

Society and Personals

The evening gowns this season will be unusually beautiful, but, alas, rather more expensive than heretofore. The black and silver sequin gowns that were so much in vogue several seasons ago, have been superseded by navy or marquisette gowns, elaborately embroidered in crystal, steel and all colors and shapes of beads. Frequently chenille flowers in delicate shades form part of the design. The patterns only require a lining of chiffon or silk, and are practically attractive, but the glowing tints and gorgeous designs in various shades are not universally becoming, and rather striking for general wear. Gold lace and net hold their own and add splendor to the handsome gowns. Floral ribbons are coming in again and with their exquisite colorings are very tempting. Fringed satin ribbons in various widths are new and will be very convenient for trimming, fringes being a fad of the season on gowns for afternoon and evening wear. Fur and marabout still give a Russian effect to afternoon gowns of delicate tint and shimmering evening gowns, and have the added virtue of being flatteringly becoming. The Dutch neck, popular for several seasons, is seen little on the latest gowns, and again the very high boned collar, with bands of velvet or fur of delicate shade, are the fashion, which news will be received with relief, as pretty necks are almost as rare as pretty hands. The French women, so alive to their own charms and fascinations, as readily acknowledge their defects and gracefully conceal them, Bernhard and many others, ugly hands, affected the long sleeve, which partially covered the hand. Perfection in beauty art is required, and the greatest art is required to make the most of one's good features, and often imperfections that would otherwise mar a beautiful face or figure.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Templeton, to Mr. James Clifton Williamson, takes place this afternoon at half past two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on South French Broad avenue. The members of the families and a few friends will be present at the ceremony, which will be performed by Dr. E. P. Campbell. There will be no reception. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Williamson will leave for a trip of a week or ten days, after which they will return to Asheville for a brief visit to Mr. and Mrs. Templeton. Mr. Williamson resides in Lynchburg, Va., and with Mrs. Williamson will reside in that city, where their new and completely furnished home awaits them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Monroe Perry have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Lily, to Mr. Walter Oscar Lipscomb, which takes place Wednesday evening, October twenty-fifth, at eight o'clock, at All Souls church, Business. After November 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Lipscomb will reside at 158 Patton avenue. Miss Perry is an attractive woman and has many friends in the city, to whom invitations have been issued. Her sister, Mrs. William J. McCandless, will be the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Clementine McCandless and Miss Bessie Stricker. Little Miss Rosemond McCandless will be the flower girl. Mr. Willis G. Horne will be best man, and the groomsmen will be Mr. Perry Young and Mr. L. B. Harris. The ceremony will be performed by the pastor of All Souls, Dr. R. R. Swopes. And Mr. F. F. Harker, organist of the church, will play an especially arranged program of music. The church will be handsomely decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony Mrs. McCandless will give an informal reception at her residence on Montford avenue, which will be attended only by the wedding party. Mr. and Mrs. Lipscomb will leave later in the evening for New York, Washington and Niagara Falls. Mr. Lipscomb is the son of Mrs. Virginia Eldredge Lipscomb, of Esmond, Va., and he for a number of years was on the staff of the New York Herald. Mr. Lipscomb has for eighteen months been Associated Press operator for The Asheville Citizen and has made many friends during his residence in Asheville.

We Sell Community Silverware. Six Teaspoons Are Priced at $2.00. Warranted to Wear Fifty Years

A Store That's Easy to Get to

Located mid-way between the Square and the Postoffice, this store is accessible to all. The street cars stop directly in front of the store. Next time you are up town ask to get off at the Bon Marche.

Below you find a few of the Departments mentioned and the news from them.

A Corset Department Out of the Ordinary

You will agree with us when you've seen it. Not only on account of its unusual size but the fact that every one of the corsets are brand new and up-to-date.

The new Redfern Models sell for $3.00 to $10.00 per pair.
Warner Corsets are priced at $1.00 to $5.00 per pair.
Thompson Corsets are priced at $1.00 to $3.50 per pair.

Blankets and Comfortables

Cold weather ahead! Are you prepared for it with warm bedding? Many are not—waiting for the first snow storm. Our advice is to buy now.

Our Blankets are priced at $1.25 to $15.00 per pair.
The Comfortables sell at $1.75 to $20.00.
They are on the same floor with our Trunk and Suit Case Department.

Royal Society Art Goods

This department, together with the perfumery, is attracting more attention than any of the other new departments. We are carrying complete assortments of Belding and Royal Society Art Goods.

Another change—we think for the better—is the Columbia Wool. Every kind made. Royal Society Packages sell for 25c and 50c each.

Ready-to-Wear Department Now Comfortably Situated

Our Suits are now the center of attraction on the second floor. The big, new cabinet with its many mirrors is holding our stock of over 300 suits.

Our styles though new and nobby, are authentic. The fitting here has made the department what it is today.
Ladies' Suits sell for $15.00 to $50.00.

Special Price on Knit Underwear

Right now, when the weather is beginning to turn cool, is the time to buy Knit Underwear. Our stock comprises the very best values in Knit Underwear.

A special offering—kinder breaking the ice—of children's and Ladies' Knit Vests, Union Suits and Drawers, 25c, 35c and 50c values for 19c.

Chicago's chief of police, James McWeeny—his Scotch—doesn't think much of the scheme now being tried on the Brooklyn bridge trolleys by Police Captain Bourke of separating the men and women. The Chicago Tribune says that "he refuses to give the scheme a trial in Chicago. In the first place, he believes the making of such a regulation would first require action by the city council, and, second, he does not believe it would be practicable in Chicago."
