STRIKE AND RIOT. DURBAN, Natal, Union of South Africa, Nov. 17.—East Indian residents of Natal today declared a general strike, which was accompanied by rioting and the burning of sugar plantations.

The police force is insufficient to deal with the rioters, and white women and children are in a state of terror. Troops have been ordered to the disaffected districts. In Durban itself practically the whole East Indian community quit work.

In the country districts hundreds of acres of sugar cane was burned. The revolt of the East Indians was brought about by the exclusive laws in force against them here.

SENSATIONAL CASE.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 17.—The term of court which convened today in the little town of Wayne, the seat of the county of the same name and situated some fifteen miles south of this city, will be made notable by the trial of one of the most sensational cases of alleged murder in the history of this section.

The defendant is Letha Perdue, a pretty girl who only recently passed her sixteenth birthday. The victim of the tragedy was the girl's brother-in-law, James Kendrick, twenty-six years old and a member of the fire department of this city. On the afternoon of June 11 last, Kendrick was shot and killed in the Perdue home, near the village of Kellogg and only a short distance across the county line from this city. The Perdue girl made no attempt to deny the fact that she had fired the fatal shots.

That the defense will probably rely upon a plea of "the unwritten law" is indicated by the girl's statement to the effect that she killed Kendrick because he had wronged her. Relatives of the slain man, however, vigorously deny that any such cause existed for the tragedy and they have announced their intention to aid in the prosecution of the young girl.

On the day of the tragedy Kendrick had gone to the Perdue home to get his little child, born to the father's union over six years ago with a sister of the girl who killed him. Accompanying Kendrick to the house was his second wife, a bride of three weeks. As Kendrick stepped into the dining room, Letha Perdue entered the room from the other side.

"Well," said Kendrick, "get the baby ready—I want to take him home with me." "Jim," said the young girl, "what do you mean by treating me this way? You asked me to marry you and we were engaged. You knew I loved you and thought you loved me?" "You are a liar," exclaimed Kendrick, according to the members of the Perdue family who witnessed the tragedy. "I never intend to marry you."

Kendrick's according to the girl's statements, then started toward her with a threatening gesture. Whipping a revolver from his folds he fired and bullet crashed through the man's chest. As her victim sank to the floor Miss Perdue placed the revolver to his head and fired two bullets into his brain.

Battle Between Life and Death

Ridgely Lady Tells of Her Fierce Struggle and How She Finally Won.

Ridgely, Tenn.—"If it had not been for Cardul, the woman's tonic," says Mrs. Jennie Estes, of this town, "I honestly believe I would have been in my grave today. Therefore, I want to say something good for Cardul, but I can't begin to say enough.

I was sick abed with womanly troubles, from February until October, and was in very bad condition. I was treated three or four times a week, but it did me no good.

I battled between life and death, and my husband thought surely I would die. One day, I thought I would give Cardul, the woman's tonic, a trial. I had no confidence in it, at all, but bought a bottle. In a few days, I was up and doing my housework. Now, I have gained 15 pounds and feel as well as I ever felt in my life.

I advise all sick and suffering women to try Cardul. It cured me when all other medicines failed." If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, pains in arm, side or limbs, or any other symptoms of womanly trouble, you are urged to try Cardul, the woman's tonic. We think it will help you.
