COURT FAVORS WIDE LATITUDE FOR PRESS IN POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS

Judge Anderson Intimates That Proceeding in Libel Against Newspapers at Instance of President Roosevelt and Others Involves Largely Political Questions. Argument in Case Proceeds.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 11.—That the so-called Panama libel case was "more or less of a political matter," was the comment of Judge A. H. Anderson of the United States district court, at the close of argument today in the hearing of Charles R. Williams and Delevan Smith proprietor of the Indianapolis News, whom the government is seeking to remove to the District of Columbia for trial on the charge of criminally libeling former President Roosevelt.

Probable Cause. The court said that it wished not to give an impression that it had formed an opinion on the merits of the case, but that it desired to point out the trend of the argument towards its further enlightenment as to whether or not there was probable cause for indictment of Messrs. Williams and Smith by the federal grand jury of the District of Columbia for Criminal libel in their having published articles intimating that there was a "graft" of $28,000,000 in the sale of Panama canal zone to the United States by the French company. Whole Matter Political. "What is the guilty intent to be shown on the part of these defendants?" the court asked Stuart McNamara, special attorney for the department of justice in charge of the proceedings. The judge went on to explain that he has a doubt that it could be shown that the defendants had malicious forethought to libel.

The press has a duty to perform and in political discussions it seems to me that the conception of libel should be greatly different from the conception that should apply to a case of libel on a person's private character.

McNamara said that he thought the first court in which an action was brought should have jurisdiction. The judge hereupon suggested that if this view was of the matter were adopted the question would arise whether or not a proceeding for libel might lie in a hundred different jurisdictions. Argument will be continued tomorrow.

There was solace in the decision of the Court of Appeals today, however, in that only ten of the fifty-three indictments on which he was convicted are sustained and on the strength of this his counsel, Martin W. Littleton, will immediately carry the case before the United States Supreme court on a writ of certiorari. To this end the United States Court of Appeals granted a forty days stay of execution and pending a decision by the Supreme court, application will be made to have the prisoner again admitted to bail.

Save Little Woman. Morse took today's decision calmly, though he was plainly grief-stricken and surprised. Mrs. Morse was with her husband in the marshal's office during the entire morning. When word came that the decision was against him she said: "All along we had the utmost confidence that a new trial would be granted. The decision today came as a surprise to us. But my husband is brave and he will continue to struggle for his liberty."

Was Prospering Again. One of Morse's keenest regrets at being forced to return to prison is the interruption of his beaver-like struggle to rebuild his fortune. Since his liberation under bail he had been re-elected president of the Metropolitan Steamship company, a New England corporation; and of the Hudson Navigating company, operating a line of boats on the Hudson. He is credited with having discharged the bulk of his debts. From the two big transportation lines that had within the week elected Morse as their president, there was no official statement forthcoming after today's decision.

HIGHEST TRIBUNAL IN LAND BEGINS SESSIONS. Supreme Court Bench Reduced by Illness of Several Judges, Gets to Work. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—After a recess of more than four months, and with only Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Harlan, Brewer, White, McKeena and Day present, the Supreme court of the United States today began the regular term for the next twelve months.

Ordinarily the court devotes the first day of its sitting to a call of state upon the president, but the absence of that high official rendering this procedure impracticable, business was proceeded with as far as possible. A large number of petitions for writs of certiorari the purpose of which was to procure the review by the Supreme court of cases decided adversely by the various United States Courts of Appeal, were presented.

One of the petitions, that of Majors vs. Williamson, dealt with a right to enforce the collection of a note given to pay a debt incurred in speculation. Williamson contracted the debt speculating in cotton through Majors, in Memphis, Tenn., and in payment made a note, which was secured by real estate located in Memphis. He afterwards refused to pay the note on the ground that it was given to pay a gambling debt, gambling being prohibited in Tennessee and Memphis. The United States Circuit court for the district of Memphis gave judgment against Williamson, but the Court of Appeals for the fifth circuit reversed that finding in accordance with Williamson's contentions. The court took all the applications under advisement.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 11.—No change was made in the officers and directors of the Central of Georgia railway company at the annual meeting of stockholders which was held here today. At the annual meeting of the Ocean Steamship company, which is owned by the Central of Georgia, J. T. Harahan of Chicago, president of the Illinois Central railroad, was elected a director.

TRACTION CO. SALE. ANDERSON, S. C., Oct. 11.—In compliance with an order of Federal Judge Pritchard, the properties of the Anderson Traction company will be sold under a hammer here tomorrow. An upset price of $170,000 has been named. The company owns eighteen miles of city and interurban track and equipment.

DISMEMBERED PARTS OF WOMAN'S BODY, POINTS TO DASTARDLY CRIME

Letter Carrier Makes Gruesome Find Hidden in Dress Suit Case.

NEWSPAPER A CLUE

TIVERTON, R. I., Oct. 11.—The finding of the severed legs of a woman in a dress suit case among some bushes in an outlying section of this town today brought to light what the authorities are convinced is a case of murder. The discovery of a New Bedford newspaper of yesterday's date with the portions of the limbs is regarded as the most important clue thus far obtained, indicating possibly the place of the murder, if murder there was. The authorities tonight were of the opinion that the woman was murdered in New Bedford, that the legs were placed in the suit case there and brought by team or automobile to Tiverton last night.

The body might have been undiscovered for days had not a rural letter carrier, George Potter, chanced to go to the spot this afternoon. Potter was making his rounds, passing along the road, when he noticed three portions of human legs partly wrapped in newspapers in the case. Later investigation by the medical examiner showed that the suit case contained the upper portion of a right leg, that from the thigh to the knee, and the entire left leg, cut in two pieces at the knee. The medical examiner, after taking measurements of the limbs estimated that the woman, or girl, probably was five feet three in height and weighed perhaps 120 pounds.

PROMINENT PEOPLE IN SUMTER ARE WILLING FOR MURRAY TO STAY AWAY

Negro Ex-congressman Has Chance to Escape Trial on Forgery Charge.

DELAYS REQUISITION

COLUMBIA, Oct. 11.—The extradition of George MURRAY, the colored ex-congressman, is causing quite a stir over in Sumter. Mr. J. H. Grady, chief for the state, who conveyed the requisition papers from the office of Governor Ansel, has returned without the prisoner. The governor of Illinois has given Murray thirty days of grace, and in the meantime efforts are being made to present a petition to Governor Ansel for the conditional pardon of Murray or the withdrawal of the requisition papers from the governor of Illinois.

Murray was tried and convicted on the charge of forgery and sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and serve three years in the penitentiary. He took the case on appeal to the Supreme court, which affirmed the decision of the lower court. Murray, who was out on bond pending the determination of his appeal, left the state when the decision of the Supreme court was published, thereby forfeiting his bond of $3,000. This bond was estimated and after some delay his bondsmen made a compromise settlement with the county, paying over to the clerk of the court $2,500. (Continued on page two)

TERRIFIC HURRICANE SWEEPS HAVANA LEAVING TRACK OF DEVASTATION

Storm Which Struck Florida Reached Island of Cuba and did Great Damage

SEVERAL LIVES LOST

HAVANA, Oct. 11.—The most serious cyclone since the big blow of October 17, 1906, struck Cuba early this morning, causing extensive damage through the whole western portion of the island. In the city of Havana many minor buildings were blown down or roofed; almost all the trees were uprooted and five persons were killed, one by an electric wire and the others by falling timbers. About twenty-five persons were injured.

The greatest damage done was in the harbor where forty or fifty lighters, launches and small tugs were either sunk or blown ashore. The total damage in Havana and vicinity is estimated at $1,000,000. The greatest individual loss has been caused by the destruction of half the coal elevator conveyors of the Havana Coal company at Casa Blanca, estimated at $200,000. It will be possible to raise the greater number of the wrecked lighters and other craft. Communication with the interior of the island has been interrupted except with parts of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces in the orange and other fruit crops suffered severely. The tobacco crop has not been seriously affected, beyond the washing out of the seed beds which at this season of the year are capable of renewal.

NORTH CAROLINA NEGRO MAKES LEAP FOR LIBERTY

Just Released From Prison Escaped from Officers who Had Him in Charge.

NOTED LAWYER ILL.

TIVOLI, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Edward Davis, alias King, a negro convict, jumped from a New York Central express train near here today and disappeared. He was discharged from Dannemora yesterday and was being taken by a woman to a North Carolina prison, from which he had escaped. The train had slowed down and King, notwithstanding that he was handcuffed, jumped from a platform of a sleeping car. He rolled over and over, regained his feet and disappeared in the fog. The warden jumped after him but was too slowly and he had to give pursuit. King escaped from the state prison at Raleigh, N. C., six years ago while awaiting trial for murder. He was afterward arrested in Brooklyn and sent to Dannemora for five years.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—John P. Poe, one of the leading lawyers of this city and state, is critically ill at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred Tyler, at Luntun, Baltimore county, Maryland. Mr. Poe suffered a stroke of apoplexy yesterday. He has been the compiler of many legal works, and is also the dean of the Maryland university school of law.

MARYLAND WOMAN WANTS HER NAME ON TICKET

Thinks She Knows How to Make Laws and Will Take Her Case to Court.

SHIPP MAKING HIS LAST STAND IN SUPREME COURT

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 11.—Undismayed by the action of the election supervisors in denying her a place on the official ballot as a candidate for the legislature, Mrs. Ada Smith Lang, a determined young socialist, who has her own ideas as to how laws should be made, is going to make a fight to compel the authorities to put her name on the ticket. Mrs. Lang is the only woman candidate in Maryland this fall, and the only one who has announced herself in many years. She came out some weeks ago, told of her determination to go before the people for their suffrages, and, if elected to a seat in the house of delegates at Annapolis, how she would show the mere man legislators what laws to make. She asked the supervisors to put her name on the ticket. The supervisors conferred with council and late last night reached a decision unfavorable to the application of the woman candidate. Tomorrow she will go into the courts and start her fight in earnest. Counsel for the board of supervisors in advising that body made the following statement: "A woman is absolutely ineligible to sit as a member of the legislature of Maryland, and for this reason I am decidedly of the opinion that no court would direct that a woman's name be placed on the ballot as a candidate. There are many cases supporting this view of the subject, and I am of the opinion that Mrs. Ada Smith Lang's name should not be printed or in any way placed by your board of election supervisors on the official ballot that the law requires you, as a board, to print and present to the voters of the city."

In regard to the action of the supervisors, Mrs. Lang said: "I am sorry the board of supervisors decided in this manner, but the socialist party was prepared for it and will take an appeal to the courts on Monday. The papers are ready, and the party will make a strong fight for me. Had it been left to me personally, I would have objected by the board's decision, but the party will fight for the name of Mrs. Lang to appear on the ballot, and I will fight with them."

FAMOUS TENNESSEE CONTEMPT CASE COMES UP FOR HEARING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Attorney A. H. Cliff, of Tennessee, today presented to the Supreme court of the United States the last of a number of briefs bearing on the petitions of Joseph F. Shipp and a number of other residents of Chattanooga charged with complicity in lynching a negro, F. Johnson, after the Supreme court had taken cognizance of his case.

There were originally about twenty-five of the defendants, but the number gradually reduced until the last term of court when seven or eight of them were pronounced guilty. Those included Mr. Shipp, who was sheriff of the county and his deputy, Jeremiah Gibson, who was the county jailer.

In his brief Mr. Cliff charges that the court erred in many respects in reaching its conclusions, and he especially asserts that when Johnson's lynching occurred he was not in the custody of the Federal court, but of the state authorities.

Mr. Cliff especially sets up in his brief that he appears as the friend and not as the paid attorney of his clients. He speaks of them as "old Confederate soldiers and men of high standing" in their community.

ANDERSON, S. C., Oct. 11.—In compliance with an order of Federal Judge Pritchard, the properties of the Anderson Traction company will be sold under a hammer here tomorrow. An upset price of $170,000 has been named. The company owns eighteen miles of city and interurban track and equipment.

BACK TO PRISON AS FORTUNE BEGAN TO SMILE ONCE MORE

Morse Must Serve Fifteen Years Sentence Unless Supreme Court Acts

WAS REHABILITATING HIS WRECKED FORTUNE

Wife Stands by Him And Finds Comfort in Partial Decision in His Favor

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Unless the Supreme court of the United States reverses the decision, or the president of the United States intercedes, Charles W. Morse, one time "Ice King," coastwise steamship line organizer, banker and capitalist, will serve fifteen years at hard labor in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. After having been at liberty under $125,000 bail since June 17 last, he is back in the Tombs prison tonight where he can ponder the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, rendered today, sustaining the judgment of the lower Federal court, which found him guilty in November last of violating the national banking laws.

There was solace in the decision of the Court of Appeals today, however, in that only ten of the fifty-three indictments on which he was convicted are sustained and on the strength of this his counsel, Martin W. Littleton, will immediately carry the case before the United States Supreme court on a writ of certiorari.
