

DOCTOR WOULDN'T SAY POSITIVELY SHE WILL RECOVER

Mindful of Frequent Relapses of One of Mrs. Vermilya's Alleged Victims

NEVER OUT OF SIGHT OF ONE OF THE GUARDS

Everything Has Been Carefully Examined Which Could Conceal Any Poison

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, accused of the murder by poison, of Policeman Arthur Bissonette, and under investigation in connection with the successive deaths of eight other persons, today was pronounced probably recovering after her attempt to end her own life by poison yesterday.

Emergent methods to counteract the effects of arsenic which Mrs. Vermilya cunningly contrived to mingle with her food in the presence of her guards, probably will be successful, her physicians say.

Since the attempt at suicide, Mrs. Vermilya has not been out of sight of one or more of the guards, and every article she touches is first examined either by a detective or a trained nurse.

Though in a condition bordering on nervous collapse, the accused woman was pronounced in fair physical condition tonight. Mindful, however, of the frequent relapses of her alleged victim, Bissonette, ending in the man's death, Dr. Van Arsdale, who is in charge of the case, and who also attended Bissonette, refused to say positively that she would recover.

Never Out of Sight A guard of detectives and uniformed police with a police matron and several trained nurses, are watching over Mrs. Vermilya, and night or day, she is never out of the vicinity of at least one pair of eyes.

The woman's bed and bedclothes, her sleeping garments, her hair and everything else about her that could conceal poison, have been examined. The police are aroused and are determined that the woman shall stand trial on the charge of murdering their comrade.

Since learning that they had been seasoning their food with pepper from a tin can that stood beside a similar can filled with enough poison to cause the deaths of a hundred men, the police guards and matrons have had no food prepared on the Vermilya premises. The meals of the watchers are cooked at a nearby restaurant and in the presence of a policeman and brought in by a waiter under guard.

LABOR LEADERS FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY ASSEMBLE IN ATLANTA

American Federation of Labor Holds its Thirteenth Annual Convention

LARGE ATTENDANCE

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 5.—Labor leaders from all over the United States already are assembling in Atlanta for the thirteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opens its sessions here a week from tomorrow. The attendance is expected to be the largest in the history of the federation. The entertainment of the federation has been undertaken wholly by the members of the local labor unions.

While the convention proper does not organize until November 15, several of the sections will get down to business the latter part of this week. The metal trades department will convene on November 8.

James L. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, together with other members of the executive council of that body, will arrive tomorrow morning and for the time being make Atlanta the headquarters of the typographical union.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Secretary Frank Morrison will arrive several days in advance of the opening of the convention to complete the details of the program for the two weeks' session.

After the adjournment of the federation, the building trades session will convene for a two week's meeting.

LOOK WHAT HE'S MISSED

LUDLOW, Mass., Nov. 5.—A fund established by Charles D. Rood a wealthy resident, to encourage good habits among the young men of this town, has just been drawn upon to reward Howard U. Bennett, of Ludlow Center, who has never used a profane word, never smoked or chewed tobacco, never touched liquor and never kissed a girl outside his own family.

Bennett's reward was a gold watch suitably inscribed which was presented on his twenty-first birthday.

INTERVENTION OF AMERICA ASKED BY TURKISH MINISTER

Alleged Barbarities of Italians Upon Women and Children Protested Against and U. S. Asked to Take Steps Toward Stopping Them

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The "so-called barbarities" in Tripoli have been brought to the attention of the American government in such form that some declaration of the position of the state department in the matter now is expected. The subject was broached first in the course of a verbal statement by the Turkish ambassador to Acting Secretary Adee, and later in the day in the shape of a letter.

In each case the ambassador, who declared he was acting by express cabled instructions from his government, described in detail the acts attributed to the Italian troops and protested in the name of humanity against the alleged barbarities inflicted upon the helpless women and children, and non-combatants, by the infuriated Italian soldiery.

By order of his government, the ambassador appealed to the United States to exert itself to put a stop to practices that, he declared, were in plain violation of the rules of warfare, and in contravention of the Hague convention, to which the United States and Italy are parties. Acting Secretary Adee promised to submit the protest to Secretary Knox, who, at present, is absent from Washington.

The ambassador's note was based upon a cablegram from the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, in which, after reciting the alleged "wholesale execution of a great number of inhabitants of Tripoli, perpetrated daily by the Italian military authorities," concludes as follows:

"I beg to protest in the most energetic manner to the government to which you are accredited for such crimes against humanity committed by the Italians, the sad spectacle of which offers a striking contrast with the efforts crowned with success and admitted by the Italians themselves, that our authorities in Tripoli and

REMARKABLE DECREE AGAINST GOVERNMENT OF U. S. BY COLOMBIA

Ex-President Roosevelt De-nounced as "Soul of Conspiracy" on Isthmus

TEXT OF DECREE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—An interesting chapter in the controversy which grew out of the acquisition by the United States of the canal zone is contained in an official document of the Colombian government, a copy of which was received here yesterday. In an official decree designed to instill into the youth of Colombia a bitter hatred of the United States and Panama through public instruction, Jorge Willis Pradilla, a director general of public instruction of the department of Boyaca, declares that former President Roosevelt "was the soul of the conspiracy" which resulted in wresting Panama from the parent republic.

The decree gives the language in which the history of the Panama rebellion shall be taught in all public schools and colleges of the department. After giving the names of the leaders of the rebellion, all whom, it is declared, were "suborned by Yankee gold," the decreed history continues:

"In the preparation and realization of their criminal intent, they were efficiently aided by adventurers of the worst stripe, such as Manuel Amador Cuervo, a native of the city of Cartagena; Frederick Boyd, an American; and the Frenchman, Felipe Buneau Varilla, for whom the operation of the sale of the canal enterprise to the United States had to produce filthy lucre and the Colombians, Estaban Huertas and Ruben J. Varon, obscure, ignorant and mercenary soldiers.

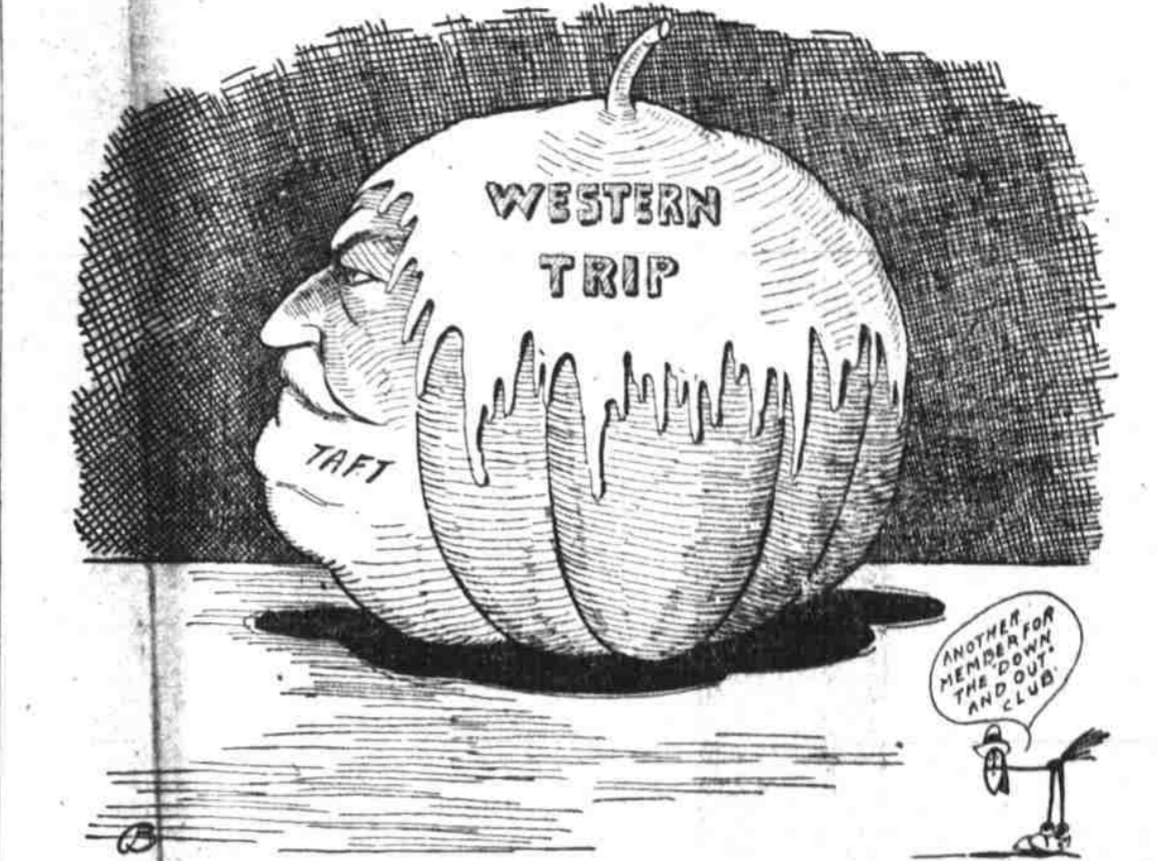

Roosevelt Chief Conspirator "The United States, whose president, Theodore Roosevelt, was the soul of the conspiracy, hastened to recognize the pseudo republic of Panama and to smother the zone for the canal, giving to the traitors the sums agreed upon. Availing itself of its influence it followed that many European and American states equally recognized the Republic of Panama, and abusing its material power and violating the public faith, pledged in solemn treaties, as that celebrated in new Canada in 1816, by which it bound itself forever to maintain the sovereignty of Colombia upon the Isthmus of Panama in exchange for invaluable concessions, prevented the Colombian nation from submitting to those traitors with whom the United States has committed one of the greatest acts of perfidy, violence and rapacity registered in the annals of the history of the nations."

LOOK WHAT HE'S MISSED

LUDLOW, Mass., Nov. 5.—A fund established by Charles D. Rood a wealthy resident, to encourage good habits among the young men of this town, has just been drawn upon to reward Howard U. Bennett, of Ludlow Center, who has never used a profane word, never smoked or chewed tobacco, never touched liquor and never kissed a girl outside his own family.

Bennett's reward was a gold watch suitably inscribed which was presented on his twenty-first birthday.

"When the Frost is on the Pumpkin"

NO CONCESSIONS FROM THRONE WILL AVAIL WHILE MANCHUS ARE IN POWER

Reports Numerous of Defection or Capture of Many Chinese Cities by Revolutionists—Subscriptions Pouring in for Revolutionary Cause—Unconditional Abdication of Emperor Demanded by Rebels

SHANGHAI, Nov. 5.—The first night after the capitulation of the city to the revolutionists passed uneventfully. Perfect order was maintained in Shanghai and the outlying districts, which constitutes a remarkable feature of the movement.

Late last night the rebels succeeded in satisfying officials of the Nanking-Shanghai railway, that they were capable of preserving order, and the foreign guard which had been placed at the railway station by order of the British consul, was withdrawn, the revolutionists taking possession of the entire surroundings of Shanghai, including Wu Sung, are now in rebel hands. The serving out of arms continued today.

There is reason to believe that the revolutionary sentiment throughout the south strongly favors the unconditional abdication of the emperor and the establishment of an entirely new regime. Yuan Shi Kai will be repudiated if he adheres to the Manchus. He might become the head of the government and receive universal support if he separated himself from his former allies. There is, however, a growing suspicion and distrust of Yuan Shi Kai.

Plans for Republic The present plans for a republic include complete control of the Yang Tze Kiang. Admiral Sah is now crippled and cut off from his base. The revolutionary leaders are determined to avoid bloodshed and secure the peaceful capitulation of the Manchus in the various southern towns.

Subscriptions Pour in for the revolutionary cause. The revolutionists maintain that no concession on the part of the throne will avail while the Manchus remain in power. A meeting of the Kiang Su, Che Kiang and Fukien gentry today stigmatized the national assembly as not representing the country. The revolutionary proclamations abolish the Likin and land taxes, the maritime

SEVERAL STATES HOLD ELECTIONS TOMORROW

State Tickets Will be Elected in Maryland, Kentucky and New Mexico

Elections will be held in several states tomorrow, but the result in Massachusetts will probably be awaited with the most general interest, as the campaign there has the most clearly defined issue. The Bay State republicans have made the tariff an issue in an attempt to defeat the reelection of Governor Eugene N. Foss.

State tickets will also be elected in Maryland, Kentucky and New Mexico, but in none of these states has a prominent national issue been brought out. New Mexico will choose its first governor. A multitude of candidates will give the electors of the new state an unusual variety to choose from tomorrow.

California women will have a chance to vote, except in San Francisco, where they were unable to register in time for election after the passage of the equal suffrage amendment. Other states have elections of more or less importance.

SHOWERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Forecast: North Carolina: Rain Monday and probably Tuesday; moderate east winds.

AVIATOR RODGERS FLIES 4,231 MILES IN 4,924 MINUTES

His Feat Marks Epoch in Aviation, Which Will Not be Duplicated Very Soon

WILL FLY OUT OVER PACIFIC OCEAN TODAY

When Word Was Flashed of His Approach in Pasadena, 20,000 People Gathered

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 5.—Aviator Calbraith P. Rodgers, approaching a successful completion of his ocean-to-ocean jaunt, soared into Pasadena at 4:04 p. m., today on the last spurt of thirty miles from Pomona, and from an altitude of several thousand feet, landed at Tournament Park. He will fly to the coast tomorrow, landing at the edge of the Pacific.

Rodgers landed at 4:10 o'clock. Tomorrow he expects to fly out over the Pacific and thus make the epoch marking feat of aviation really an ocean-to-ocean flight.

Rodgers appeared in the sky-line shortly after three o'clock. He was sighted first by telescopes from the solar observatory on Mount Wilson, and word flashed down the mountain by telephone brought twenty thousand persons to Tournament Park.

Official Figures Official figures of Rodgers' flight, given by his manager, show: Total distance, 4,231 miles. Flying time, 4,924 minutes. Flying at a height of about five thousand feet, Rodgers hovered the city for a few minutes, then circled in a wide spiral and volplaned down. His landing was a signal for a rush and Rodgers literally was mobbed.

Rodgers started on the last dash of his flight from Banning, California, a little town out in the desert, where his arrival had interrupted the only diversion of the year—the funeral dance of the Mojave Indians. Taking the air at noon, Rodgers ascended gracefully to the peak of a twenty-mile wind wall he had reached an altitude of four hundred feet. Then he set his course directly west and sparked his motor up to a thirty-mile gait.

The flier arrived over Colton at 1:37 p. m., with his altitude increased to one thousand feet, and he kept this height until he neared Pomona, 11 miles from Pasadena. He remained there until after three o'clock, renewing his supply of gasoline, and refilling the tank of the leaking radiator that brought him near disaster yesterday.

After leaving Pomona, Rodgers kept his bi-plane pointing upward until he had climbed over the highest peaks of the Sierra Madre mountains. As he neared on to the finish at Tournament Park, he was on a level with the Mount Wilson Observatory, and flying close to the raised sides of the mountain.

His Daring Glides His march to Baby Wright that has only a few feet ahead of wings, seemed to hesitate for an instant. (Continued on Page Three)

U. S. C. CONVENTION WILL BE ATTENDED BY OVER SIX HUNDRED DELEGATES

Thirty-Two States Will be Represented at Richmond Meeting

MANY NOTED WOMEN

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 5.—Six hundred delegates from thirty-two states of the union are expected to attend the eighteenth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy which begins a four day meeting here Wednesday. Because of the peculiar interest that attaches to Richmond as the capital of the old Confederacy, the present convention will witness the largest and most distinguished gathering of southern women ever present on an occasion of this kind.

Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, leader of the Confederate cavalry, and Mrs. Thomas J. Jack, widow of the hero of Bull Run, will be among those in attendance. The convention will be formally opened Tuesday night at the Academy of Music with addresses of welcome by Governor Mann, Virginia; Mayor D. C. Richardson, of Richmond, and high officials of the Virginia division of the delegates will be made by Mrs. Faulkner McSherry, president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Business sessions will be held twice daily, beginning Wednesday morning until the close of the convention on Saturday. The convention will consider the question of erecting a home for Confederate women and for founding a permanent general relief committee. The regular biennial election of the president general will take place at the next business session, the minor officers being elected next year.

Following this disturbance, the pressure will rise rapidly and decidedly colder weather will overspread the northwestern states Tuesday and Wednesday and advance eastward over the middle west Wednesday and Thursday, and the eastern states the latter part of the week. It is probable that this cold change will be attended by snows in the northern states.

GULFPORT, Miss., Nov. 5.—The British steamer Goodwood, Captain Stubbs, is reported aground on East Cahnaleur beach. The vessel is en route from Buenos Ayres to this port with a cargo of timber. A heavy easterly swell prevails and the boat's condition is reported serious.