

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The musical at the Battery Park hotel yesterday afternoon, given by the Saturday Music club for the benefit fund was well attended notwithstanding the stormy day which preceded the Christmas shopping which had at the time of the year. Miss Robert Porter played Mozart's Sonata in F major with good effect showing excellent training and received much applause. Mrs. Clemenger was indisposed and did not appear, her place being taken by Miss Robin Kemmett whose beautiful voice was heard to advantage in the duet with Mr. Burnett Jordan. Mrs. Elmer Westall sang Gounod's Serenade with violin obligato played by Mr. M. E. Connell, which proved to be one of the features of the program. Mrs. Westall's voice showed in fine condition and blended well with the melodious tones of Mr. Connell's violin. Miss Elizabeth Rainey recited pleasingly "The Soul of the Violin" which was well received. Mr. Burnett Jordan sang two groups of songs, one of old English airs, "The Sailor's Life," "Pretty, Pretty Creature," and "Countess in Thy Dancing," with distinction and grace, the lightness and airiness of the rendition being especially pleasing. In the heavier work, Mr. Jordan's fine voice showed to equal advantage. Mr. Connell played Chopin's Second Nocturne well receiving a large share of the applause of the afternoon for his admirable performance. Miss Elizabeth Porter and Miss May Kimberly accompanied efficiently and helped materially in rounding out the success of the afternoon.

The embroidery circle meets this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Moore on Liberty street.

Wednesday evening will, perhaps, have many more attractions than any before Christmas which will make it difficult for many people to decide just which affair they will attend. The Masonic bazaar opens that afternoon and will of course attract a very large crowd. The work of the ladies of the Eastern Star and their friends will make a display especially attractive at this time of the year. Wednesday evening the Musical Art society will give its initial concert on which occasion the work of the large chorus will be judged by the public. The subscribers have anticipated the concert with pleasure for many weeks and few will be missing. Wednesday evening also the large and fashionable wedding of Miss Eleanor Fakes and Mr. Theodore F. Davidson takes place and the edifice will hardly be large enough to hold the friends who have been hidden to the wedding. There are various meetings of societies and clubs on this evening and just how the division of time and inclination will be made, will be interesting.

The public recital this evening at All Souls' church, Biltmore, will be of interest to the music loving public and a noteworthy program will be offered for the occasion. Mrs. Elmer Westall will be heard in several songs, one of them which is sung for the first time in public, is composed by Mr. F. F. Harker, and is inscribed to Mrs. Westall. The song was accepted by the Schirmer company and is to be published this year. Mr. Harker has arranged a personal program which will be a delight to his audience and one which will require his best attainments and ability. Mr. Harker's recitals have always been popular, but this evening's program will attract a larger crowd than usual. The recital is at 8:30 o'clock and the following will be given:

Fantasy in F Best
Bridal Song Rogers
Wedding Hymn Woodman
Mr. Harker.
Babylon (sacred song) Watson
Mrs. Elmer Westall.
Funeral March and Hymn of the Seraphs Guilman
Mountain Song Wolstenholm
Romanza Webbe
Mr. Harker.
And God Shall Wash Away Our Tears Harker
Mrs. Westall.
Andante, variations from Symphony in D Haydn
Triumphal March Horation Parker

The Strollers will meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Charles M. Platt, 46 N. French Broad avenue. A Tennyson program will be given one of the best known poem-plays being read by Mr. Burnett Jordan. The meetings of the Strollers have been of special interest during the autumn and early winter, and the present departure of reading plays will continue until after the holidays when rehearsals begin for the new plays.

It is understood that several entertainments will be given in honor of Miss Brown, before her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Combs will reside after January 1st at 423 McCallie avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.

There will be a meeting of the American Woman's league this afternoon at the Henrietta on South Main street.
