupon Dr. Bulkeley proposed to take Early to a cancer hospital in New York and treat him free of charge in order to demonstrate that his diagnosis was correct. Then came the usual difficulty of red tape and now according to the special to The Citizen, Dr. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, will refuse to permit Early to be moved until he has received express permission from the city of New York to send him there.

"Even if satisfactory evidence were presented to me to show that the authorities of New York city and state are willing that Early should come there, I would still insist that he submit to an examination by a disinterested physician before permitting the transfer to be made," Dr. Woodward said to The Citizen's correspondent.

The special dispatch continues: "The Early case, while it has aroused great interest in the opinion of many people, being made a matter of professional jealousy among the physicians, Dr. Woodward's diagnosis of the case as leprosy and his professional standing are somewhat in jeopardy should it turn out that Early has not leprosy at all, and many people are inclined to think that this has much to do with his reluctance to give the unfortunate man the chance that is offered him to get rid of a terrible malady, whatever it may be.

"It has been suggested here that the state of North Carolina, and especially the representatives of the congressional district from which Early comes have shown a remarkable lack of interest in the man's welfare. The state after refusing to permit him to be sent back across its borders has apparently abandoned him to whatever fate strangers, professional arrogance, and official red tape may see fit to mete out to him."

NEW YORK, June 13.—If John R. Early, the alleged leper, now in quarantine in Washington, chooses to come to this city for treatment he may do so without objection on the part of the New York city board of health, so said Dr. Thomas Darlington, president of the board of health tonight.

CORPORAL SHOOTS HIS CAPTAIN OVER TRIVIAL MATTER

Two Other Soldiers Wounded In Efforts to Disarm Infuriated Man

REPRIMANDED FOR OVERSTAYING LEAVE

Refusal of His Superior to Transfer Him Led to His Mad Act

(By Associated Press.) DESMOINES, Ia., June 13.—Corporal Leslie Crabtree today probably fatally shot Captain John C. Raymond, commanding officer of Troop H, second U.S. Cavalry, at Fort Des Moines, shot and seriously injured first sergeant James H. Washburn and Corporal Elijah Such, who attempted to disarm him, and then shot himself, the bullet striking a rib above the heart and crushing the bone. He may recover.

Crabtree had been reprimanded by Captain Raymond, because of failure to report when a leave of absence had expired. He had spent the night in Des Moines and was to have returned to his barracks at 7 a. m. The corporal insisted he had leave of absence till 7 o'clock tonight. Captain Raymond accepted this explanation, but later Crabtree demanded that he be transferred to another department of the army.

Began Firing. This Captain Raymond refused to consider, telling the corporal he could not do that as long as he was not a good soldier.

Immediately Crabtree drew a revolver and began firing. Sergeant Washburn jumped to his feet and grappled with the soldier, suffering a bullet wound in the hand and another in the jaw.

Captain Raymond seized Crabtree's arm and was about to disarm him when a bullet struck him in the neck, lodging in the spine. The captain dropped to the floor, paralyzed.

A bullet also struck Corporal Such in the left arm. Crabtree then fired a bullet into his own body.

Captain Raymond is the son of Brig. General Charles W. Raymond, retired. He was thirty-eight years old. He was commissioned from Pennsylvania.

NO LIGHT ON MYSTERY OF SURROUNDING DEATH OF MOORE SEVEN YEARS AGO

Coroner's Jury Fails to Clear Up the Charlotte Mystery.

SKELETON BURIED

(Special to The Citizen.) CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 13.—The decision of the coroner's jury called to investigate the manner of death of Ellis M. Moore, whose body was found in an excavation for a sewer in this city a few days ago, was that the deceased came to his death in some manner to the jury unknown. Moore has been missing since May 20, 1902.

Among the most important witnesses were Mr. William Hamilton, a grocer at No. 1218 South Tryon street; Mr. James M. Ritch, of the Charlotte Carriage company; Dr. C. S. McLaughlin, county physician, and Chief W. S. Orr, of the fire department.

Mr. Hamilton stated that he with Tom Broom about Moore about 10 o'clock on the morning of May 20, 1902, and after loading around the streets, both he and Broom got into Moore's buggy and went to Latta park. After taking several drinks of whiskey, from a half-gallon jug, which belonged to Moore, he and Hamilton was taken to his home by the two men and did not leave the house until the next morning.

"It was about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when Moore and Broom left me at my gate and I never saw Moore again," was the statement made by Hamilton.

Mr. James Ritch testified that he had seen Moore in the company of Hamilton and Broom, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the fatal day, driving through Dilworth, towards Latta park. "Later, at about 8 o'clock in the evening," he stated, "I went to Latta park and saw the three men near the old grandstand. I did not speak to them, but I knew all three of the men and thought they had been drinking." Ritch stated that he was with two of his friends, Ed Snuggs and Dallas Bird, at the time he saw the men and that after the disappearance of Moore he talked to Hamilton

BRIDEGRIM IS LOST OFF SH WHILE ON HIS HONEYMOON IN ITALY

Theories Suicide and Accidental Drowning Both Advanced.

PROMINENT SOCIALLY

BOSTON, June 13.—On the arrival at Naples today of Genoa of the North Sea Lloyd steamer Berlin it was ascertained that Holland Bennett was traveling with his wife missing from the vessel and a belief prevailed among the passengers that he either committed suicide or fell overboard and was drowned.

Mr. Bennett disappeared Thursday night when the steamer was making the run from Genoa, and while his wife was with a number of friends in Genoa. A thorough search of the vessel was made for the missing man and the commander of the star swept the sea with a search in a futile effort to find him.

The Naples police questioned a number of passengers concerning Mr. Bennett but none of them was able to give an explanation of his disappearance, though several advanced the theory that while leaning against the steamer smoking he may have fallen overboard.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had taken passage on the Berlin, intending to return to the United States, but Mrs. Bennett now decided to remain to await the return of the search for her husband. A couple arrived in Italy from New York at the beginning of April stopped at the Hotel Excelsior made visits to Capri, Pompeii and other places of interest and afterward went to Rome, Venice and then to Genoa, fresh place they sailed.

Bennett was twenty-seven years old and a member of the law firm of Forbush & De, with offices in the Exchange building. He was the son of Joshua Bennett, president of the Camb Electric Light company, and a graduate of Harvard, '04 the Harvard law school, '06. He is here shocked at the deed the young man did and are emphatically expressing their belief that it was a case of suicide.

FATHER OF KIDNAPPED BOY DESIRES TO ACT AS STRONG ARM OF JUSTICE

Requests Permission to Execute Sentence of Death on Son's Murderer.

BLACK HAND CRIME

(By Associated Press.) NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—Following the signing of the death warrant of Leonardo Gebbia late yesterday by Governor Sanders, Peter Lamanna, father of the youth for whom the penalty on the gallows, today declared that he had formally requested the governor and the sheriff of St. Charles parish, to permit him to act as executioner.

The crime for which Gebbia was convicted and for which it has been decreed he should hang, was committed two years ago. Walter Lamanna, the twelve-year old son of Peter Lamanna, a well to do Italian of this city was kidnapped and a ransom of $5,000 demanded for him by the perpetrators of the deed who operated under the sign of the black hand. The father declined to comply with the demands and the lad some days later was found dead, his head having been severed from his body, in the swamps of St. Charles parish.

Four Italian men and two women were tried about a year ago in St. Charles parish for the crime, were found guilty but received a recommendation for mercy. They were sentenced to life imprisonment. Some months later Leonardo and Nicolina Gebbia, who it was claimed aided the murderers, were tried in the same parish, with the result of death sentences being imposed upon them. Nicolina Gebbia escaped the gallows when a few weeks ago sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER LIVED TOO AMICABLY

Were Arrested and Held on Charge of not Being Father and Child.

(Special to The Citizen.) RALEIGH, N. C., June 13.—Yesterday morning Constable Hyrum arrested in the park in front of the Union station here a white man George Harris, aged about 45, and a white woman about 20, giving her name as Bertha Harris. Several months ago they came here and immediately connected themselves with the Central Methodist church, giving out that they were father and daughter. They boarded at several places, occupying the same room, the constable says. The man told the constable as soon as he was arrested that the young woman was not his real daughter, but an adopted one and that while there was only one bed in the room they had occupied he had always slept on the floor. The young woman said that she was married and it is understood that Harris made a statement to the same effect as to himself. They were held in bonds of $50 each to appear at noon today for a hearing, and Harris, who had some $200 in his pocket, put up cash for their appearance. He had had a small grocery store here, but sold it two days ago and was to have left town today, he and the young woman both stating, in fact, they were waiting for a train. They are from Richmond. The case was continued until June 25.

SUGAR TRUST AGAIN IS SUBJECT OF SUSPICION

Terms of Settlement Believed to Violate the Sherman Law.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 13.—Beyond the statement that the department of justice has assigned two agents to duty in New York under instructions to examine into the conditions under which the recent compromise was affected between the American Sugar Refining company and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company no official information can be obtained here regarding the purpose of the administration. It is, of course, understood, that the special agents are looking into the allegation that the compromise disclosed conditions in the original settlement between the two corporations involving a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

A local paper prints what purports to be an interview with ex-Attorney-General Bonaparte, which, in effect, amounts to a declaration that during his administration the department of justice was without the evidence necessary for a successful prosecution. But officials of the department of justice, when pressed for a statement of its intentions, declared that the proceeding in their present stage must be regarded as confidential.

LEOPOLD GLAD TO BE RID OF CONGO

ANTWERP, June 13.—King Leopold made a remarkable statement here on the occasion of the festivities in connection with the annexation of the Congo Independent State. He said that the gift of Congo to Belgium was the greatest satisfaction in his life. He declared that Congo would play a most important part in the expansion of Belgium. The new tariff walls of her neighbors had placed Belgium in a position where a merchant marine and new outlets for her products were imperative.

The fact that the king conversed at length with Henry W. Biederich, the American consul general, was the subject of remark.

Thousands Throng Bowery to Honor Jewish Writer and Educator.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Twenty-five thousand persons who had appreciated his interpretation of Hebrew life in drama and novels, and his liberal teachings and humanitarianism thronged the Bowery today to pay tribute to the memory of Jacob M. Gordin, Jewish playwright and educator.

A swelling crowd of 3,000 packed the theatre, while outside a gathering of 20,000 or more awaited the conclusion of the services and fell into line with the funeral procession. Five hundred soldiers and labor unions were represented.

Though Gordin left no directions as to the ceremony, his friends, believing they were rightly interpreting his liberal view of life, omitted religious features entirely.

QUALITY OF COFFEE LEADS TO MURDER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 13.—Recounting the imputation of C. H. Carper that Mrs. Kelly could not make good coffee, W. T. Kelly and his brother-in-law, Will Sparks, this morning met Carper at Boyle's salubrious of Birmingham, and proceeded to "settle" the matter. As a result of the affair, Carper is dead, Sparks is fatally injured and Kelly is wounded in the arm and leg. It is said that Kelly attacked Carper with a club, whereupon Carper drew a pistol, two other pistols being produced by the brothers-in-law and a general fusillade of shots followed with above result.

THOUSANDS PAY THEIR LAST TRIBUTE OF LOVE TO GREAT UNITARIAN

Clergymen of All Creeds Pronounced Eulogies on Rev. Edward Hale.

BODY LAY IN STATE

BOSTON, June 13.—Under the gold domes of the auditorium of the South Congregational church, where for many years Edward Everett Hale broke the bread of life to his people, there gathered today the great Unitarian family of Boston to pay a last reverent tribute to the great leader of Unitarianism, the preacher, author, philosopher and friend of all mankind, while at the same hour a host of friends and admirers of Dr. Hale gathered at the Park Street Unitarian church to listen to eulogies by clergymen of many creeds. Throughout the city from sunrise to sunset flags were floating at half mast by order of the city's chief executive.

The body of Dr. Hale lay in state from 10 until 1 o'clock in the South Congregational church and was viewed by thousands. The services began at 2 o'clock. British Ambassador James Bryce and Governor Eben H. Draper, were among those present.

Arthur Hale, eldest son of the deceased, gave the closing word, reading and saying: "In accordance with an old custom of my father, I wish to thank you for your attendance here, and through you, all his friends throughout the whole world."

Even as the scope of his efforts and attainments embraced nearly every element of benefit to mankind, so did the ministerial friends and associates of Dr. Hale recount and extol his accomplishments in missions for humanity before those who gathered at the Park Street church.

A recently executed bust of Dr. Hale had a conspicuous place at the front of the church.
