The Messenaet data in stories, but the fit-t me about make stealing door knote out -hen's nest is nobl and torante - pared to the following

The story is vouched for to Me A. Colson, of Ausonville threaden hen of Capt. J. J. Colscore Lilesville township, father of Mr Colson, had been in the habit of his the hollow of it have fountree for several years Both eggs and young chickens disappeared from the nest a number of times Finally Mr. J. A. Colson and Mr. G. W. Threadgill killed a large snake near the tree and noticing that his snakeship looked very full they out it open when out jumped a live biddy. The biddy lived to be a hen and the strange thing is that the last egg of every nestful she lays is shaped exactly like a snake" egg, says Mr. Colson."

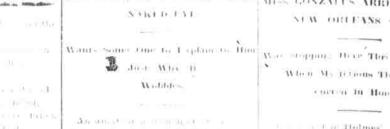

Chickens or Woman?

"In." May, the Jaller of this count ty. is a wise man Having been in charge of the county's boardbirg house for many years he knows a low things. It is told of him that when a negro preacher is brought in "Ju." May asks him at once. "Chickens or woman ?" The other day fies, Brown of dark color, was brought in and the usual question was asked, when Brown, without hesitancy, answered And this is the 312338412.5 'woman.' against him. Brown hates from Rockingham county and was arrested grocs moving rails, and each one had on a warrant for bastardy .- Greensboro Record.

Glad They Have None .

The Statesville Landmark commenting on the troubles Ashe ville is hav ing with its Auditorium takes unte itself the "Sour Grapes" consolution It says:

"All towns should have a public gathering place, and few of them have one that is suitable. But seeing the difficulties the larger town have encountered after they get what they want, the smaller towns should feel like the Iredell man about the A citizen of iredell called al corn. the home of a neighbor on a cold frosty morning and inquired for the 'men folks.' He was told they were pulling corn. "Inana the Lord,' said the caller, as he held his hands before the glowing firs and reflected on the disagreeable work, thye no corn to Perhaps we should be that is ful we have no auditorium."
