wife Says Petty Jealosies Caused Her Husband to Make False Charges

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 18 .- Chief Justice Clark and members of the court are bending every effort towards closing up the sensational case of Mrs. Percy B. Fleming against her husband for the possession of their two children. Interest centered today in the unshaken testimony of Mrs. Fleming in her own behalf and that of M. W. Tyree, whom Mr. Fleming has seen fit to bring into the case as an intimate friend of his wife. Mr. Tyrce is a distinguished photographer. being secretary of the National Photographers' association.

Mrs. Fleming reviewed her trials with her husband, due to his excessive drinking and fealousy. At intervals she was all but overcome. She had striven in every way to avoid her husband's jealous disposiin her association with his tion friends. He had introduced her to Tyree a month after their marriage as his best friend. This was in Tyree's studio. Then they met at social gatherings and he and Bartell Wise were frequently invited to their home by Mr. Fleming

She recounted instances heretofore in evidence when her husband was drinking and Tyree and Wise tried to ald Flemping and her. Also of the times when Tyree was at their house intoxicated. She reviewed her relations with John Winder, jr., denying undue intimacy, and telling of having asked Winder to not join her alone anywhere on account of her husband's fealousy. She testified that the servants introduced in this trial were ab jectly under the domination of her husband. Dawkins, who was swearing to having driven her to Tyree's studio a night and to join Winder in the suburbs, had told her he was afraid of Fleming.

She wept most when she told of the abduction of the children and efforts to prevent their being sent by her

There is no method by which verway service all over the country is completely demoralized, even a limited passenger service being possible difficulty. only with the greatest Never before have the ministers of a British government made such earnest efforts to ward off a great labor war; yet tonight they have been unable to stay a movement that promises to entail inconvenience, possibly miscry, to millions of people.

Armed Camp.

London has the appearance of an armed camp, for on all sides are to be seen soldiers in khaki, rifles in hand and leaden bullets in their belts, while from the dome of St. Paul's the engineers are keeping in ommunication with the general staff by heliographic signals in the dation of strikekrs by pickets atday time and by electric flashes at night. whole of today was spent by Premier David Lloyd-George, chan-Asquith. cellor of the exchequer, and Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, in fruitless conferences with the leaders on both sides. An official statement issued at the office late tonight says the strike has developed all over the country and produced a widespread, though only partial dislocation of the railway service. It adds that as far as present information goes over twohirds of the railway men remain at their posts and the companies are receiving numerous applications for some time this afternoon, according

The negotiations, however, will be re sumed tomorrow.

To Offer Prayers.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued a special prayer for a cessation of the strife which will be used in all the churches tomorrow and Sunday.

Broadly speaking, the strike is mos effective in the north of England, where many towns are completely isolated, and in the south of Wales On the whole there is much less disorder than had been expected, only sporadic conflicts arising from intimitacks on trains and signal boxes, the cutting of wires, etc. Prices of foods. as far as London is concerned, either Thursday to effect a settlement the in the hotels, restaurants or in the

to Override Veto

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 .- After long debate on a motion to pass the dent Taft's veto, the house today failed to pass the bill by the necessary two-thirds, the result being 227 to 129.

This kills the wool bill. The house also failed to pass the free list bill over the president's veto, the vote being 226 to 127. The twothirds majority necessary thus was not realized.

The president finds that another effect of the bill would be to "break down altogether the classification upon which the arrangement in many of the present tariff, schedules is based." While the "danger the "danger is not so much that the class of users, in whose favor the classifica-tion purports to be made, will receive more benefit than the framers of the law may have intended, it is that many who do not belong to the clars intended to be favored will import ac-ticles suitable for the prescribed use under the general terms of the stat-ute, but will use them for other and general purposes." which lends Mr. Taft to observe "if there were no other reason for withholding my approal from the bill, this one would all sufficient."

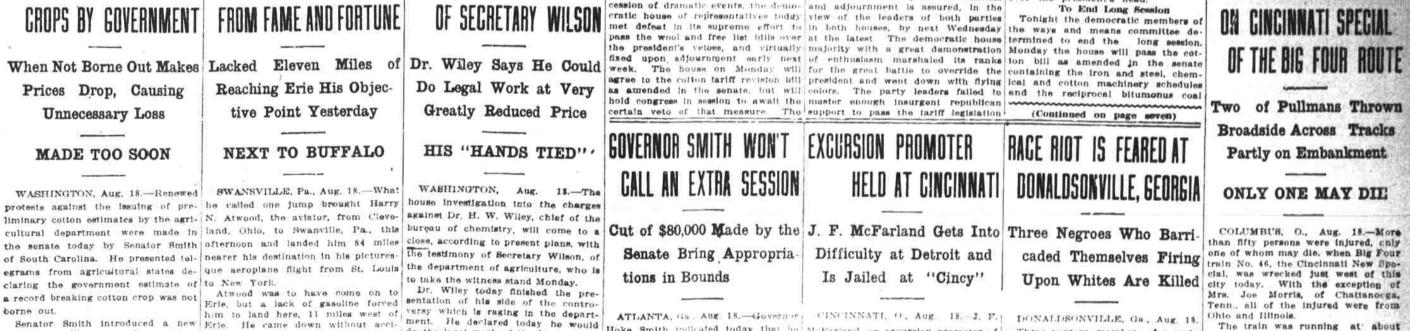

After the meanage had been read Mr. Underwood moved that it be passed notwithstanding the veto and following twenty minutes' discussion, led by Mr. Payne and Mr. Underwood, the roll was called, the vote being 226 ayes to 127 mays, less than the necessary two-thirds majority. On the first list built the resulting with the free list bill the republica voted to overrule the veto who did not so vote on the wool bill were: French, of Idaho: Kincaid, of Ne-brasks: Lofferty, of Washington, and Morgan, of Oklahoma.

The republicans who voted to over-rule the veto of the wool bill but not the veto of the free list were: Miller, of Minnesota, and Young, of
