Home to the Bingham cadet return this evening will remain for that interesting event. The ball room will be fluttering with the pennants of Bingham and the dance will not be because of the largest but also one of the most important affairs socially that has taken place during the autumn. Col. and Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. R. T. Grimman, Mrs. Robert Longman, Mrs. McKee will champion the dance. The money team will be honored guests of the evening.

The board of managers of the Woman's Exchange will meet Friday morning, November 26th, instead of this morning.

The Thanksgiving football game this afternoon at Riverside park between the cadets and Mooney for the "Prep" championship of the South will be the principal feature of the day. Every one seems to have taken a keen interest in the game and the holiday spirit will guide numbers of spectators to Riverside, who know in reality, little about the technicalities of the game. The enthusiasts will be there and paper megaphones will be used by the "rooters" to encourage their team or confuse the opponents. The Mission hospital will profit by the game as the Bingham and Mooney teams have signified their intention of presenting half the receipts to that deserving charity. The matinee at the Grand of "The Flower of the Ranch" begins at 4 o'clock, the curtain being held until the arrival of the cadets who will occupy the boxes and the floor of the house. The Thanksgiving dance given by the cadets at the Battery Park hotel will close the program of the day.

At six o'clock Wednesday evening Mr. Alfred E. Tyson of Rocky Mount was married to Miss Sadie Daugherty at the First Baptist church at Black Mountain, Rev. R. P. Smith of Asheville officiating. The color scheme was white and green, mountain foliage and gales being used in profusion for decoration. Miss Bolla Landis played the wedding marches. The bridal party consisted of Mr. Walter Dougherty, brother of the bride, Mr. Parley Stepp, Mr. Walter Many, Mr. Garland Stepp, and Miss Mayme Beatty, of Charlotte, maid of honor. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Joe Dougherty, who gave her away and the groom with his best man, Mr. Floyd Dennis. The bride's costume was duchesse satin and duchesse lace made moxyer age worn with a full veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses and lilacs of the valley. The maid of honor was gowned in white point d'espirit over all-green liberty satin, and carried white carnations and ferns. After the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of the bride where many beautiful presents were an evidence of her popularity. Mr. and Mrs. Tyson left on the morning train for an extended tour.

Mr. F. W. Thomas has gone to Staunton to spend Thanksgiving.

Mrs. K. C. Dawley who has frequently been a visitor to Asheville is at present visiting Mrs. Huntington at Elvira, N. C., and will after Christmas return to Asheville for a stay of several months.

Dr. and Mrs. Bohanod Robinson Fuke announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Vaughan, to Mr. Theodore Davidson Morrison. The marriage will take place December 14th at nine o'clock in the evening at the First Presbyterian church of Asheville. The announcement is of note worthy interest to a wide circle of friends of the young people who are socially prominent. Miss Fuke who is at present in New York will return to Asheville early in December. Miss Mary Agnes Shalton will be maid of honor and Mr. Alben Morrison the best man.

One of the prettiest home weddings that has occurred in this community for some time was that of Miss Effie Cox, of Arden, and Mr. Oscar Johnson, of Buena Vista, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday, November 18. The parlor was beautifully decorated with laurels and chrysanthemums. At the appointed hour the bride entered, to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Sadie Fitzgerald, with her matron of honor, Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald, immediately followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald of Asheville. The bride was beautifully dressed in a princess gown of pale blue silk, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in a similar costume. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Christenbury of the Biltmore Methodist church. The bride is a young lady of sterling qualities, and has many friends in Asheville, and elsewhere that she is known, her friends are limited only by her acquaintances. The groom is a popular young business man and holds a responsible position with the Southern Railway company at Buena Vista. The happy couple departed on a wedding trip to Florida, and various other points in the South. They will return in a few weeks to Buena Vista, where they will make their future home.

The wedding of Miss Bertha Whittington to Mr. Turner Buttrick yesterday at noon at the First Baptist church was an occasion of much solemnity and the edifice was filled to overflowing with the friends of the young people. The church was appropriately and handsomely decorated with palms and tropical plants. The musical program arranged by Miss Bula Wright, organist of the First Baptist church, was unusually fine and added to the impressiveness of the ceremony. The program was as follows: March Pittoresque..... Kroeger Intermzzo..... Rogers Andante..... Kinder Adoration (Holy City)..... Gaul Answer..... Wolstenholme Idyll..... Konder

The approach of the wedding procession was heralded by the triumphal strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and was led by the ushers, Mr. Frank Weaver and Mr. George L. Hackney, who approached the altar from the two aisles and were followed by the little flower girls Mary Blackstock and Carolyn Brown, clad in white and scattering as they went from smilax wreathed baskets, violets and petals of lavender chrysanthemums over which the bride and her maids passed. Miss Whittington made an unusually handsome bride in a graceful and becoming gown of white corded silk. The well cut corsage was heavily braided with satin cord and the bodice of the gown showed touches of Duchesse lace and chiffon cloth. A large hat of graceful lines was made of white silk beaver and trimmed with willow plumes. Miss Whittington carried a large floral muff instead of the prescribed "shower," made of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns, and wore a gold necklace of unique design with a pendant Mexican opal, the birthstone of the bride. Miss Clara Whittington, the maid of honor wore a charming frock of lavender silk, radiantly and carried a bunch of the bride's attendants, a muff of lavender chiffon. Miss Mamie Whittington, the bridesmaid, wore a white gown of silk tulle, with bands of embroidered net and a lavender hat. Mrs. O. L. Doster wore white mesaline as matron of honor and a lavender hat. The best man was Mr. Percy Hackney, and the groomsmen, Mr. J. E. Swain, Dr. Whittington entered with the bride and gave her in marriage. The ceremony, which was most impressive, was read by Dr. William M. Vinos, pastor of the First Baptist church. After the ceremony a lunch on was served at the residence of Dr. Whittington on Vance street, to which the relatives and intimate friends of the young people were invited, numbering in excess of fifty and sixty. The reception was most graciously decorated with chrysanthemums and a great profusion of delicate lavender chrysanthemums, a large bunch of the latter flower occupied the center of the bride's table. Table falling from the chandeliers was caught at the four corners of the table ending in lavender. The candles throughout the home and other lights were shaded with lavender. In cutting the bride's cake the ring was found by a brother of the bride, Mr. Robert Whittington, the donor is Mr. Herbert Whittington, and his thought by Miss Mamie Whittington. The bride's bouquet or muff was not thrown, and would have lost its significance as nearly all of the assembled guests were married. It will be recalled that the bride of yesterday caught Mrs. Zebulon Curthick bouquet at the wedding of the latter during the summer and her wedding occurred before the end of the year.

The splendid array of wedding presents which were placed in one of the smaller rooms, were viewed by the guests, and included many handsome pieces of cut glass, silver, china, and furniture, etc., and there were a number of checks. Mrs. Buttrick's traveling gown was of blue cloth with a hat trimmed with plums of the same tint. Mr. and Mrs. Buttrick drove to the station accompanied by about twenty-five of their friends who deluged them with rice as they departed on the west bound train. After a two weeks' absence Mr. and Mrs. Buttrick will reside with the mother of the former at Emma, N. C.

One of the most beautiful weddings ever seen in Hickory was solemnized at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Alice Erisella Lang became the bride of Mr. Wesley Nicholas Martin. Rev. J. G. Garth, of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated in white and green with palms, ferns, ivy, etc. Mrs. Sabera D'Anna played the bridal march from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march during the ceremony and Miss Annie L. Abernethy sang several beautiful and appropriate selections. Miss Reide Lang, of Farmville, was the maid of honor and Mr. Robert E. Martin best man. The ushers were Mr. W. E. Hickory, and Miss Agnes Martin, of Greensboro, were the bridesmaids. The ushers were Messrs. J. A. Martin and W. S. Martin, brothers of the groom, and M. H. Yount, J. M. Ramsey, J. E. Shuford and Leroy Abernethy. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilacs of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink mesaline and the bridesmaids gowns of "Tedola a Susanna" silk with pearl trimmings and carried pink carnations. The ring bearer, little Miss Evelyn Lang, sister of the bride, wore a charming accordion plaited dress of white china silk. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful diamond brooch which clasped her bridal veil, and to the ushers, handsome gold stick pins. After the ceremony the young people drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Lang, where a delightful wedding reception was given in honor of them.

Mrs. David H. Rosenstein entertained informally with a musical evening at her residence on Montford avenue last evening. There were a dozen or more guests present, all more or less prominent in musical circles in Asheville. After a delightful impromptu program to which each of the guests contributed, a Dutch supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Tayte, of Brickton, will entertain a Thanksgiving party for the remainder of the week. Mrs. Tayte is a sister of Mrs. David Kimberly, who, with Mr. Kimberly will be among the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Duncanson, of Asheville, will share guests, as will also a number of others from South Carolina.

Mrs. Arthur F. Ross entertained with a dinner this evening at Kennelworth lodge, Biltmore road.

There will be a number of dinner parties this evening, private affairs, and also at the hotels. Quite a number of tables have been engaged at the Battery Park hotel and with the guests who are present at the hotel the hours during ball will be filled. The special Thanksgiving menu will offer many delicacies and the waiters will attend to the dressing. Many of the dinner guests having invitations
