

Society

and Personal

Invitations have been issued by the Normal and Collegiate Institute to the semi-annual concert given by the chorus classes of the institute, assisted by the Glee club of the Asheville farm school, which takes place Monday, April 19, at half after eight o'clock in the evening in the Elizabeth Boyd memorial chapel. The concert will be of interest to many people and will be largely attended. The program will be published at a later date.

The dance at the Battery Park hotel last evening was one of the largest of the spring. The young people danced until midnight, demanding several encores at the last, to which the orchestra, graciously, responded. The palm room was at the height of the evening almost too full for comfort. There were many pretty gowns in evidence, and several very attractive visitors from the North who are here for the spring.

The meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Thursday was interesting, and there was a good attendance. Miss Spann, who teaches in the public schools of Asheville, joined the society, and said that the forty-three children of her class wished to become members and form a juvenile auxiliary. The children each pay five cents membership dues, and each will be presented with a book by E. P. C. A. button. Mrs. Reynolds recently came from the East to organize a juvenile humane society, and the children became interested in the work. There were many complaints, among others overloaded transfer and furniture vans, which will be investigated. It was advised as a best means to overcome the evil to refuse to patronize the offenders in favor of those not inclined to maltreat and abuse their animals. There were various complaints, which were assigned to Mr. J. E. Rector, the attorney for the society, to prosecute.

The Country Club will gather in its members this afternoon for the usual week-end tournament, dance and tea. The weather has been warm and brought out the surrounding shrubbery and trees, a forecast of the summer. The plant party shortly comes off and then indeed the ground and club house will take on a festive aspect. There will be the usual tennis matches played also.

Because of Holy Week the class in first aid to the injured will not begin until Tuesday, April 18, at four p. m. The first lecture will be given by Dr. Paul Ripper, and will include the principles of first aid, the object of the course, structure of the body, anatomy, muscles. This opening lecture will be open to all girls and women who are cordially invited to attend. A dinner response to this course is very much desired, as it will be eminently worth while to those who attend.

The shirtwaist class, under the direction of Mrs. H. M. Brown, will meet on Monday at 3.30, and those who are expecting to attend will please come at that time as the class will have only three sessions more. The shirtwaist and embroidery classes at 5.30 and the German class at 7.50 on Monday are all free to members of the association.

The girls' physical training class will meet as usual on Saturday at 3.20 p. m.

At the vesper service on Sunday afternoon at 4.30 Miss Mary T. Jenkins will speak of the educational work of the New York City association, and Mrs. Richard Tjader, who is a guest at the Manor, will tell something of the work of the Pocket Testament League.

The Friday Embroidery club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Ronald B. Wilson at her home on Oak street.

The West Asheville Rebekah degree staff conferred degrees on thirteen members for the Swannanoa Rebekah lodge Friday night. Great interest was taken in the degree work, especially so as the lodge of West Asheville is making an earnest effort to strengthen its number.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Robertson have gone to New York via Norfolk for a several weeks' stay. It is possible that they will go abroad for a short trip.

Mr. J. L. Alexander leaves today for Waltham, S. C., on account of the illness of his mother at her home there.

Mrs. McCoy, who since her return from abroad, has been in Florida with Miss McKee, arrives, accompanied by the latter, today and will spend some weeks at the Battery Park hotel. Both Mrs. McCoy and Miss McKee have been guests at the hotel previously and have friends in the city.

Miss Carrie Hill, who has been visiting the Misses Thompson, has returned to her home in Greensboro.

Mrs. Cushman, who is at present the guest of Mrs. Eugene B. Glenn, leaves Tuesday for Boston, where she will join Miss Rebecca Cushman, who has been visiting friends in the East for a number of weeks.

Mrs. Safford and her daughter, Miss Natica Safford, who were guests of Mrs. Charles M. Platt during their brief stay in the city, returned yesterday afternoon to Hot Springs.

Miss Annie Arden Jervens, expected from California, who she has spent the year with friends, late in the spring, and will spend the summer with her mother and grandmother in Asheville.

Mr. George Smith has returned from a business trip.

Mr. Robert S. Carroll left yesterday for New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and will be away three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Davis, of Baltimore, have returned to their home after a visit to their son, Mr. H. H. Davis, and Mrs. Davis on Merrimon avenue.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Cunningham, of Washington, D. C., who were recently married in that city in Asheville for a week's stay.

Miss Mary Johnson, who has been visiting relatives in the city, has returned to her home in Chattanooga.

Miss Lula Threadwell and her sister, Mrs. Herbert Angus, of Baxter, Mass., who have been spending some weeks in Florida, are in Asheville for a few days' stay.

Mr. S. W. Enloe, of Dillsboro, is in the city on business, and is a guest at the Hotel Berkeley.

Miss Flora Williams has returned to her home in Greenville, Tenn., after a visit of several weeks to friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris, and children, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Asheville and Charlotte, have returned to their home in Oklahoma.

Little James Edgar Eberhardt is quite ill at his home on Chunn street.

JURY INDICTS HORNET'S CAPTAIN

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—The federal grand jury today returned an indictment against Captain Chas. Johnson, who was master of the filibustering steamer Hornet on its recent trip from New Orleans to Honduras, charging him with violating the neutrality laws. Previous indictments containing similar charges have been returned against J. W. Behr, owner of the Hornet; Manuel Bonilla, the revolutionary leader; General Lee Christmas, the American soldier of fortune; and Captain F. Davis. Captain Johnson and J. W. Behr were immediately arraigned before Judge Foster. They pleaded not guilty. General Bonilla, General Christmas and Captain Davis are in Honduras and have never been served in the case.

David P. Rowland and F. J. Phillips, respectively chief engineer and mate, Drew Linard and several other witnesses testified for the government. When the Hornet left Ship Island where General Bonilla and the other revolutionary leaders got aboard, it was found that there were many rifles aboard. Two sloops with 500 men and 1,500 rounds of ammunition were taken in tow by the Hornet at Three Points Island, off the coast of Guatemala.

THE HORRORS OF THIRST

In the Oasis of Mogara, says L. Dow Covington, in the April World Magazine, we had a first experience of the desert traveler's great enemy—thirst. We were seated in front of a Bedouin chief's tent, our two baby camels enjoying their first drink of water since they had left Cairo, when, from across a sand dune a Bedouin came staggering and tottering toward us. His eyes were bloodshot, his lips twice their natural size, while his tongue, blue and dry, hung out of his mouth. Evidently he had lost himself, had wandered around for days in search of water, and had stumbled upon the oasis in the very nick of time. To allow him to drink would have been his death. In spite of his frantic struggles he was held by four men, whilst a fifth allowed a few drops of water to trickle down his throat. It was as though he were a red-hot boiler which would have to be allowed to cool off before being filled if an accident was to be avoided.

MR. R.H. JARVIS DIES AT BREAKFAST TABLE

Death Came Suddenly to Former Policeman of Asheville as He Sat at the Table.

Mr. R. H. Jarvis, aged 42, a former policeman of the city of Asheville, died suddenly of heart failure yesterday morning at his residence, No. 421 North Main street, where he resided with his daughter. Mr. Jarvis ordered the dining room for breakfast apparently in good health, but upon taking his first mouthful of food he suddenly pitched forward across the table. He was removed to his room and a physician summoned, but when the doctor arrived death had come. Mr. Jarvis was a native of this county. Surviving are one daughter, one sister, Mrs. Brown of Burnsville.

INJUNCTION DENIED BY JUDGE PRITCHARD

Judge J. C. Pritchard yesterday in the United States Circuit court denied an injunction in the case of Robert D. Marshall, trustee, and William R. Swaggery against the W. M. Ritter Lumber company. An order was issued by Judge Pritchard on March 18, ordering the defendants to appear before him and show reason if any why the injunction prayed for in the petition should not be granted. The suit involved the right and title to several thousand trees on tracts of land in Swain county, the value of which is estimated at more than $2,000.
