The birthday of Mrs. Julia B. Woodcock was made the occasion of a surprise party given in her honor yesterday afternoon at the Bandana tea room by Mrs. Lucilla Shipp. The flower-decorated room was more than usually attractive, carnations and candles marking the number of the honoree's birthdays, and thirty of Mrs. Woodcock's friends were present to tender their congratulations. The honoree's table, on which was an elaborate birthday cake, was in the center of the room, circled by tables at which were the other guests. A number of these had attended on the occasions of the birthdays of Mrs. Eliza W. Gillis and Mrs. M. G. Stockton in the past few months. Bon bon boxes were used as favors. The guests were received by Mrs. John T. Dunlop.

The guests were Mrs. O. Miller, Mrs. J. J. Brown, Mrs. W. S. George, Mrs. Edwin Gaston, Mrs. Eliza W. Gillis, Miss Gillis, Mrs. J. F. Ramsey, Mrs. R. P. Smith, Mrs. H. H.
