

TIRED OF DEBATE SENATORS AGREE TO VOTE THURSDAY

Little Interest in Further Discussion of Tariff Bill in Upper House

WESTERN MEMBERS CEASE OPPOSITION

Compel Agreement to Extend Reduced Duty on Leather Goods by Resolution

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, August 3.—The complete collapse of all important opposition to the conference report on the tariff bill was evidenced today when the senate agreed to vote on that measure at 2 o'clock next Thursday.

Half an hour after unanimous consent had been given for the adoption of that course, a general dissolution on the part of senators to speak brought an early adjournment until noon tomorrow.

When the senate met today the lack of interest in the proceedings was very evident. This had been caused by an agreement on the part of the Western senators to vote upon the conference report, and to correct the hide and leather schedule to which they objected yesterday by means of a concurrent resolution to be acted upon separately.

Extends Reduction.

The form of the latter was agreed upon in an informal conference to-day. The change will make dutiable, at 10 per cent, boots and shoes, the upper leather of which is made wholly or in chief value from the hides or skins of cattle, including calf skins." A similar change will be made in relation to harness, saddles and saddlery.

The effect of the amendment is to make the reduced duties on boots and shoes and harnesses and saddlery apply to such articles as are composed of leather from the hides and skins of cattle and calf skins, instead of confining the reductions to articles made from hides which have hitherto been dutiable. The range of the reduction is greatly increased.

Democrats Meeting.

The suggestion for an amendment to vote was made in the senate by Mr. Riddle, representing the minority, and was at once concurred in by the chairman of the finance committee.

SPANISH TROOPS DEFEAT MOORS IN TWO BATTLES

Succor Arrived in Time to Save Detachment in Half Finished Blockhouse

(By Associated Press.)

MADRID, Aug. 3.—The cabinet is considering a plan for extending the time for the payment of commercial paper which has been affected by the cessation of commerce during the insurrection in Barcelona.

General Martina reported this afternoon a successful Spanish maneuver against the Moors. He set a trap for the Moors. While he maneuvered several battalions in front of the Moorish position, the battleship Numancia moved down the coast to take the enemy in the rear.

The Moors took the bait, moved forward and at once fell under the concentrated fire of the fort and Numancia. They retreated in disorder, leaving many dead.

Attack Block House.

The attack upon a block house in course of construction began at midnight on Monday. A large body of Moors stole out in the darkness from the foothills of Mount Gurugra and rained bullets for three hours upon the half completed fortress.

The most important work before commenced, said Supreme Knight Edward E. Hartin, at the opening business session is the raising of $500,000 for establishing scholarships in the Catholic University of America.

Cardinal Gibbons, he said, asked the Knights of Columbus to raise $100,000, they promised and every knight should respond. He recommended instituting lectures to non-Catholics.

He leased the nights for their success in securing from congress re-enactment of Christopher Columbus in having October 12 recognized legally as "Columbus Day."

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 3.—The twenty-seventh annual session of the National Council Knights of Columbus was formally opened here today with a large delegation present.

At 8 o'clock this morning in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception Political high mass was celebrated. His grace, Archbishop John J. Glennon, of St. Louis, presided at the sermon.

The constitution of the United States, he said, is a guarantee of religious liberty, and the time has come when no set of men can array themselves against the religion of their fellow citizens. The loyal American Catholic lifts above his country's standard and his heart's devotion, no symbol higher save that one alone that has given to America its constitution and to the world its civilization—the symbol of divinity.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3.—Sweden appears to be on the verge of an immense labor war. Late tonight it was reported that the strike was continuing. Tomorrow the day school closed for the winter to begin. In Sweden a miniature revolution is in form if this does not develop.

General Martina has issued urgent orders for the completion of the block house, which is necessary to assure communication.

A balloon was sent up today and observations were made of fifty-four gorges and ravines on Mount Gurugra where thousands of tribesmen were seen preparing for a great battle.

WANT RANSOM OF $25,000 FOR CHILDREN

ST. LEO, Fla., Aug. 3.—After more than twelve hours of unceasing search the St. Leo police tonight had gained no tangible clue to the whereabouts of the kidnappers of Grace and Alfonso Vianino who were last night taken from their home.

The entire state of Florida is ready for搜查, and police are being organized in different sections of the state and adjacent states.

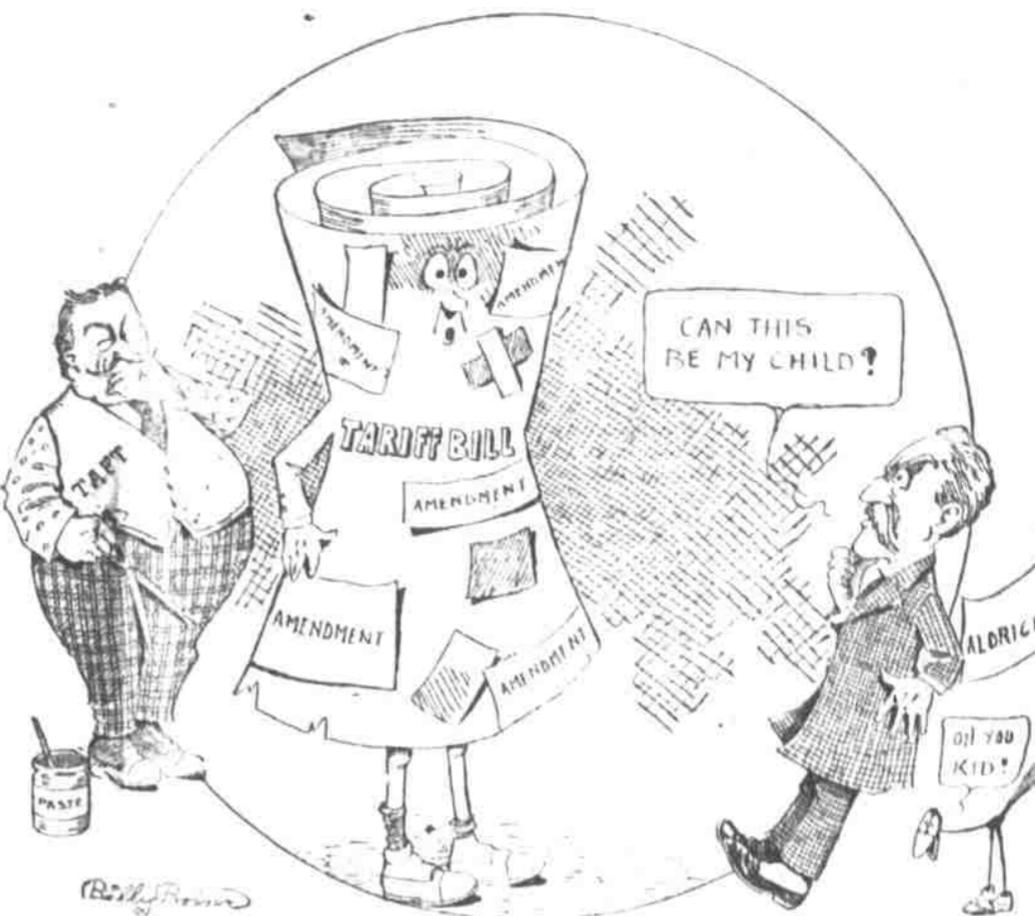

King Gustave has summoned the members of parliament to Stockholm, and a special session of the Riksdag is expected.

Great exertions are now being made to find the kidnappers of the two children. The police are now prepared to be willing to pay the ransom of $25,000 demanded by the abductors. The police today arrested Joseph Pagan, his wife and his mother-in-law, Enrica DeGrazia. The women were released without bail, numbering about 70,000 men.

It is said that Samuel Torre, who attempted to have saved the children, was seen at Princeton, home of the kidnappers, accompanied by two children.

A total of 80,000 men were reportedly locked out yesterday and their numbers are increasing rapidly.

WOMAN SHOOTS OLD SWEETHEART IN CORRIDORS OF WALDORF-ASTORIA

Weapon Used Was Little Pistol and Bullet Glanced off from Fountain Pen Harmlessly, Then She Wept, Is Wife of Prominent San Francisco Man.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—There was a shooting affair in the Waldorf-Astoria this afternoon in which a woman and a man figured. The woman did the shooting; the man's life was saved by a fountain pen, which deflected the bullet. With characteristic femininity, the woman used a 22-caliber revolver and the bullet, after striking a silver fountain pen, inflicted a slight flesh wound and dropped harmlessly in the man's coat pocket.

The principals of the affair, which caused quite a stir in the crowded Waldorf, are Mrs. Mary A. Castle, thirty-six years old, a decidedly good looking matron, and William D. Craig, a lawyer.

Craig, who is a member of the Rocky Mountain club, which has a suite of rooms in the hotel, was on his way to the club room to dress for dinner. Mrs. Castle, who had been waiting for him, tried to detain him, but Craig shook her off and went to the elevator. Mrs. Castle kept pace with him and as he was about to step into the elevator, she shot at him when the muzzle of the little revolver was within an inch of his coat.

When detectives arrived the woman was sitting on a lounge weeping hysterically. Taken to a police station she said she was an insurance agent and had a brother, Captain Harry Scott, stationed at Fort Meade, near Mobile, Alabama. She pointed to Craig, who was standing nearby, and after pleading for him to forgive her, said, "He is the cause of my trouble. He has thrown me over."

Craig said he would press the charge against the woman.

Frederick Dean, to whom Mrs. Castle sublet her apartment in Sixty-seventh street, interested himself in her case tonight. He conferred with the police and said that Mrs. Castle's home was in San Francisco and that she was the wife of Neville Castle, who is well-to-do and is travelling at present in Alaska. She and Craig, he said, were friends in San Francisco as children. She was not arraigned in the night court, but will have a hearing tomorrow. Mr. Dean, a lawyer.

Dr. Baker said that in his opinion Thaw was not only insane now, but a dangerous person to be at large.

ALIENISTS TELL THAW WHAT CLASS OF FOOLS HE IS IN

Superintendent of Matteawan Says he Is Dangerous to be at Large

IS BADLY RATTLED ON THE WITNESS STAND

One Alienist Refuses to Say Whether Christ Was Paranofac or Not

(By Associated Press.)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Three of those medical men known as alienists, who have become such familiar part of modern Criminal court procedure, united in the Supreme court today to make it understand that Harry K. Thaw, who killed Stanford White and was adjudged insane, but now demands his release from the Matteawan asylum as a mentally normal man.

All three testified that he was insane, and when Thaw took the stand briefly, after some disconcerting testimony, he was plainly rattled and nervous, but Mr. Jerome dismissed him after a few comparatively unimportant questions.

Of the alienists who testified, Dr. Austin Flint, Dr. William Hirsch and Dr. Amos T. Baker, the last named gave testimony of the most importance. He is acting superintendent of Matteawan and appears as a witness without compensation, the only alienist in the case with this distinction. Justice Mills called attention to this fact and took a hand in questioning him.

Dr. Baker said that in his opinion Thaw was not only insane now, but a dangerous person to be at large.

Thaw Was Nervous.

Shortly after this, Mr. Jerome quickly called Thaw to the stand. He was pale and apparently shaken. The district attorney put some rather incoherent notes written by the prisoner in evidence and asked him to explain them. After paroxysms back and forth and laborious explanations by Thaw as to the meaning of certain writings, he said:

"And I want you to know, Mr. Jerome, that many of these notes you call suggestions were written at the request of my lawyers."

"Do you mean to tell us, who served you in both homicide trials," asked Mr. Jerome, "that you did not believe you knew more about the case than your lawyers did?"

"I do," was Thaw's quick reply.

He admitted that he did offer some suggestions to his lawyers.

Degenerate Paranoiac.

Thaw was excused after a bit more of this ordeal and Dr. Austin Flint was called. Dr. Flint described paranoiac as a person dominated by certain delusions, whose mental and physical state might not otherwise be affected, except in so far as these delusions influence him.

"Paranoiac," he concluded impressively, "never recovers."

Dr. Hirsch varied the general verdict by declaring Thaw a "degenerate paranoiac."

Charles Morschauer, Thaw's attorney, attacked this testimony with every legal expedient. In Dr. Flint's case he endeavored to show that he had given contradictory testimony in two previous cases where he appeared as an expert. He caused Dr. Hirsch to make a statement until after he had committed an offense.

From the police station, Mrs. White sent the following note to Anderson at the hospital:

"I sincerely regret the horrible accident and truly hope you are not seriously hurt. I am now at the station for what I know not."

White declined to make a statement until after he had committed an offense.

Before being operated on at the hospital tonight, Anderson made a statement which we were told in the presence of others. While no part of the statement was carried out, it was learned that Anderson asserted that the shooting was deliberate. The reason given was that White, for whom he had been engaged, had been shot.

White was taken up to the police station for the night and Mrs. White is being held there in the matron's room, as a material witness. The pistol with which the shooting was done was taken from her by the police and has been confiscated.

White's son, George, is en route to New York to find out in paying her back who was the author of the shooting.

The young woman, en route to New York, telephoned into the station for a bite to eat. In paying her back, she said the author of the shooting was a man of very small frame. A dark-skinned waiter turned in the telephone and every available male guest tried to rescue the affair, thereby convincing the wearer, who knew nothing of the conflagration, that she had blundered into an insane asylum.

The train was held a few minutes until the victim recovered from an attack of near hysterics, when she graciously permitted it to proceed, giving vent to a few personal opinions of clear beliefs in general and this one in particular.
