SENSATIONAL MURDER ON DOCK FOR POLICEMEN OF NEW YORK TO COPE WITH

Letters in Room Where Body of Woman Was Found Gives Clue

DEEPENING MYSTERY

NEW YORK, May 31.—Detectives delving into New York's sensational murder faced a deepening mystery tonight with the reading of letters in the rooms of the woman whose decomposed body was found lime-eaten in a bath tub early yesterday. There were two sets of the letters, one apparently from the father and the other from the mother of the victim. Each writer addressed the missives to a different person to different addresses. The woman, who signed herself "Mother," dated her letters from Blue Island, Ill., and forwarded them to Mrs. Henry A. Schieb or Mrs. Lillian Schieb, at 187 West Sixty-third street. Letters from "Father" were dated 37 Thomas street, Springfield, Mass., and sent to Mrs. Hugh A. Sherman at 147 West Sixty-third street, ten doors away. The body has been identified as that of Mrs. Schieb by the victim's husband, Henry A. Schieb, whom the police have locked upon a technical charge of driving his employer's automobile without a license. Schieb was questioned by detectives for three hours this afternoon. He is said by them to have admitted that he himself wrote a letter addressed to himself and signed Anna, which the police took from his pocket when he was arrested. "I was going to show it to my wife when she came back," he is quoted as having told his inquirers. "To prove that other women liked me." His handwriting tallies closely with that of the person who penned the missive.
