State's Uncertainty as to Cause of Her Death Is What Prompted This Move

Richeson Asks Consideration of Congregation For Just a Little Longer

BOSTON, Oct. 24.-Removed today from the grave in the cemetery at Hyannis, the body of Miss Avis Linnell, for whose death by poisoning the Rev. C. V. Richeson of Cambridge, is being held responsible, was brought back to Beston tonight by order of District Attorney Pelletier. Uncertainty on the part of the prosecution as to the exact manner in which the young girl met her death is reported unofficially to be the reason for the sudden move, and the announcement by the district attorney's office that the government had enlisted five medico-legal experts gave some strength to this report. Incidental to the examination the body the officials also will make a careful search of Miss Linell's bathrobe which was buried with the body, for anything which might have been used as a receptacle for the fatal powder No denite statement as nings. to just what is expected to be accomplished by the re-examination of the body came from the district attorney's office tonight. O WILLE WRIGHT MAKES RECORD BREAKING GLIDE IN HIS NEW AEROPLANE

The record breaking "flight" was the seventeenth of the series that began today when the rain ceased. The first glide lasted only fifty-four seconds, each lengthening until the final The success of the experiment is understood here to mark a long step forward in the science of aviation, and to point the way toward solving the problem of automatically preserving the equilibrium of heavier toan air machines.

The glider was equipped with a rear rudder of twenty-four feet spread. In front, to preserve the balance, a ten-pound gek of sand swung on the end of a rod extending eight feet in front of the aviator's seat. The atlerons, balancing wings on the sides of the machines, were adjusted and Orville Wright lifted himself into the seat.

"Let it go," he said. Lorin Wright and Ogilvie thrust the glider into the face of the rising gale and it shot up. Again and again this was repeated, each flight becoming lengthier, until for almost ten minutes Wright soared like a brooding buzzard on the rush of a fifty-mile gale.

Orville Wright admitted his satisfaction with the results and declared the conditions under which the flight was made were unusually severe.

"There were more different differing air currents up there," he mid. "than I have ever experienced before. It was a novel and exciting

The victorious team not only outbatted the champions of the National league, but also outfielded them and showed more alertness on the bases.

It was a finely played game, sensational in spots, and gave the home crowd plenty of opportunity to cheer. New York getting the jump in the first inning the Athletics came from behind, passed them in a flerce onslaught in the fourth inning and were never again headed. Nearly twenty-five thousand persons witnesed the contest.

Mathewson, the mainstay of the Giants, was fairly crushed under the fusillade of hits and at the end of the seventh inning he retired in favor of Wiltse. The latter pitched but. one inning against the heavy hitting Philadelphia team and escaped with one two-base hit out of four men up. The sensational Baker led the team with a pair of twobase hits out of three times up and Murphy broke loose for the first in the series and laced out two doubles that set the crowd wild cheering. Captain Davis, substituting for the injured McInnes, also was in the thick of the battle, pounding out a two-base hit in the big fourth inning, when the Athletics passed New York by scoring three runs. It was in this inning that the greatest exhibition of hitting yet seen in the present world's series was given.

The only men on the Philadelphia team that did not get into the hit column were Oldring, Themas and Oldring and Thomas, however, each had a sacrifice. Bender hit the ball to the infield in each of his

For New York, Devore, Doyle and Fletcher showed best at the plate. Devore got two singles in four times up. Doyle smashed a triple in three times at bat and Fletcher had a pret-ty pair of singles, but galy Devore's hit and Doyle's three-base drive figured in New York's scoring.

New York started out like a winner in the first inning. Devore reached first on an infield tap and came all the way home on Doyle's triple to right center. The New York second baseman probably would have not Oldring slipped in the soft turi of the outfield, the ball eluding him long enough to permit Doyle to pull up at third. Snodgrass brought Dorle home with a long sacrifice fly to Lord. This was the end of New York's scoring. The two run lead looked big to the Athletic partisans but the fighting players kept pegging way at Mathewson. There hances to score in the second and third innings but it was not until the fourth that the American leaguers showed their real batting strength. Baker, who struck out the first time up, caught one of Mathewson's outside curves and drove it to left centerf or two bases, much to the delight of the crowd. Murphy smashed a

The theory of suicide, put andwearlier in the day, was revived to night, but the police declared the evidence tended to indicate murder. The knife with which Dr. Knabe was killed has not been found and the coroner and the police were of the opinion that if she herself gashed her throat she would not have had strength to have carefully hidden the knife and then returned to her bed. Further there were no bloodstains on the floor of her bedroom, save where blood had trickled from the wound, across the hed and dripped on the floor. The blow dealt was a powerful one, for the knife passed through the muscular tissue and was only stopped by the upper verterbrae.
