TREATY SIGNED.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—A new treaty has been signed between the United States and Venezuela, by which all questions not capable of settlement by diplomacy shall be submitted to investigation by an international commission for at least one year. It is the fourteenth of Secretary Bryan's peace treaties.

The convention does not provide for maintenance of the new military and naval status quo during the investigation period, but, like all of the peace treaties, binds the two countries not to engage in hostilities until the commission has reported.

TRUE STORY OF THE DEATH OF BENTON Distant Prospect

Alleged "Inquiry" Into Circumstances Surrounding Murder Closes.

WENT TO VILLA WITHOUT ARMS

No One Saw the Killing and No One Cares to Say Anything.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The inquiry into the death of the Scotchman, Benton, five weeks ago in Juarez, directed by the British foreign office has been concluded, and today the results were laid before the British ambassador here for transmission to London. This investigation was conducted by C. A. S. Perceval, British consul at Galveston, whose district includes the town of El Paso, opposite Juarez.

Originally ordered to El Paso to co-operate with the commission appointed by Secretary Bryan to inquire into the Benton case, Mr. Perceval, finding that the American commission was helpless to act as the result of the refusal of the rebel leaders to allow them to examine the dead Benton's body, conducted an investigation on his own account. He employed such agents as he thought were necessary and secured a mass of testimony bearing upon Benton's death. Much of this was collected in secret and for that reason not even the names of the witnesses will be given publicity at this time.

Necessarily the evidence as to what actually took place in Villa's headquarters Juarez, where Benton was last seen alive, was meagre. Most if not all of the eye witnesses were officers and private soldiers under Villa's immediate command, who are now with the general in the interior of Mexico.

Bridence Meagre.
From the incomplete evidence that he was able to obtain, Consul Perceval reports that Benton, disregarding the advice and appeals of his wife proceeded directly to Villa's headquarters with the double purpose of protesting against the spoliation of his ranch, and to secure the privilege of marketing his cattle in the United States. So extensive had been the raids upon his livestock by the constitutionalists that he told his friends that he had determined to save what he could of the herd by getting it out of the country.

The testimony quoted by the consul makes it appear that Benton was unarmed when he entered Juarez and sought Villa's headquarters; that he entered Villa's office; that there was a tremendous scuffle followed by perfect quiet. No witness could be found who heard the sound of a shot. Benton did not emerge from the office alive, but where and when his body was removed the report does not disclose.

The consul drew the inference that Benton had been killed by a knife, and that his body had been secretly removed and interred somewhere in the immediate neighborhood although there was no direct testimony adduced to sustain this inference.

Mercho Must Pay.
The substance of the report will be communicated to Secretary Bryan and the report itself will be transmitted to the British foreign office. According to the British view, nothing can be done in the case at this stage. The report of the Carranza commission, appointed to investigate the Benton killing is awaited with much interest and will be received by the British government as information at least.

No immediate action is expected at the British embassy but it was recalled that Sir Edward Grey, in his last statement to the house of commons upon the Benton case, made it plain that there must be a heavy reckoning for this killing of a British subject, and that the debtor would be the future permanent government of Mexico.

TO CONCLUDE INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Plans for concluding the congressional investigation of conditions in the Michigan strike district were made today by the sub-committee of the house mines committee. The committee during the day heard John Mitchell, labor leader, and Representative Mac Donald, who represents the affected district in congress.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining company, through its attorney, James A. Emery, was requested to furnish data of the financial activities and history of the company and the committee decided to close the hearings as soon as Quincy A. Shaw, president of the Calumet and Hecla company can be called and questioned as to the attitude of the company toward organized labor.

DATE FOR ARGUMENTS.

BIG SEAFIGHTER GLIDES INTO THE DELAWARE RIVER

The Battleship Oklahoma is Launched at Camden, New Jersey.

MISS LORENA CRUCE CHRISTENS THE SHIP

The Oklahoma Will be Far Ahead of the Present American Ships.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—The super-dreadnought Oklahoma, one of the largest and most powerful American battleships afloat, was launched today from the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J. The great seafighter was christened by Miss Lorena Jane Cruce, daughter of the governor of Oklahoma, who broke a bottle of champagne against the ship's prow as the hull began to glide in the Delaware river. Miss Cruce was surrounded by a dozen girl friends from Oklahoma.

Surrounding the christening party were Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, members of the congressional naval committee, the Oklahoma delegation in congress, state officials and other Oklahomans. Governor Cruce of Oklahoma was detained at home.

Flag Over Hall.

In honor of the ceremony the flag of Oklahoma waved today over historic Independence hall.

The dreadnought Oklahoma will be one of the most powerful battleships that has yet been floated for the American navy. A sister ship, the Nevada, is under construction at Quincy, Mass. Only the Pennsylvania, building at Newport News, and the battleship "number 23," the keel of which was laid last week at the New York navy yard, will outstrip the Oklahoma in tonnage, displacement, length or the power of her guns.

The length of the new seafighter is 583 feet and her displacement will be 27,500 tons, or 500 tons greater than the largest American fighting ship now afloat.

Many Big Guns.

In both armament and armor the Oklahoma will be far ahead of the present American ships. Her principal weapons will be ten 14-inch guns, capable of firing shells weighing 1,400 pounds. A feature of the armament will be the placing of three of the great guns in one turret.

About the big warship will also be distributed twenty-one 5-inch guns and minor armament consisting of

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM CAPITAL OF OLD NORTH STATE

News of Capt. Turner's Death Comes as Shock to Raleigh.

DAIRYMAN FURT ON HIS WAGON

Body of John R. Wray Sent to Angier for Burial.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22.—The people of Raleigh were shocked beyond measure this morning by the news of the death of Capt. J. M. Turner, which occurred at Maxton last night. The remains arrived here this afternoon at 12:10 o'clock and were conveyed to the residence of Mrs. McPheeters, on Dawson street, there to remain until the funeral, which is to take place Monday afternoon from the First Presbyterian church.

Capt. Turner and Mrs. Turner were spending the winter here, where they have resided at intervals for many years, and many friends sympathize very deeply with Mrs. Turner in her loss. Just a short while before his death, Capt. Turner had held a bright, jovial conversation with his wife over the long distance telephone between Raleigh and Maxton, and the news of her husband's sudden death that came over the wires later in the night has completely prostrated her. Capt. Turner was 55 years old and has been prominent in railroad service in this section of the country for many years. He was a prominent official of the Seaboard Air Line for a number of years, and was practical railroad man in the construction of the Raleigh & Pamlico Sound railroad, now a part of the Norfolk Southern. Thereafter he was general manager of the Georgia-Florida railroad, until two years ago, when he retired from this road to undertake the construction of three pounders, one pounder, 3-inch field pieces and machine guns.

The armor belt, especially heavy, is 13 1/2 inches thick and will extend four hundred feet along each side of the hull, from 8 1/2 feet below the water line to nine feet above the water. There are two protective decks to guard against plunging fire, one of three inches and the other of one and one-half inch.

The Oklahoma will burn oil, and her engines will have 24,800 indicated horsepower, sufficient to develop speed of 20 1/2 knots an hour.
