

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Miss Irene Caldwell was given a surprise party by a number of her friends last night at her home on Southside avenue. The young people spent the evening in playing games. A number of musical selections added to the enjoyment of the guests. There were about forty guests present.

Until further notice the Amateur Musical club will meet every Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Y. M. C. Auditorium which has been secured for the rehearsals.

A wedding which was quite a surprise to the friends of the contracting parties in West Asheville was that of Mrs. Sarah L. Herren and Mr. John Brewer, which occurred very quietly, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. P. Walker, of the Calvary Baptist church. Both Mrs. Herren and Mr. Brewer have resided in this vicinity which made many friends whose good wishes attend them in their new life.

The Battery Park hotel will add to the various improvements one that will be of special interest, that of a "suite de luxe," or as this apartment was called in less progressive days, the "bridal chamber." This apartment will be very beautifully decorated, special French paper with delicate panels formed by flowers will be used with the daintiest of curtains, and the windows otherwise draped simply with silk of the tone of the flowers. Hand-some mahogany furniture will be used in the suite, with silken cushions and softly tinted rug. The small reception room will be in a solid color, probably olive green, with velours curtains of the same shade over cream fluted curtains. The upholstery, rugs, etc., are of the same tone, handsome Oriental cushions relieving the effect of the green. The several pictures will be selected with care, and will be framed harmoniously. The little French mirror and sconces of gilt will be used in the apartment and those who are fortunate enough to secure it will always find it supplied with flowers from the greenhouse, which will be arranged in slender graceful vases. There are a number of other apartments which will be converted, by the use of the beautiful and dainty floral paper into attractive quarters in which the new Empire furniture will be used, but the suite de luxe will be reserved for distinguished visitors and the honeymooners.

It is not unlikely that Asheville will again have the pleasure of hearing Miss Bessie Abbott in the near future and those who were at the concert given some time since at the Auditorium, will remember the success she achieved in the number of arias from the grand opera at that time. Miss Abbott, like Fritz Scheff and Mrs. Schumann Heink, has deserted the ranks of the grand opera stars, and recently signed a contract with Liebler and company to appear in comic opera. The opera has not been selected, but Miss Abbott will undoubtedly appear before Christmas before the public in her new line of work.

The following program will be given by Miss Leona Young's school of music and expression on Haywood street this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Piano solo: Traumeral... Schumann. Miss Manning West. The new Country club house is in use and proved so popular with the members that the plans for the formal opening were frustrated by a series of parties given privately. The opening would have fallen rather flat after the several affairs given, so nothing of a formal nature will be given by the directors of the club. The club house is an exceedingly comfortable building and admirably adapted to entertaining as the recent large dinner-dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry proved. The interior is handsome and the furnishing and decoration harmonious and appropriate.

FINAL TOUCHES GIVEN TO ST. LAWRENCE'S

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR DEDICATION CEREMONIES

Many Visitors to See the Marvel of Architectural Skill Designed by Raphael Guastavino.

The final touches preparatory to the dedication of St. Lawrence's new Catholic church tomorrow morning were applied to the exterior and interior of the handsome edifice yesterday, and everything is now in readiness for the impressive ceremonies which will mark the dedication of a church whose construction has taken up nearly five years. The big panel, "The Founding of the Church," was placed in position yesterday afternoon, while inside the ladies of the Altar society were busy decorating the main altar and the side chapels. Many visitors took occasion yesterday to examine the church which stands as a monument to the skill of the late Raphael Guastavino, whose untimely death in the hour of triumph is deeply deplored. The great dome, which bears his name is the subject of wondering comment, for there is only one other dome like it in the country, at St. John the Divine's church in New York, also designed by Mr. Guastavino.

This mighty vault was built bit by bit over nothing, above the church floor. When Mr. Guastavino began preparations to work up there with a handful of men, builders called him foolhardy, said it was an impossible feat, that there was no precedent for it.

Mr. Guastavino's plan was to build the entire dome of ordinary thin, flat terra cotta tile, 6x12 inches, and an inch thick—much in size and shape like the bricks of the ancient Romans still to be seen in the walls of the little church near Canterbury, England.

Mr. Guastavino began laying these tiles exactly as if he were shingling an imaginary dome in space, only using cement for nails. Beginning at the bottom course, the first six or seven thicknesses of tile were laid one over the other breaking joints, in a special cement of plaster of paris. The next course, laid in Portland cement, was held in place by overlapping the tile below. The process was repeated until the great dome was finished without the aid of girders or supporting scaffolds.

According to his political manager, Mr. Hearst can run under a starry hat, if necessary, which he undoubtedly will, but it would prove very inadequate protection from the November breeze.

Mr. C. N. SMATHERS KILLED BY A FREIGHT NEAR ADDIE

Funeral Services Were Held at His Home in Canton Yesterday Morning.

The funeral services of Mr. C. N. Smathers, who was killed Thursday near Addie were held yesterday at his home in Canton. Rev. L. R. Abernethy officiated.

Mr. Smathers, who was the son of Dr. Henry Smathers, was killed while doing duty as a brakeman on freight train No. 61, Thursday morning, running near Addie. He slipped on top of the train and fell between the cars. The caboose passed over his body, mangling it at the waist. The body was immediately taken to Waynesville and then taken back to Canton for interment yesterday morning.

Previous to his promotion to the position of brakeman he had been on the switching crew of the Canton yards.

He is survived by a father and several brothers, among whom are A. F. and J. B. Smathers. He was a member of the Red Men.

Pe-ru-na the Remedy.

Dr. J. W. FULLER, 250 North Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with catarrh of the head for many years. It affected my sense of smell, hearing and sight. I spent lots of money with doctors and the use of local applications to no avail, but to no purpose until my attention was called to the wonderful effects of Peru-na.

"I must say that I met with most surprising and satisfactory results. Peru-na took hold of the complaint and drove it entirely out of my system. Although well along toward the allotted span of man's life I am as pleased as a child over the result, and feel like a young man again."

Man-a-lin an Ideal Laxative. SAYS W. J. COCKE IS IN THE FRONT ROW

This week's issue of The Medical County Record contains the following: "Messrs. Wm. J. Cocke, J. M. Guider, Jr., J. R. Hewitt, Walter E. Moore and J. Frank Ray make it no secret that they want to succeed the Hon. Jno. Grant. From the exchanges and the gossip going the rounds Mr. Cocke seems to have a good lead at the present time. Mr. Cocke is a very vigorous and enthusiastic campaigner, and is an orator of rare and ability."
