

SPAIN WILL KEEP UP WAR AGAINST MOORISH TRIBES

After Serious Defeat Will Send Heavy Reinforcements to Front

NATIONS GUARDING AGAINST AGGRESSION

Will Permit Spaniards to Occupy Territory Until Indemnity Is Paid

MADRID, Oct. 2.—Aggressive operations against the Moors are to be continued, it is understood here, this decision having been reached by the government after consultation with General Marina, the commander of the Spanish forces in Morocco.

Reinforcements to the number of 15,000 men will be sent to Africa, and a regiment of Lancers also has left. Mount Guruga will be permanently occupied and in addition the Spaniards will hold a big piece of the territory with Tetuan as a base until the payment by Morocco of an indemnity of $20,000,000.

Further details of the engagement fought two days ago in Morocco between the Spaniards and the Moors has been received.

The Spaniards lost a total of two hundred and thirty killed and wounded including General Diaz Vicario, who lost his life. A single battalion of Chasseurs had nineteen officers and eighty men wounded.

Caught in Delle

The Spanish expedition was reconnoitering in the direction of Sokel Jen. The Moors at first retired before the Spanish advance, which was sustained by artillery, but they gradually reformed behind the heights of Argan and Mount Milton and when the Spaniards entered the rocky defiles below their position, where the horses hardly could keep their footing they were attacked furiously. The column under General Vicario, which was in the advance received orders to retire and the movement was being accomplished in good order under cover of the field machine guns when General Vicario was shot dead and fell from his horse. General Tomas then took command and after fierce fighting the Moors were beaten off. The entire expedition retired to Zeluan.

DEAD MAN'S MONEY BRINGS HEIRS TO ARMED CONFLICT

One Claimant Dead Another Dying And Third Seriously Hurt In The Battle

CLOSEST RELATION NEPHEWS AND NIECES

Aggressors Open Fire And Shoot Fleeing Men In Their Backs

MOULTRIE, Ga., Oct. 2.—At the old homestead of the late Nathan Flowers, in the lower part of the county, Bert Williams is dead, Wright Flowers is dying and it is believed Flowers is fatally hurt as the result of a terrific six-handed battle with rifles and pistols, news of which reached here today.

Sheriff Boyd and a big posse of deputies are on the trail of John Hart and his two sons, who are charged with the shooting and who are at large, fully armed. It is alleged they took Williams and the Flowers brothers by surprise and because of this all the casualties in the battle were on the side of the Harts, father and sons, ranging against the three men who were shot.

Quarrel Over Estate

The trouble occurred over a dispute about the division of the estate of Nathan Flowers. He died leaving no children and since his death, John Hart, who married a niece, has been living on the home place with Mrs. Flowers. The Flowers boys are nephews while Williams married a niece. Since Nathan Flowers' death there has been a wrangle over the estate, it is alleged, and trouble had been feared.

It is said that the six men met at the homestead and the quarrel was renewed, the shooting ending the dispute.

It is alleged that the Harts were better armed than their opponents in the fight and some of the bullets were fired while the defeated party was in flight, since it is said that two of them received fatal wounds in the back.

No word had been received since the sheriff and his posse left here, but it is feared that trouble will follow the attempt to capture the Harts.

COTTON SO HIGH IN PRICE, MILLS MAY HAVE TO SUSPEND

President Tanner Sees Crisis Approaching For Spinning And Cloth Mills

MEETING CALLED TO CURTAIL PRODUCTION

Manufacturers Will Meet at Charlotte This Week to Consider Situation

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 2.—A critical situation and one of rare occurrence confronts Southern cotton mills because of the high price of raw cotton and unless there is a decided drop in the price of the staple in less than two weeks, according to ex-President S. B. Turner, of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, Southern mills will be forced to shut down.

"It is a very easy question to answer," said Mr. Turner "as to what the mills, both cloth and yarn, will do in the event of thirteen cents cotton continuing as at present.

"It will mean that there will be no money in textile products and the mills, after using up what small stocks of cotton they have on hand, will have to shut down—that is if cloth and yarn, especially the former, do not take a decided jump upwards, a bigger jump than cotton manufacturers would expect under the circumstances."

Mills Not Buying

It was further declared that the mills are buying practically no raw cotton at prevailing figures—thirteen cents—nor will they lay in stocks at that figure, for the quotations on cotton goods and cotton yarns are far too low to leave any profit to the manufacturer today. In other words the mill that makes yarn or cloth out of thirteen cent cotton and sells its product at prevailing prices will lose its profit and a great deal more—in fact the proposition is impractical and will not be experimented in by any of the manufacturers.

Many of the mills have some little cotton on hand which they stored when cotton was bringing ten and eleven cents and will shortly be exhausted.

"I have no remarks to make," said Commander Peary. "General Hubbard and I have just had a very pleasant conference. I do not care to state what we talked about. I understand that the Peary Arctic club intends to make a public statement some time next week."

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—The government has issued a warning to parents and teachers regarding the exchange of letters between German girls and negroes in the German-African colonies. While in most instances such correspondence has been harmless the official communication says the custom still is to be deplored.

In a majority of cases the correspondence was begun by German girls as an odd experience, their principal object being to receive African curiosities, and photographs and letters from a "black prince." The girls also, have sent their photographs to Africa so that in the houses of many negroes in the colonies hang the pictures of young German women of good family. This has been seriously objected to by Germans residing in the colonies.

HARMLESS CRANK GIVES TAFT PARTY A SEVERE SHOCK

Was Arrested as He Tried to Get Picture of President's Front Elevation

PORTLAND OUTDOES HERSELF IN WELCOME

Day's Ceremony Less Exact- ing And More Enjoyable Than Preceding Ones

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Carrying out a program which was arranged with especial reference to his comfort and convenience and yet calculated to give the people of the entire city an opportunity to see him, President Taft spent in Portland today what may be declared to be one of the pleasantest days of his Western trip.

The day of the president's visit was one of cloudless skies and a summer sun. There were but one untoward incident—the arrest of a man who carried a camera and in his efforts to get into the front rank of spectators just as the president was leaving his hotel caused his apprehension by the police. When the man, who gave his name as Arthur G. Wright, was searched, a revolver and an extra supply of ammunition was found upon him.

Wright tells a straightforward story. He states that he is a draftsman in the employ of C. W. and P. Smith Iron company of Roxbury, Mass., and that his mother lives in Billerica, Mass., and his father at Lowell, in the same state.

Wright explained his possession of a special police badge by saying it was given him five years ago by Chief of Police Hower. Wright says he has been on a three months pleasure jaunt through the West. The police will hold him pending further examination into his antecedents.

School Children Drill. During the forenoon the president received from 50,000 school children a tribute which brought tears to his eyes. The boys and girls were banded in red, white and blue rows in the grand stand on Multnomah field to form a living flag.

"The president entered the field through a gate at the crest of a hill and the view of the children basking on him all at once called for an expression of wonderment and delight. His entrance was the signal for an outburst of cheering from the fresh young voices who continued until Mr. Taft had taken the place arranged for him on a stand directly facing the "flag." Then he witnessed a drill by the children which combined with their cheers inspired him, he declared, as had no other site in all his travels.

IS A LITTLE QUEER. LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 1.—Arthur G. Wright, who was arrested in Portland, Oregon today, on suspicion of having designs on the life of President Taft, was born in Chelmsford Center, five miles from here, twenty-eight years ago.

Wright's father says that several years ago Arthur caused to be published a report that he had committed suicide for the purpose of "seeing what effect it would have."

HUDSON-FULTON SHOW ENDS IN NEW YORK AND MOVES ON UP THE RIVER

Spectacular Carnival Parade at Night Closes Gotham's Celebration.

MONUMENT TO WAYNE

STONY POINT, N. Y., Oct. 2.—A monument to the madness of "Mad Anthony" Wayne, the Revolutionary general who led a successful attack against apparently hopeless odds on Great Britain's Stony Point Gibraltar, 130 years ago, was dedicated here today as one of the opening events of the up-state Hudson-Fulton celebration.

The monument, a great memorial arch built of the rough stones over which Wayne led his colonial troops, stands on a commanding eminence of the rugged promontory where the battle occurred. The site is now a state park. The arch is the gift of the Daughters of the Revolution.

NEW YORK SHOW ENDED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—New York's share in the Hudson-Fulton celebration ended tonight with a carnival parade and a display of fireworks and warship illuminations on the Hudson river. There was most of the half hundred men of war anchored here will begin their preparations for departure, and the city's half million visitors will pack their trunks and turn homeward.

Leading the pageant was an ornamental car in the shape of a giant dragon spouting flames and surrounded by fire. For all the floats and their marching bands, German, Swiss, Austrian and other societies provided the characters, who were dressed in appropriate costume, marching with spangles and all brand beneath the half million electric, which blazed along the course.

At the end of the parade was "Uncle Sam" welcoming the nations preceded with "Meredith" with her slipper and her prince.

Because of weather conditions there were no flights by Glenn H. Curtiss or Wilbur Wright from Governor's Island today.

UNCLE OF HART M'KEE GAVE UP WIFE RATHER THAN DISOWN NEPHEW

Wife Ignored in Will and Gay Young Man May Get Large Legacy.

WAS MARRYING MAN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—William D. Hartup, the millionaire glass manufacturer, who died a few days ago in the Hotel Shenley, has practically ignored in his will the wife who married against him for his refusal to disown his nephew, A. Hartup McKee, the often-married and frequently divorced married man.

It is believed that among the many relatives who benefit by the Hartup will McKee holds an enviable place.

It also became known today that Mrs. Hartup, a handsome woman of forty-five, has lived for years on the same floor of the same hotel with her husband, but has not spoken to him in all that time.

It was learned that the basic reason for the break between the Hartups was the insistence of Mrs. Hartup that her husband disown young Hart McKee after the latter's affairs of the heart had attracted widespread public attention. But the old uncle was very fond of the young man, and positively refused to interfere in his affairs.

Mrs. Hartup was a warm admirer of Hart McKee's first wife, who was a Miss Sutton of the North Side, and it has been said that she furnished some of the funds with which the young wife obtained evidence for a divorce. Besides a divorce she obtained a $200,000 home at Long Branch, N. J.

When Lawrence Phipps took his own children secretly from the hotel in New York, because of the alleged attentions being paid to his wife by McKee, Mrs. Hartup protested to her husband against further recognition of his namesake. The final break came, however, when McKee had a special messenger waiting for the decree of divorce here and rushed with it to New York, where he married Mrs. Cornelia Baxter Tevis next morning.

WIFE BETRAYS A FIEND OF A HUSBAND WHO WAS ABOUT TO DESERT HER

May Fix on Him Guilt for Wholesale Murder, Robbery and Arson.

WAS GOING OUT WEST

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 2.—The guilt of Howard Little, who was arrested about a week ago, charged with the murder of "Aunt Betsy" Justice, George A. Meadows and wife and three children seems now to be established beyond a reasonable doubt. His wife confessed today to having washed his bloody clothing the day after the murder and in her affidavit she says also that he left their home about dark on the night of the murder and returned the next morning with his clothes all bloody and torn and said that he would kill her if she told anything about his condition. He borrowed a thirty-two calibre revolver a few days before the crime was committed and returned it on the following Wednesday with two chambers empty. The body of George Meadows was exhumed and two bullets taken from it by Doctors Richardson and White were almost identical in weight with the bullets taken from shells belonging to the weapon Little had borrowed.

Little's wife also turned over the lantern that he brought home with him, which marks where he had tried to cut off the blood stains. He was seen in the barn next morning folding papers across his knees apparently counting money and he gave twenty dollars to a woman with whom he had planned to start for the West a few days after the murder was committed with which to buy clothing and prepare for the train. Having done this she returned one dollar and eighty cents to Little at which time she swears he threatened her life if she revealed any part of their secret.

Revelation papers have been applied for and as soon as they can be secured Little will be removed to Lebanon to await his trial. Threats of lynching are freely made.

HARRIS FOUND GUILTY; SENTENCE FOUR YEARS

New Trial Denied, Prisoner Appeals and Is Released on Heavy Bond.

WARRENTON, Va., Oct. 2.—Following closely the verdict today of the jury sentencing Professor J. D. Harris to four years in the penitentiary for voluntary manslaughter in connection with the killing of W. A. Thompson, associate editor of The Warrenton Virginian on April 24 last, the court denied the motion of the defense for a new trial, which had been asked for on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the facts and evidence.

Counsel immediately gave notice of an appeal and the original bond of $30,000 under which Harris has been at liberty since the tragedy, was renewed. Harris, accompanied by members of his family and friends left late today for Norfolk, Va.
