ELECTION OF GOVERNOR FOSS SURPRISE IN THE BAY STATE

Tammany Triumphs in New York City, but the Murphy Legislature Appears to Have Received a Stinging Rebuke.

FOSS' PLURALITY 7,734. BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Complete returns for governor in the Massachusetts election today give: Foss, democratic, 219,622; Frothingham, republican, 202,888; Foss' plurality, 7,734.

Elections held yesterday in many states and cities throughout the country resulted in the election of democratic governors in Massachusetts, Kentucky, a republican governor in Rhode Island, a republican assembly in New York which will challenge the continuance of Governor Dix's policies.

Early Indications. In Massachusetts, Governor Foss, democrat, claims his re-election by a reduced plurality of about 12,000, but the election is not conceded and the result will be open to doubt until more complete returns are received.

In Rhode Island early returns indicated the re-election of Governor Pothier, republican, over Louis A. Waterman, democrat, by an increased majority.

New York state elected a republican assembly thus depriving Governor Dix, democrat, of the support he has heretofore had from legislature democrats in both branches. The present New York assembly has a democratic majority of 24. The newly elected assembly will have a republican majority of upwards of 20.

New Jersey's Vote. New Jersey elected a legislature which will probably give continued support to Governor Woodrow Wilson, democrat, but the legislative majorities are still in doubt.

Ohio and Kentucky. The municipal elections in Ohio resulted in the election of Henry T. Hune, democrat, as mayor of Cincinnati; Newton D. Baker, democrat, as mayor of Cleveland; George J. Karp, democrat, as mayor of Columbus.

Mississippi elected a democratic governor and state officers by decisive majorities.
