

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The bridge party at the Bell Park hotel, Asbury, was a success and an interesting affair due to the guests and absence of the usual enjoyable give-draws during the afternoon. The drawing room was decorated with quantities of roses, pink carnations, yellow flowers, golden glow, marigolds, etc. The orchestra and dancer were busy by playing for the bridge players and also for the numerous dancing room. The girls were seated in a small room near the entrance of the bridge room, and the girls and the orchestra were unusually harmonious, in both a gay and rollicking manner. Silver sugar and cinnamon candies and numerous bridge sets in silk and leather cases. Punch was served during the evening. The bridge parties have been very popular during the season and as the tables had to be apparently paid for the wine, have afforded the chief entertainment of a very agreeable form. Among those present were: Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. Hart S. Bryant, Mrs. William H. Morrison, Mrs. Williford, Miss Lee, Mrs. James L. Alexander, Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Brannon, Mrs. J. M. Cheaney, Mrs. McFarland, Mrs. E. F. Alexander, Mrs. E. C. Clark, Mrs. Henry Duff, Mrs. Peter Thompson, of Cleveland, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Williams, Miss Anna Williams, Miss Henderson and Miss Eleanor Morris.

A very pretty juvenile dinner was given last evening by Master Charles Hender, in honor of three little friends, Miss Naomi Hender, of Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Lily Peterson of Sweden, and Miss Edith Clark of New York. The decorations were pink and green and the little girls of honor wore white blouses with pink ribbons and sashes.

The annual mid-summer sale of the Biltmore estate industries will be held all day tomorrow in Brynmawr. The beautiful home pane of soft tints, embroidery, copied from Russian, Italian and Hungarian embroidery, brought expressly for the purpose by Mrs. Vanderbilt, baskets, and the remarkably fine wood carvings will all be sold. It is expected that the sale will be one of the largest ever held owing to the fact that there are so many visitors in the city, who will be specially interested in the work. The public is most cordially invited to attend and the sale will be held all day.

Mrs. J. L. Webster, of Memphis, Tenn., will be the guest of honor at a bridge party given this evening by Miss James L. Alexander at the Battery Park hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Webster with a party of friends from Memphis are spending a few weeks at the Battery Park hotel. There will be a number of guests invited.

The fairy costumes for the Woodland ball Monday afternoon at the Battery Park hotel, are exhibited to-day at the Peerless in one of their windows, which will be turned into a candelabrum. The two costumes are special orders and have been made for children to wear at the ball. They would prefer that their costumes be not duplicated, they are shown simply as suggestions of costumes to be worn. The sketches and taffeta wings, etc., are shown also, and the latter are particularly fancy-like.

Mr. Burnett Jordan will give an interpretation of "The Servant in the House," at the Manor this evening at 8:30 o'clock. "The Servant in the House" is one of the greatest dramatic successes of the past decade. It has caused more discussion than any other modern play, depicting as it does the salient qualities claimed in turn by the churchman, the soldier and the fraternal organizations and their various ideas of love and truth in life that saves. It is based on St. John's saying, "If a man say I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" The interpretation of the play by Mr. Jordan means an interesting treatment of theme as those who have heard him say testify, and with a voice capable of infinite variety of shading and deep emotional capacity, Mr. Jordan brings to his work a moving and convincing interpretation, rare among readers.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW DRESSES?

They are radical departures from the late styles and strikingly new.

We dare not attempt a technical description, but you who read the women's magazines and fashion journals will get the idea from the words "long-waisted" and "hipless."

The prices range from $13.50 to $37.50; there are serges, henriettes, silks, and broadcloths in black, dark shades of blue, green, old rose, and tan.

The style is well over the speculative stage; it is fixed and assured, and will speedily be worn by all who make any pretense at good dressing.

M. V. MOORE

WOMEN'S CLOTHES.

11 PATTON AVE.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

1

2

3

4

5

6

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The bridge party at the Bell Park hotel, Asbury, was a success and an interesting affair due to the guests and absence of the usual enjoyable give-draws during the afternoon. The drawing room was decorated with quantities of roses, pink carnations, yellow flowers, golden glow, marigolds, etc. The orchestra and dancer were busy by playing for the bridge players and also for the numerous dancing room. The girls were seated in a small room near the entrance of the bridge room, and the girls and the orchestra were unusually harmonious, in both a gay and rollicking manner. Silver sugar and cinnamon candies and numerous bridge sets in silk and leather cases. Punch was served during the evening. The bridge parties have been very popular during the season and as the tables had to be apparently paid for the wine, have afforded the chief entertainment of a very agreeable form. Among those present were: Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. Hart S. Bryant, Mrs. William H. Morrison, Mrs. Williford, Miss Lee, Mrs. James L. Alexander, Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Brannon, Mrs. J. M. Cheaney, Mrs. McFarland, Mrs. E. F. Alexander, Mrs. E. C. Clark, Mrs. Henry Duff, Mrs. Peter Thompson, of Cleveland, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Williams, Miss Anna Williams, Miss Henderson and Miss Eleanor Morris.

A very pretty juvenile dinner was given last evening by Master Charles Hender, in honor of three little friends, Miss Naomi Hender, of Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Lily Peterson of Sweden, and Miss Edith Clark of New York. The decorations were pink and green and the little girls of honor wore white blouses with pink ribbons and sashes.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist Church held their annual picnic yesterday at Weaverville, where they spent a most pleasant day. Games of limbo were taken and the picnic under the trees was especially enjoyed. There were many others of the congregation who went with the children returning late in the evening on the car line.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist Church held their annual picnic yesterday at Weaverville, where they spent a most pleasant day. Games of limbo were taken and the picnic under the trees was especially enjoyed. There were many others of the congregation who went with the children returning late in the evening on the car line.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist Church held their annual picnic yesterday at Weaverville, where they spent a most pleasant day. Games of limbo were taken and the picnic under the trees was especially enjoyed. There were many others of the congregation who went with the children returning late in the evening on the car line.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffodils. A yellow satin ribbon tied in a French bow, ornamented the slender handle of the basket. The place cards were folded and the outer cover contained water colored sprays of daffodils, and the name of the guest in gold. The souvenirs for each of the twelve guests were very dainty bar pins, each different and all set with pearls. A bell string quartet played during the luncheon. Mrs. Wood's guests were: Mrs. Jackson, Miss Eleanor Morrison, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Virginia Griffith Miller, Miss Jessie Crosswell, Miss Mattie Coker, Miss Georgia Dennis, Miss Margaret, Miss Lillian Reynolds, Miss Carolyn Reynolds, and Miss Helen Chapman.

Miss Henry Wood entertained with luncheon yesterday at her home on Woodin street, in honor of her guest and former converse class mate, Miss Frances Jackson. The color scheme was yellow and the center piece of the well appointed table was a basket of yellow daffod