Crimes When Committed Roused Citizens to Wrathful Desire For Revenge

In First Public Address He Tells Little New About His Experiences

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 7.—A special term of the Bartow county superior court here today convicted of criminal assault upon Mary Elrod, with possession of a dangerous weapon, and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Frank Worthington, co-defendant, was acquitted.

(By Associated Press.) COPENHAGEN, Sept. 7.—One of the most remarkable events of the summer season occurred here today in the trial of the officers of the ship "Albatross" from the charges that they had committed a crime against the life of a Danish subject.

The case of Will Golden, another white man, charged with criminally assaulting Miss Annie Gentry, is now on trial.

The controversy is beginning to grow warmer here. Commander Peary's statement is pronounced as correct in fact, but that it is a large fabrication is held by those who believe in the other side of the information he has given out with respect to his expedition and the reported discovery of the north pole.

Although there was considerable excitement in the northern part of Bartow county following the commission of the assaults upon Miss Elrod and Miss Gentry, and threats of lynching were freely made, the excitement was appeased when the special term of court was ordered to try the cases.

Standing in front of an immense map of the Arctic region, which was surrounded by the stars and stripes, the Cook continued his progress to the North pole. Introducing the explorer's own papers, and that his expedition in Greenland and Copenhagen, he explained his expedition. The papers then he called the reader's attention to the Arctic region, which was surrounded by the stars and stripes of the United States.

While the crowd in the Worthington case fails to meet the approval of many of the hundreds of citizens from the northern section of the county, who are in attendance upon the court, it is not apprehended that there will be any attempt to do either of the Worthingtons violence.

The king and queen, Prince and Princess George of Greece, and members of the royal family, together with a large gathering of the most prominent people in London, taken this afternoon witness of the presentation to Dr. Cook of a gold medal by the crown prince, and returned to the explorer's quarters afterward.

It is certain that Judge Elix ordering of the special term of court was all that prevented a riot as an attempt to lynch the three men.

Howard Stokely, a negro, is in jail and will probably be tried tomorrow on the charge of tampering with a witness. A verdict in the Golden case is expected tomorrow morning.

PEARY FAR AT SEA AND WORLD WAITS FOR MORE DETAILS

Uncertain When He Will Reach Point Where He Can Send Messages

HUNDRED GO OUT TO MEET HIM ON RETURN

Two Great Explorers at Opposite Side of Earth Paid Distinguished Honors

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Robert E. Peary, having "nailed the stars and stripes to the pole" on April 6, 1909, as told in his series of messages flashed by wireless yesterday from the coast of Labrador, is figuratively lost to the world tonight, homeward bound on his ship the Roosevelt.

At Copenhagen, Denmark, royalty continues to pay homage to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, who announced six days ago in a manner not unusual to Commander Peary's that he had unfurled the flag of his country at the pole on April 21, 1908. Neither saw indications of the other's achievement; both will be in the United States before the close of the present month.

Commander Peary on the Roosevelt, according to best reckoning, was in the vicinity of the straight of Belle Isle, between New Foundland and the province of Quebec tonight. But it is uncertain at what port he will touch first to amplify the meagre news of yesterday.

News May Be Late. Inadequate telegraphic facilities on the Labrador coast and the north-west coast of New Foundland may move him to decide to proceed on southward to North Sydney, Nova Scotia, before he gives to the world details of his triumph in the Far North. Commander Peary had intended stopping at Chateau bay, Labrador, possibly tonight, but the telegraph station there was abandoned some time ago and the Roosevelt must push her nose further south before the world obtains the news. As she comes down to the New Foundland coast, Red bay, and further south, St. George bay, are at hand but whether Peary will avail himself of these points or continue to North Sydney, Cape Breton, where he will have every facility at hand is a matter of conjecture tonight. It is 450 miles from Chateau bay to North Sydney and the time of his arrival can only be guessed. But the Roosevelt may reach there late tomorrow.

With her husband's plans uncertain and with no specific message to meet him Mrs. Peary is waiting at her home in New York.

HARRIMAN SURVIVES FRANTIC EFFORTS OF ARDEN RUMOR MAKERS

Report of His Death Set at Rest by Visit to His Cheerful Home.

IS MENDING RAPIDLY

(By Associated Press.) ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—After a night of uncertainty it was determined shortly after midnight last night that E. H. Harriman is not in such a critical condition as earlier reports indicated. A party of newspaper men, including the Harriman family, and including with Dr. Lyle, who was apparently that there was a possibility of a change for the better.

A glimpse of the inside of the Harriman home seemed to bear out Dr. Lyle's statement that the financial condition was not critical. Miss Carroll Harriman and the physician were sitting on a sofa laughing over a photograph and Mrs. Harriman could be seen in an adjoining room. All three were in evening dress and there was no sign of any other physical ailment.

This is the first time that any newspaper man has ever actually reached the Harriman home, as it is impossible to pass the guards on the mountain side.

No light could be seen in the windows of the bed room supposed to be Mr. Harriman's and nothing whatever could be found to indicate that a crisis in his home was at hand.

Shortly after ten o'clock there came a rumor that the financier had died in a sudden collapse. Where this rumor came from no one could say. It was given wide circulation before a terse denial over the telephone from Dr. Lyle set it at rest.
