

Society and Personals

The marriage of Miss Sara Louisa Parkinson and Mr. Robert E. Currier, of Black Mountain, occurred yesterday afternoon at the residence of Dr. R. F. Campbell, of the First Presbyterian church, who performed the ceremony.

The Manor will give a large Christmas tree for the servants, in the ball room, Christmas evening. The tree will be a very large one, and handsomely decorated and illuminated.

The Wranglers met last evening at the Manor for their usual monthly session. Following dinner, an essay was read by Dr. J. B. Green, the subject of which was "Open Shops." Mr. Zebulon Curtis responded.

A wedding which will be a surprise and of much interest to their numerous friends, was that of Miss Fannie Bean of Waynesville, and Mr. E. E. Ensey, of Asheville, which occurred in Asheville, November 18th, at the parsonage of Central Methodist church the ceremony being performed by Dr. C. W. Byrd.

Mrs. Ensey is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bean of Waynesville and is a most attractive young woman. Mr. Ensey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ensey of Clyde and holds a responsible position with the Southern railway.

The Young Women's Christian association and the Young Men's Christian association will hold a reception New Year's day at the Y. M. C. A. building on Haywood street. The arrangements and reception committees have been announced, yet, but the reception will be a very large affair and one of the interesting events of the holidays.

Dr. C. J. Allen, of Rocky Mount, and Miss Grace Bruce, of Mars Hill, were married at the home of the bride's parents this week. Rev. Mr. Harris, pastor of the Mars Hill Baptist church, officiating.

Mr. Hallet Riddick, of Selwin, Gates county, and Miss Mary Edwards, of Mars Hill, were married at the home of the latter last Monday morning after which they left immediately for the groom's home.

The Asheville friends of Miss Gertrude Wood will be pleased to learn of the success of her initial appearance in an "Afternoon of Southern Melodies" at the Waldorf-Astoria.

New York city, last Thursday afternoon. Miss Wood sang "Pickaninny Lullaby," "Lindy," "Kentucky Babe," "Old Black Joe," "Maassa in de Col," "Col' Groun," "Swanee River," and other Southern songs. She was accompanied by Don Richardson, formerly of Charlotte, on the violin and Mr. Liff played a number of waltz solos, one being "My Old Kentucky Home."

"Miss Gertrude Hepburn Wood, a Southern singer of Southern songs, was introduced to her first New York audience by Antonia Sawyer at the Waldorf yesterday afternoon. The programme called for 'An Afternoon of Southern Melodies and Ballads' and the singer fulfilled its requirements."

The ladies of the Macabees will meet in Regular Review this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, as the annual election of officers takes place at this meeting.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. Edward Atkinson, who for the past four months has been a student at the Washington and Lee university, returned to Asheville yesterday and will spend the holidays here.

Mr. Melvin Carter and Mr. Eric Rawls, of Arden, returned to that place yesterday afternoon, after spending two days in Asheville, with relatives.

A Whirlwind Finish at the Christmas Store

Barely two days remain in which to do your Christmas shopping. We expect to be very busy during these days and have prepared for it. Never has an Asheville store been so well equipped and organized as this store is this year. There are nearly 70 people, all told, ready to serve you. By our present arrangement we are able to handle just three times the amount of business as ever before.

No goods to be exchanged during these two days. No samples cut. Leave your order and they will be delivered.

Carry packages whenever possible. We have an auto delivery, wagon delivery and five boys on wheels, but with all this, if all packages that are purchased have to be delivered, the service will become congested. No parcels purchased after 5 p. m. will be delivered.
