

PARIS AMAZED AS WRIGHT MACHINE SOARS OVER TOWER

French Aviator Makes Remarkable Flight Over French Capitol

ORVILLE WRIGHT WITNESSED THE EVENT

Made Long Flight Before Undertaking The Hazardous Feat

PARIS, Oct. 18.—Count De Lambert, the French aviator, just before dark tonight accomplished one of the most remarkable and daring feats yet credited to heavier-than-air machines. Starting from the aerodrome at Juvisy in a Wright aeroplane, he flew to Paris, a distance of about thirteen miles. After maneuvering over the city at an average height of four hundred feet, he ascended in gradually diminishing circles and passed several hundred feet above the Eiffel tower. He then returned to Juvisy.

Count De Lambert was given a tremendous ovation on his return to Juvisy. Orville Wright who was there with his sister, rushed forward and wrung the hands of the aviator as he alighted, pale but radiant.

The aviator said that throughout his trip he had entire control of the machine. The only inconvenience he suffered was from the throbbing of the engines and from difficulty in seeing, towards the end, in the gathering gloom.

The official time of the flight was 49 minutes 29 seconds. The distance was roughly estimated at thirty-one miles and the height varied from three hundred to thirteen hundred feet.

BANK ROBBER WAS DEGENERATE SON OF PROUD FAMILY

Mixed Drink, Horses, and Actresses Until His Last Act Was Best One

FOUR WOMEN CLAIM POSSESSION OF BODY

Gave up Brilliant Career in Los Angeles For Lure of Sporting Life

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The identity of the robber who held up the Highland Park bank last week and when his capture killed himself has been established to the satisfaction of the police. He is thought by them to have been Lamar A. Harris, lawyer, orator, clubman and society man of Los Angeles. A long distance telephone message from an unknown woman in New York tended to confirm the theory. She said:

"If the bank robber you have weighs 180 to 190 pounds, has prominent features, large ears, light hair, and eyes of a brownish cast, he is my brother, L. A. Harris of Los Angeles, Cal. You will find a scar on each side of the neck and scar pits on the left cheek one inch from the mouth towards the ear on a line between the mouth and ear."

The scars were found exactly as described while the woman held the phone. She continued:

"I will leave on the first train for Chicago. Please hold the body. You cannot have my name, as I do not intend to be annoyed by the notoriety that will be caused by it in New York."

Attest: Tells of Harris.

May Harrington, an actress, was named today as the "woman in blue" seen frequently with Harris here. The identity of the woman was disclosed by James Leighton, a vaudeville actor.

"I am the woman referred to," admitted Mrs. Harrington. "I met Lamar Harris in Los Angeles and he followed me up and down the coast. I learned from Leighton last week that he was here and called on him at the La Salle hotel."

"Lamar was always a good fellow and spent money freely. He acted

CHAUFFEUR TELLS STORY OF HIDING DOCTOR'S CRIME

Mystery of Detroit Murder Is Cleared up by His Confession

REWARD BROUGHT EVIDENCE TO LIGHT

Woman Probably Died Under Anaesthetic When on Surgeon's Table

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—With the arrest of Dr. George A. Fritch for causing the death of Miss Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor the police believe the mystery of Ecorse creek has been solved.

The police have found Joseph W. Leach, an automobile driver, and Leach, after a searching examination said he had taken the boxes containing the dismembered body of Miss Millman to the creek.

Miss Millman, about twenty-seven years of age, told her mother on August 14 that she was coming to Detroit to visit a former schoolmate, Miss Martha Henning. On September 6, a weighted bag containing the torso of a young woman was found in Ecorse creek. The next day the head was found and identified by Miss Henning as that of her daughter.

On September 9, the day the corpse was buried at Ann Arbor, a third bag containing the rest of the body was found, and later the grave was opened so that all of the body could rest in the same place.

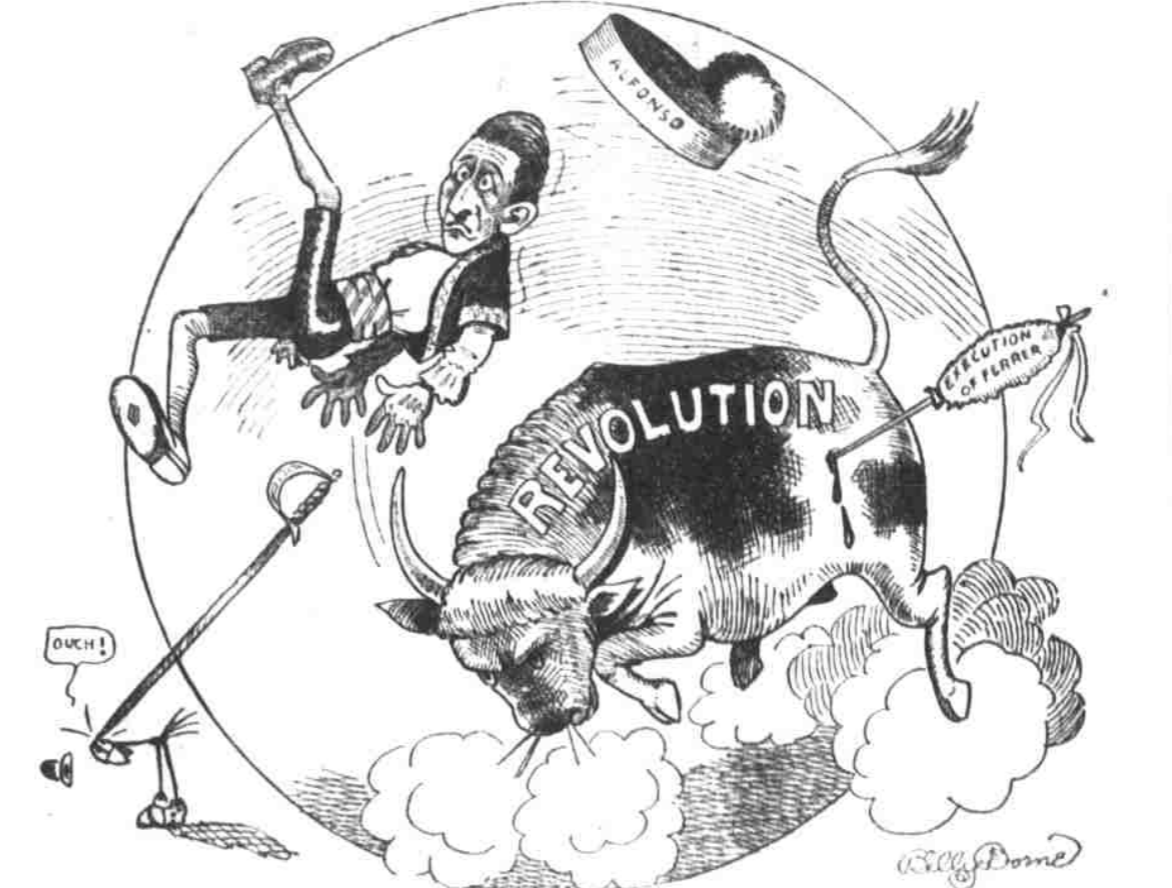

The police questioned Miss Henning and she told them she had been in Ann Arbor and then brought her back here. She said she knew that Miss Millman wished to undergo an illegal operation and had mentioned the name of Dr. Fritch.

He was arrested, put in the swat-box, said he had received one call from the girl and that she had left his office days before the finding of the body and that he had never seen her again. He was finally released.

A reward of $1,000 had been offered for the arrest of the young woman's slayer, and the police kept at work. The coroner, in the hope that substantial evidence would be event-

WEALTHY SPINSTER IN SEARCH OF A HUSBAND GETS BUNCOED ONCE

Married Hostler and Paid $200 for Him Only to Find He Was Already Married. Has Another Hostler On Waiting List Until She Can Get Annulment; She Is Well Connected.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Miss Jennette Suffern, the eccentric heiress of Suffern, N. Y., and who is really Mrs. Hiseock until she gets a formal annulment, said yesterday that she would find a satisfactory husband if she had to keep on marrying and divorcing candidates until eighty years old. She is sixty-five years old now.

"You can say, too," Miss Suffern added, "that I will not enlist the services of a matchmaker again. They don't know their business, and besides they're too expensive."

This statement, Miss Suffern admitted, applied particularly to David Tobin, manager of Van Horn's lively stable at Ridgewood, N. J., who started suit against her in the Ridgewood district court yesterday, claiming she agreed to give him $250 if he furnished her with a man who would marry her.

"I introduced Miss Suffern to Bob Hiseock, a hostler at my stable," explained Mr. Tobin. "A few hours after she was married to Hiseock by Justice of the Peace Keys at Paterson. That was on September 23. Hiseock, it transpired, already had a wife, and has disappeared, but that isn't my fault. I carried out my contract when I got her a man who would marry her."

Will Wed Her Simon.

"Tobin didn't get me a husband," Miss Suffern said, when seen at Paterson, where she is staying with friends. "Hiseock was already married, and my lawyer says I am just as free as I ever was and can marry 'my Simon'."

Miss Suffern explained "my Simon" was her latest prospective husband. She said he also is a hostler at Van Horn's Ridgewood stable, but would tell no more, other than to admit that on Thursday night she and "my Simon" went to Justice Keys to be married. He refused to tie the knot, saying he had married her once and believed she would have to get an annulment.

Matchmaker Tobin supplied the missing details.

"Miss Suffern drove up to the stable on October 7," he said, "and complained that I hadn't furnished her with a husband. Simonds—that's his name—was standing in the stable door in his overalls, and I advised him to sneak to Miss Suffern if he was anxious to get a rich wife.

"Simonds walked over to Miss Suffern's carriage, talked to her not more than five minutes, came back and borrowed a decent suit from one of the other men and drove off with her. I said he said Miss Suffern were going to be married soon. In the meantime he explained, she was giving him an allowance of $10 a day. So you see she's really indebted to me for Simonds, too."

Offers of Marriage.

Tobin exhibited some letters he had received with offers of marriage to Miss Suffern. One, signed "Frank Rice, general delivery, Brooklyn," said in part:

"I am fifty-three years old and have been a widower for about seven years."

MURDER OF MAYOR NEWBERRY LAID TO BLIND TIGERS

Grand Jury Returns Indictment For The Killing Newport's Executive

HAD BEEN ACTIVE IN SUPPRESSING THEM

Tragedy In The Eastern Part of The State Sifts The Whole Community

BEAUFORT, N. C., Oct. 18.—The grand jury today brought in a bill of murder against S. J. Sanders who had been arrested for the death of H. Z. Newberry of Newport, N. C., who was shot to death Saturday night at the door of his home there. Judge Guion ordered the sheriff to summon two hundred tallmen in order to get a jury. The case is set for Friday at 10 a. m.

Sanders today is locked in the Carteret county jail here, while his brother, B. F. Sanders, also is under arrest, held as an accessory. The prisoners were brought here last night by Sheriff Hancock, after a coroner's jury at Newport had returned a verdict that Mayor Newberry's death resulted from gunshot wounds inflicted by S. J. Sanders and that his brother also was implicated in the shooting.

Prosecuted "Blind Tigers."

The assassination of Mayor Newberry was the direct outcome, it is said, of the prosecution of "blind tiger" cases. The mayor recently had several persons arrested for illegally selling whiskey, and four of the men, including the two Sanders brothers, bound over for court at Beaufort next Monday. It is alleged threats have been made against the mayor's life and after his assassination Saturday night suspicion was directed to the Sanders brothers.

Great excitement prevailed in Newport after the tragedy occurred Saturday night. Requests for bloodhounds were sent to Tarboro, and the road in front of the mayor's home was roped off in the hope that the dogs might be able to readily pick up the scent and lead the authorities to the assassins.

The dead man's wife was ill in bed at the time of the murder, and his little daughter stood by his side when he was shot.

Word of the shooting was sent to Beaufort and yesterday afternoon county Solicitor Abernethy, accompanied by Sheriff Hancock and a coroner's jury went to Newport in a special train. Upon arrival of the train at Newport, the Sanders brothers were arrested and later the coroner's jury ordered them held.

BALLOON RECORDS ARE CHALLENGED BY FLIGHT OF HALF CENTURY AGO

Prof. Lambert's Remarkable Advent into Palmetto State Was Fleetest.

MISTAKEN FOR SPY

UNION, S. C., Oct. 18.—The claim that A. R. Lambert and S. Louis Von Phul, members of the Aero club of St. Louis, established new world's records for long distance and speed in aeroplanes, when ascending in their balloon in St. Louis, Mo., on Friday afternoon of last week at 5:30 o'clock near Charleston, S. C., on Saturday morning at 3 o'clock, having made an average speed of forty-four miles an hour, as challenged by parties here who have records showing that higher speed than this was attained in a balloon voyage made forty-eight years ago. The aeronautic feat referred to was that of Professor T. S. P. Lane, now head of Lowe observatory, near Pasadena, Calif., who on April 22, 1861, ascended in a balloon at Cincinnati Ohio, at 3:30 a. m., and at 2:30 p. m. of the same day landed at Padridge in this county. Although the air only in 40 hours, professor Lane covered an 4000 mile distance, including several hundred miles additional covered by his balloon being caught in an air current and carried into Virginia, thence to the South Carolina coast, before reaching his landing near here.

Professor Lane's balloon voyage was not only an eventful one because it set a pace in aeroplanes for the distance traveled per hour not equalled, but because, being at the outbreak of the Civil war, when sectional feeling was at high pitch, when he descended with his balloon in the rural section of this country, he was regarded by some persons as being a " Yankee spy" and but for the action of cooler heads, might have met with a bloody injury.

His descent among these country people many of whom never saw a balloon before, caused excitement and numerous incidents, which are recalled by older residents.

AGROUND ON SAND BAR PASSENGERS WAITED 4 DAYS FOR DELIVERANCE

Governor Sanders Tells of Grounding of Steamer Antilles in Gulf Storm

SAVED BY WIRELESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The passengers and part of the crew of the Southern Pacific liner Antilles which ran aground off the southeast coast of Florida a week ago, were landed here today by the steamship Comus of the same line. Among the passengers was Governor Jared Y. Sanders of Louisiana, who gave an interesting account of the accident.

"We had experienced two days of heavy weather," he said, "captioned on Monday morning by a hurricane in which observations were impossible. Neither the captain nor the passengers felt much alarm, however, and most of us had retired when shortly before midnight Monday the Antilles struck, sending everybody up in a minute. There was no panic and Captain Birtney secured us after a hasty examination that the boat was in no immediate danger. Meanwhile the constant splutter of the wireless overheard informed us that news of our plight was being flashed out to all the world."

"From Monday night until Friday we lay in waiting the arrival of the Comus which we learned had been sent to take us off. For nearly four days we did not see a sail or any other signs of life except an occasional sea gull. With a calm sea again the passengers regained the time as best they could. The ship lay in about twenty-four feet of water with her nose nearly three feet in the shifting sand."

Governor Sanders will remain in New York until the latter part of the week and will then go to St. Louis where he expects to meet President Taft. The captain of the Antilles and part of the crew are still on board the stranded liner directing the efforts to pull her off the shoal. It is not believed she is seriously damaged.

Monster Parade Causes Cessation of Street Traffic Down Town

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Pittsburg baseball mad tonight, the time officially set for the great celebration in honor of the Pittsburgh baseball club winning the world's championship. Traffic along Fifth avenue in the downtown section of the city was abandoned early in the evening for the monster parade.

Such a parade was never seen in Pittsburg before. Led by Mayor Magee and the members of his cabinet and all the members of the Pittsburgh baseball club, practically every political club of Allegheny county was in line as were about one hundred athletic organizations, the members marching in uniform. Each section of the city constituted a division of the parade, while the business men and various trades unions marched in another class. Forties filed away to its capacity. Mayor Magee, Congressman Francis Burke and other prominent citizens of the city were among those who made addresses to each member of the ball club before it made a remark of some kind. Mayor Magee presented each player with a check for his share of the receipts of the world's series and grand-motum reigned as each man stepped to the platform to receive the award. Charles (Huber) Adams, the pitcher who led his team mates to victory three times during the great series, was the recipient of a great ovation, and besides the check as his share of the receipts was given a purse of over $1,000 as a testimonial of his great work.

SUPREME COURT WILL REVIEW THE M'GUE CASE

Much Litigated Insurance Suit Will Come to Final Decision.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Supreme court of the United States today announced its determination to review the findings of the lower courts in the case of McGue vs. the North-western Mutual Insurance company. This case involves the question as to whether the ordinary life insurance policy insures against hanging under sentence of the law. McGue is one of Charlottesville, Va., who was hanged a few years ago on the charge of murdering his wife. The insurance company refused to make payment on a policy amounting to $15,000. The United States circuit court for the Western district of Virginia decided in favor of the company, holding that death on the gallows was not one of the risks against which McGue was insured, but the Court of Appeals for the fourth circuit reversed that finding, and held in favor of the McGue policy. The Supreme court will set over the entire record and decide the case upon its merits.

Three Sovereign Commanders Meet With Southern Jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Attended by the three masons of the highest standing in all America the biennial meeting of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States assembled here today. Sovereign Grand Commander James D. Richardson of the Southern Jurisdiction called the meeting to order, there being present among others, General Crossman, sovereign grand commander of the Northern Jurisdiction and Dr. John M. An increase of about thirty-three per cent in the total membership of the order of the Southern Jurisdiction was announced by Mr. Richardson, the number of members who have received the thirty-second degree were 25,955, compared with 27,105, two years ago.

It was announced that the next international conference of the Scottish Rite would be held in this city. While the date has not been fixed, it is likely it will be in 1912.

December 29, next being the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Albert Pike, whom Mr. Richardson succeeded, the grand commander suggested that the supreme council provide for its celebration in an appropriate manner.

The royal order of Scotland, including the Northern and Southern Jurisdictions of the United States of which Mr. Richardson is also provincial grand master, tonight conferred degrees upon about forty candidates. These degrees are conferred only upon thirty-second and thirty-third degree masons.

LEPER OR NOT, EARLY IS DRIVEN FROM POST TO POST BY GERM FIGHTERS

Neighbors Compel Him to Move Again and He Cannot Find Employment.

NEVER HAD DISEASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—John R. Early, the former United States soldier whose isolation as an alleged leper on a reservation in Washington for almost a year ended last July, left the little flat in Brooklyn yesterday where he has been living with his wife and two children, and went into the country.

Early's sudden departure followed a visit he made yesterday to Dr. Alonzo Blauvelt, assistant sanitary superintendent in charge of Brooklyn. He told the doctor neighbors had threatened they would compel the health department to drive him out of the flat house and into quarantine if he did not move of his own accord. Dr. Blauvelt assured Early the health department could not interfere with him, as leprosy is not considered here as a contagious disease.

Early would continue to live in the little flat with this assurance; but after talking it over with his wife during the evening he decided to pack up their few belongings and move to a farm in Connecticut, where the owner will let them live until next spring, rent and board free.

Dr. L. Duncan Paddock, head of the New York Skin and Cancer hospital who has championed Early, said last night:

"Although he never had the first symptoms of leprosy, and although when I finally permitted him to leave the hospital his skin was in perfect condition, the treatment the poor fellow had had to put up with ever since he went to housekeeping with his family has been unendurable."

"Under his own name he found it impossible to procure employment. His neighbors shunned not only him but all the members of his family."

CANNOT COLLECT GAMBLING DEBTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Supreme court of the United States today refused to take cognizance of the case of Majors vs. Williamson, involving responsibility for a note given to a debt assumed in connection with a speculation on the stock exchange. The debt was contracted by Williamson, in Memphis, Tenn., and a note was given with Mississippi real estate as security. The laws of Tennessee and Mississippi prohibit gambling, and it was contended that under such laws the note could not be collected.
