

TWO MORE ARRESTS UNDER SEIZURE LAW

WILEY BLACK AND W. S. BRADLEY LATEST VICTIMS.

Police Had Trouble in Getting in But They Finally Landed There.

Wiley P. Black and W. S. Bradley were arrested early yesterday morning charged with violating the search and seizure law and yesterday afternoon Ed Brown, colored, who it is alleged is employed by Black at his place at the corner of South Main and Eagle streets was placed in the city jail on a charge of selling liquor to one Wade Garmon.

Black and Bradley were registered on the police blotter twice charged with the same offense. Black's place having been searched twice.

It is said that at the time that Black and Bradley were arrested the policemen experienced some difficulty in gaining access to it, the front door having been locked and admittance having been refused them. However, entrance was gained through a window and the search of the place was made with the result that twenty-six bottles, most of them pint bottles, of whiskey were seized together with three bottles of beer. It is reported that at the time the window through which the policemen entered the place was raised, noises of bottles being broken were heard and when the search was finished it is said that a number of bottles broken in the sides which had been never unceremoniously found concealed in the place.

The negro was arrested yesterday afternoon and it is said that a number of witnesses will testify against him in police court this morning.

Another whiskey case which will be called for trial today is that of L. Blomberg who was arrested Saturday afternoon charged with selling whiskey to J. W. Hampton.

This sale is alleged to have been made eighteen months ago.

MATAMUSKET ROAD MAY CHANGE OWNERS

Trying to Straighten Tangle of Bank Whose Cashier Recently Suiided

RALEIGH, N. C., May 27.—There were fourteen graduates for the commencement exercises of the high school department of the Raleigh public schools today and there were a number of notable scholarships and medals awarded. The St. Mary's scholarship went to Miss Alice Lacy, daughter of state Treasurer R. R. Lacy. Frank Brown captured the Trinity college scholarship, and Ed. Delvin the Wake Forest scholarship. C. J. Hunter, Jr., received the Chas. U. Harris gold medal for the best debater; Frank Brown won the Daughters of the Revolution medal for the best historical paper, this theme having been "The Lost Colony." Then there were the Junior Order of American Mechanics medal for the best paper on "United States History," this being won by Miss Grace Crews. The address for the commencement exercises was by President George W. Lay of St. Mary's school. He made a forcible speech on "Citizenship."

Returning from his trip to the western part of the state today Governor Kitchin found a great accumulation of personal mail awaiting him and took occasion to declare to inquiring friends that for the past ten days letters have been coming in in greatly increased numbers from citizens in every section of the state assuring him of their support in his aspiration for the United States senatorship to succeed Senator Simmons. The Governor is in high spirits and evidently thinks that the campaign is opening up most auspiciously for him.

President Joe Taylor and G. J. Brudgett, a director in the Matamusket railroad, Hyde and Beaufort counties, were here today in conference with the governor and the council of state relative to the proposed sale of the road to northern capitalists with a view to its speedy completion and operation. While it is admitted that a satisfactory agreement was reached by the conference there is no statement as yet for the press. The indications are understood to be that the road will be sold with the stipulation that it be completed and operated forthwith.

State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton has gone to Columbia to take a hand in the adjustment of the tangle in the affairs of the Merchant and Farmer's bank, the cashier of which, R. M. Spruill, took his own life Tuesday when a special auditor procured by the directors went into the bank to make an examination. It was only a few weeks ago that Examiner Doughton was there and went thoroughly into the books and papers and made demands upon the bank management for changes in the way of improvement of many securities and more up-to-date condition of the books. The corporation commission has had no further word from the bank since the announcement from the president that the cashier has suicided and that a special auditor was adjusting the books. One of the most serious conditions that the bank examiner found is understood to have been unsecured notes for considerable amounts to parties whose signatures have no commercial rating. Also the books were found to be for days and in some instances for weeks. A former president of the bank was found to so hold as to declare that he is the state. That era of disturbance came to an end with Napoleon and Waterloo.

"One thing more that tends toward the abolition of warfare is the fact that the burden of taxation is becoming almost unbearable. It is a matter of record that two thirds of the expenditures of the national government are for the maintenance of the army and navy and the payment of pensions which are but the legacy of war, while only one third of the expenditures are for agricultural and other numerous activities of peace. The total expenditures last year of all nations for the maintenance of armies and navies was about two billion dollars. What would have been the result if that stupendous sum had been turned to the uplifting and benefitting of the human race?"

Senator Burton expressed the belief that the arbitration treaty prepared between the United States and England and France will be signed during the Taft administration and will give glory and distinction to his administration which has not been surpassed by any of his predecessors.

Senator Burton returned to Washington tonight.

Distressing Breathlessness

Mrs. Rentz, of Adel, Has An Interesting Story To Tell About How Her Husband Cured Her With Cardui.

Adel, Ga.—"For 2 years I suffered with female troubles," writes Mrs. C. J. Rentz. "When I would lie down I could hardly breathe. I had a distressing feeling in my breast, and I could not do any work at all, without being exhausted. My husband heard of Cardui and we decided to try it. I took it according to directions and in 2 days I could tell it was helping me. I can now do all of my work, and do not suffer at all. I give Cardui the praise for it, and recommend it to all."

We have thousands of such letters, and more are arriving every day. For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving women's sufferings, and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It will help you. It has helped a million others. Its ingredients are purely vegetable, and harmless, yet curative, restoring in their action on the womanly organs.

Your druggist sells Cardui because there is a demand for it. The demand proves it to be a good medicine. Try it.

Ten Thousand Druggists

United in Their Opinion Regarding a Certain Medicine. Druggists should know better than any one else the value of every medicine.

Therefore, when over ten thousand recommend Vinol, the cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, over their own signatures as the greatest tonic restorative and strength creator—and offer to return the purchase money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction, it must indicate that Vinol is a pretty reliable medicine.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following: C. A. Potterfield, the leading druggist of Charleston, W. Va., says he used Vinol for every member of his family and has never been disappointed with the result.

Mr. J. F. Bradley, druggist, of New Brunswick, N. J., says, "Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine. He has proved it from personal experience."

The many years that Vinol has been on the market has served to strengthen its popularity, and proved by continued tests that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not build up your strength and give you an added interest in life. Smith's Drug Store, Asheville, N. C.

WENT TO CHARLOTTE FOR THE POT OF GOLD

FOUR ASHEVILLE BOYS RETURN Sadder But Wiser.

They Say They Are More Than Satisfied to Stay at Home Hereafter.

It is not likely that four Asheville boys, Gus Ella, Owen Mitchell, Jack Reid and Crawford Lauter, who, according to The Charlotte Observer, went to the capital of Mecklenburg in search of the "pot of gold" will ever go back to that city to chase the painted rainbow. The boys were arrested at Charlotte on information received from a Statesville farmer who found them asleep in his barn.

The Charlotte Observer tells about the boys' adventure as follows: "Gus Ella, Owen Mitchell, Jack Reid and Crawford Lauter, a quartet of young boys from Asheville fell into the hands of the police yesterday morning. The information which led to the arrest of the boys came in the form of a telephone message from a prominent farmer on the stateville road stating that he had discovered them asleep in his barn, and upon being ejected they had continued down the road, evidently headed to this city. The patrol was dispatched to meet the pedestrians, and in a short while returned to headquarters with them."

Upon being questioned by chief Christenbury the young men told of their departure from the mountain city several days ago their subsequent tramp to within a few miles of Charlotte, and a general outline of their family history generally. Jack Reid is a son of an ex-sheriff of Buncombe county, the father of Crawford Lauter is a contractor in Asheville. Owen Mitchell has a sister in this city and Gus Ella's father is an invalid. Mitchell's sister was communicated with at once, and the erring brother was turned over to her care. The remainder of the boys spent the day in a cell and returned to their homes yesterday afternoon at the expense of the city.
