ASKS FIFTY DOLLARS FOR USING CLOTHES

CHANGE OF SUITCASE CAUSES A DAMAGE SUIT

Two Colored Boys In Disagreement Over Clothes Which Fit Neither One.

A common suit case full of clothes of all sorts and descriptions is the cause of a rather interesting suit to be tried before Magistrate James this morning.

It seems that Jones and Arnold were once employees at the Henrietta but their amicable relations did not continue. At any rate Arnold left and soon afterwards Jones missed his case of clothing.

Straightway Jones consulted a lawyer and his anger arose. He did not want Arnold even to look at his clothes to say nothing of trying to wear them. Immediately he took out a summons claiming $50 damages from Arnold for the trouble of appropriating the few sundry clothes he had in his possession.

SANITARY LAWS TO BE ENFORCED

INSPECTOR SAYS CARELESSNESS MUST BE ABATED

Reports Are that Housekeepers are Careless in Disposition of Garbage.

Let the careless housewife and boarding housekeeper beware; perchance days are coming for her. Parolence she may be hailed before a magistrate to explain the whys and wherefores of her negligence in regard to the observance of sanitary laws of the city.

Within the past few weeks the sanitary inspector has been quietly patrolling the different streets and highways of the city with a view to determining the actual condition of the back yards and alleys. And such a revelation!

The inspector had no idea that there were ever so many chickens in Asheville as the number of heads he found scattered about would indicate. And bones—there were enough bones to supply a glue factory for several months. Tomato cans, and every other kind of can was there. Then appeared the edict.

The men who drive the four wagons of the city were notified to take the name of every offender and present it to the inspector. Notices will be served soon and the work of cleaning up the city will begin in earnest.

PAINFUL DYSPESIA

A Form of Indigestion Caused by Gastric Irritation from Undigested Food in the Stomach.

No kind of dyspepsia is better marked than that known as "Painful Indigestion" and it is also a very common affection. Pain, generally of a dull character, is felt after meals and along with the pain, soreness at the pit of the stomach often exists, and in some cases the soreness is permanent.

It often extends upward under the bone, which consequently feels sore on pressure, or the tenderness is felt toward either side. This tenderness is commonly associated with an unpleasant feeling of heat—a burning sensation—as it is termed by some persons. There is also a "grating" and "draining" as well as various other anomalous sensations complained of after taking food, and generally within an hour after eating.

As might be supposed the intensity of the pain is proportional to the quantity and quality of the meal. When the stomach is empty, a sensation of craving or emptiness gives most trouble. This often causes a false appetite, which by inducing the person to eat heartily aggravates the ailment. Thirst generally causes much annoyance; heartburn, warms, brash, acidity, nausea, and headache are also attendant symptoms. The tongue is usually coated and from a mere inspection of this organ the condition of the stomach can often be correctly told.

It is a common error with persons who suffer from stomach troubles to take such drugs as chlorodyne, Hoffman's Anodyne and other "patent pills" for its relief. Such treatment is a great mistake. While these drugs afford temporary relief to the dyspeptic, they have no effect whatever in removing the cause.

STUART'S DYSPESIA TABLETS remove the cause. By completely cleansing all food in the stomach, there is no further possibility of the occurrence of this disagreeable form of indigestion. They also relieve all other, and other concurrent symptoms. All of the irritation of the stomach lining and stomach nerves is removed, and the stomach is freed from the result of the undigested food living in that organ and undergoing fermentation and decomposition, is quickly done away with.

But not only is the form of dyspepsia which is accompanied by heartburn, acidity, nausea, and headache removed through the use of these digestive tablets, but also every other form of indigestion, as there are many kinds in which the stomach pain does not occur, but where there are many symptoms equally disagreeable and disturbing, dyspepsia and dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain in a highly concentrated form powerful and valuable ingredients which digest rapidly and thoroughly food of every kind including proteins, nitrates, carbohydrates, etc. A single grain will disintegrate and digest 3,000 grains of food.
