REGISTRATION BOOKS OPENED YESTERDAY

The Present Democratic Registration Promises to be a Comparatively Light One.

In order that the members of the democratic party, whose names have not been placed on the registration books may qualify to participate in the approaching primary for the naming of a county ticket, the books were opened at the various city precincts yesterday morning. Many members of the party who have become of age since the last registration and who have changed their places of residence necessitating another registration called at the polling places during the day and registered. The books opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and remained open until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

In accordance with the rules of the democratic primary the books will be kept open until May 14. In view of the fact that the majority of the democrats of the city have had their names placed on the registration lists already, the present registration promises to be a comparatively light one.

As was announced sometime ago, no registration is required among the voters of the county precincts. Only the residents of the city of Asheville must qualify by registering.

MAY DRILLS WILL BE CONDUCTED TODAY

Students of Normal and Collegiate Institute will Participate—Invitations Issued.

All preparations for the May drill of the students of the Normal and Collegiate Institute have been completed and the friends of the school are looking forward to the event with a great deal of interest. The drills will be carried out this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock on the beautiful campus of the institution which has never presented a more attractive appearance than at the present time. Blooming flowers, budding trees and trailing vines contribute to the beauty of the college lawn and with favorable weather this afternoon's May drill promises to be one of the most successful ever held on the campus.

Invitations have been issued to the friends of the school to attend the drill and seats will be provided on the campus for their accommodation. The seats are arranged in such a manner that those in attendance will not interfere with the students who will participate in the drills, although they will be within close proximity to that portion of the campus on which the drills will be conducted.

Miss Agnes Scott Kent will direct the drills and Miss May Isabel Taylor will be the accompanist. About 150 of the students of the school will participate.

Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the national house or representatives, reached his seventy-eighth birthday anniversary this week, having been born on May 7, 1836.

THE LONG AND SHORT QUESTION IS PUZZLER

"TO OR NOT TO" FURNISHES BIG PROBLEM.

Some Say May 3, and Others Say May 15 is the Proper Time to Take 'em Off.

(By Tooth Barkington.)
Along about this time of the year, when all sorts of problems, from the probability of being able to hock our winter overcoat for enough to get our spring suit out, to the prospect of the fish biting in the Swannanoa, arise to claim our attention, one persistent, not-to-be-denied query keeps creeping up behind us and touching us gently on the back. That query is "To or not to?"

"Whaddamean, to or not to?"
Well, the long and short of it is this: "Is it time to take 'em off and put on short ones, or should we wait a while?" Get me?

One of the hardest problems to solve is the proper time to put 'em on in the fall and take 'em off in the spring, and at the earnest solicitation of scientists from all parts of the world, I have decided to wander through a few thousand volumes of ancient history, the dictionary, an encyclopedia or two, and the last edition of Nick Carter, after which I am sure that I will be able to render a competent decision on this momentous question.

I have tried, unsuccessfully to locate the proper time of year to take 'em off or shorten 'em up by consultation with various local celebrities. Some declare that the first day of May is the accepted time, while others are just as insistent that rheumatism, pellagra, gout and pip lurk on the trail of any one who sheds 'em before May 15. One prominent citizen whom I approached on the subject got as far as "Why I never wear—when I blushingly fled. The time to shorten the long ones and lengthen the short ones has always been a problem of moment to the learned men of all ages. Some even insist that Napoleon would never have lost the battle of Waterloo if he had not shed 'em a little too early in the year. This it is claimed, caused him to catch cold; the cold, in turn, went to his head, and he was not able to think properly at a time when his clearest thoughts were necessary.

On the other hand, you can wander through Asheville through the winter months and find men after man who, from reasons of economy, disregard for his personal feelings, or 'other personal reasons, leaves 'em short all winter. (The winter is long, not the other, I wish it understood.) So to get back to the subject of the proper time to take 'em off and put on short ones, I am forced to place myself in that class of eminent philosophers who unblushingly admit that they do not know. I suppose the best time to take 'em off is when the others begin to get too warm, and the best time to put 'em on is when the chill winds of autumn begin to remind you that life is not all sunshine and roses. It doesn't cost any more, either way, for this advice is offered gratis.

Another subject that causes much distress among the members of the sterner sex is the proper time to do and shed the festive straw lid and Panama. Authorities can be found who, as in the case of taking 'em off, declare that May 15 is the proper time to do the summer headgear. Others in Asheville, who demonstrate their belief by practice, regardless of weather conditions, declare that the lightweight skypiece should be donned at the same time the glad Easter raiment is placed on exhibition.

As in the case of the long and short, I am puzzled. The best thing I can say is, if you have a straw lid, you can wear it when you darn please, and if you haven't one, wear anything you happen to have. Nobody will notice the difference, anyway.

ROSEBERY HAS BIRTHDAY.
LONDON, May 7.—Lord Rosebery, one time prime minister of England and long a leading figure in the political, social, and literary life of the United Kingdom, received numerous congratulations today on the occasion of his sixty-seventh birthday. The End of a Great Offer: Tomorrow Your Last Chance to Have the New Hoosier Put in Your Home for $1

Will you decide now to come down tomorrow and settle the matter once for all, or will you let tomorrow drift by—and then realize you are too late to decide; because the Hoosier Plan of Sale positively will close tomorrow?

Scores of other women are in your state of mind. They are reading this final call tonight. And many who have postponed as you have are making up their minds tonight to come down tomorrow for a final decision.

A choice still remains between "White Beauty" (selected by 3 out of 4 women) and the Hoosiers with "Oak" interior. But the numbers are few and you cannot hope to get one if you delay. You incur no obligation by coming, so let other matters wait tomorrow while you settle this important question.

You could scarcely imagine a decision of more importance to you. For the new Hoosier is a wonderful labor-saver—already used by 700,000 women. It saves miles of steps and hours of valuable time. It saves health and good looks. It is very low in price—and on the liberal terms of the Hoosier Plan is the Cheapest Kitchen Cabinet Ever Built.

These 40 Features which we have described in detail this week, are backed by the full guarantee of the Hoosier Company. For 16 years this company has built the famous HOOSIER and in all that time has never added an "improvement" that proved a failure. But unless you sit down in front of this beautiful cabinet and see its wonderful conveniences yourself you cannot hope to realize how much labor this new Hoosier would save you.

(1) See for instance, how the big, roomy, metal table, slides out 16 inches over the base. Notice how an exclusive Hoosier patent prevents this table from warping.

(2) Observe especially how cleverly the inside of the door space above the table is utilized to bring things you need often nearest your hand. The sliding table enables you to open the doors without removing anything from the table, and the insides of the doors save any danger of knocking things over by reaching across the table for those supplies you use scores of times daily.

Our window, displaying these features in "White Beauty," has caused more talk than any window display we've ever had. SEE IT. Tomorrow is the last day.

(3) "What shall we have for Dinner?" If yours is one of the millions of homes in which there is an eternally perplexing problem, Mrs. Christine Frederick's Food Guide—now an exclusive part of the Hoosier Cabinet, will save you enough time and money to pay for the Cabinet in less than a year. Simply turn the dial until you see the meat you want and a choice of several perfectly balanced economical menus is before you. Don't fail to examine this feature tomorrow.

(4) Every woman has favorite recipes. If you're like most women, you have difficulty remembering where you put the one you want. The Metal Recipe Card File has 50 cards and ten index guides. You can paste or write the recipe and file it always at your fingers' ends. A special holder is provided so you can keep any recipe you are using at level of your eyes—without holding or rolling it.

SCIENTIFIC SANITARY DURABLE CONVENIENT BEAUTIFUL

YOU NEED IT YOU CAN AFFORD IT YOU CAN HAVE IT TOMORROW

(5) In your examination tomorrow, be sure to note carefully the New Shaker Sifter we've already described. It shakes flour through instead of grinding it through. It cannot wear out. It cannot grind grit or dirt through. It makes flour fluffy and light. The only thing of its kind. An absolutely new helper in your kitchen.

These and 35 other conveniences are worth examining tomorrow—even at some personal effort on your part. Tomorrow is your last chance to decide whether you want them now on the easy Hoosier Plan.

What Possible Reason can remain to deprive you of the use of this Hoosier? Only the small number of Hoosiers left and the certainty that more women will come than we can supply. Every day we have enrolled more women on the Hoosier plan than we expected. There are fewer cabinets left for tomorrow than we have sold on any one day. These few undoubtedly would be taken without this ad, but we make this final announcement to keep our promise to advise you of the last day.

We Now Have Kept Our Promise to You

Please remember, if you come too late, that we have told you every day of the progress of this sale, and that we now give you the final date in time for you to still enroll if you act early tomorrow.

MOTORISTS ARE INTERESTED IN CELEBRATION. Moving Pictures Will be Secured Along Lines of Scenic Highway—Program Arranged.

Local motorists are showing a great deal of enthusiasm over the plans looking to the celebration of the completion of the Spartanburg-Hendersonville-Troyon highway with mass meetings at Hendersonville and Troyon July 4 and letters which are pouring into the office of the local board of trade and other organizations interested in the project indicate that motorists from many towns and cities will participate in the celebration. Secretary N. Buckner has sent letters explaining the plans for the meetings and trips to the two Western North Carolina towns to automobile organizations of various towns of this section of the state and the Piedmont section of South Carolina.

Announcement was made at the office of the board of trade yesterday to the effect that one of the leading moving picture companies has agreed to send an operator to the meetings and it is probable that another company will be represented. The moving picture men will accompany the members of the party over the scenic highway from the South Carolina line to the two towns at which celebrations will be held, getting panoramas of the scenes along the highway as well as pictures of the mass meetings.

The idea for holding the celebrations was suggested by the Asheville board of trade several weeks ago and letters were sent immediately to the various towns which will participate. Throughout the territory affected by the highway, the idea met with enthusiastic approval and the celebration promises to be one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held in Western North Carolina. Many motorists have expressed their intentions of making the trip to the South Carolina line to meet the caravan of automobilists from Spartanburg and surrounding cities and from South Carolina comes information that the good roads enthusiasts of that state are preparing to attend in large numbers.

While the program for the occasion has not yet been arranged, interested persons are at work on it and they expect that it will be ready for announcement within the next few days.
