"The Country Boy"

The lure of the city with its light and its seeming opportunities to make great fortunes provided Edgar Selwyn with the theme for his distinc-tive comedy, "The Country Boy," which Henry B. Harris will present at the Auditorium next Monday evening. Nov. 12. But that the pathway of the country youth in the big city is well illustrated by the boy who the central figure in the story of this play. It took the older man who had sounded the depths of the city's treachery and deceit to reveal to this country youth the fact that after all there might be greater opportunities right in his own home towe than tre big city could possibly offer. "The (cuntry Boy" tells the story of many a boy who has gone forth into the great world but unfortunately in many cases they do not find the friend to bring them home in time and they awas toe wayaide of life. An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a mee appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.
