

Society and Personals

Members of the house party being entertained by Miss Goodfellow and Miss Mary Lee, at their home on Edgemont road were accompanied during the week by a most enjoyable tea, given at the Bandanna Tea room on Haywood street on Wednesday.

The Country club will be opened to its members this afternoon during the hours of 5 o'clock until 8:30 o'clock when dancing will be enjoyed.

The regular Friday night dinner dance last evening at the Battery Park hotel was featured by a number of small but enjoyable dinner parties. Quite a number of the dancing set attended.

Invitations to the marriage of Miss Mildred Overman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Overman, of Salisbury, to Mr. Edward Barbour Owen Norvell, of this city, have been received by their many friends in Asheville. The wedding will take place on Wednesday evening, April 11 at six o'clock at the First Presbyterian church at Salisbury.

Mrs. James G. Stikeleather will give a small informal card party this evening at her home on Aston place complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, of New York City, who are guests at the Battery Park hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett are here to see their nephew, Mr. William Bennett, who is associated with Mr. William Lord in building the new high school.

The friends of the late Mrs. E. K. Graham, wife of President Graham of the university of North Carolina, are planning a beautiful tribute to her. This memorial will be a public drinking fountain at Chapel Hill and will be designed by one of the best artists in the United States.

The guests at the Battery Park hotel were entertained on Thursday evening by the management with an interesting auction party, ten tables being arranged in the card room for several handsome prizes were awarded, the winners being Mrs. King Kennedy, Mr. J. N. Duns, of New York, and Mrs. J. M. Stieb, of Detroit. These bridge tournaments will be given every week during the season.

Miss Marie Shotwell, the movie star, who spent some time recently in the city at the Battery Park hotel, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Bandanna Kitchen on Wednesday by Mr. Hoteler, of Buffalo. The occasion was in celebration of Miss Shotwell's birthday and the decorations were appropriate. Mr. and Mrs. Warren were among the guests. Miss Shotwell will return to Asheville later in the season.

The Times and Tides club met yesterday with Mrs. Parker. The roll call was answered with responses about war and peace. Two papers were read and enjoyed. Mrs. Dear reading "The Critical Period of Our Country" and Mrs. E. H. Abernethy reading "Pathfinder". At the conclusion of the program a delicious salad course was served.

Mrs. J. E. Lambie, who is a guest at the Manor, and who is a prominent club woman of New York City, will give a most interesting and beneficial talk on "A Trip Around the World" tonight at 8:10 o'clock at the Oakhurst school on Charlotte street under the auspices of the Woman's club. Mrs. Lambie has spent much of her life traveling both in the new country and in the old. Recently she lectured at Bingham school and at the Normal Industrial school and her talk was greatly enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to hear her. All club women of Asheville, their husbands and friends are invited to hear Mrs. Lambie tonight. Following her talk there will be a social hour during which refreshments will be served.

Miss Harriett Johnson, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson, of 360 Merrimon avenue, was married to Mr. J. Cleveland Franklin, at the new home of her parents yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Cleveland, of Skyland, the uncle of Mr. Franklin and the wedding was attended only by the immediate families and close friends of the young couple. Miss Johnson was costumed in a tan traveling suit and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Mrs. Huyler, of New York, played and Miss Adelaide Porter sang "Calm as the Night." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Evelyn Rickman. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin left for a wedding trip to the south and upon their return will make their home with Mrs. Franklin's parents. Mr. Franklin has been connected with his father-in-law's business firm here for several years.

AT THE "MOVIES"

Henry B. Walthall and Mary Charleston in "Burning the Candle" will be the chief attraction at the Galax today. "Burning the Candle" is said to reveal Henry B. Walthall in another highly emotional role. The story is that of a young man whose one great weakness drags him into the depths of degradation. He is seen first as a happy youth in love with a beautiful girl in their southern home. Accepting a position in a New York cotton broker's office, he weds the girl and the bridal couple journey to the metropolis and their happiness. Then an inherent intemperance suddenly seizes him. Transformed into a craven wretch, he loses first his position, then his wife. The heart-broken wife returns home. But though sunk to a low state, the flame of love still smolders in his breast. It flares out suddenly when he reads a newspaper report of his bride again being seen in the company of his former rival for her heart. All the grim consequences of his weakness is revealed luridly before him in their true state. He conquers and regains his respectability, then his position. When he enters the broker's office to resume his work, his loyal wife is there awaiting him, ready to begin life anew.

The Galax orchestra and pipe organ have arranged a special musical program for this feature picture today.

AT THE PRINCESS. The fifth installment of the serial photoplay, "Patria" will be shown at the Princess today. This continued photoplay has proven to be one of the best that has been shown in Asheville. Mrs. Vernon Castle is seen in the title role. The fifth chapter which will be shown today is called "The Isle God Forgot" and is shown in two parts as usual. One chapter of "Patria" is shown at the Princess every Saturday in connection with other high class photoplays. Today a Lonesome Luke comedy and a Mutt and Jeff comedy will be shown in addition to "Patria." Mrs. Vernon Castle's ability as a swimmer has already been shown in previous chapters of this serial photoplay. In the fifth chapter she is said to escape from her foes by diving boldly into the sound and swimming under water to escape the bullets sent after her. She is finally rescued far from shore by a hydroaeroplane. It is the first time that a hydroaeroplane has been used in rescue work.

AT THE STRAND. Miss Margarita Fischer will be seen today at the Strand in the five-part photoplay, "Miss Jackie of the Navy," as the chief attraction while the fourth episode of "The Crimson Stain Mystery" entitled "The Bloodhound" will also be shown. The situations in this latest episode of the serial, which has been proving popular with the patrons of the Strand, are said to be more exciting than ever. Maurice Costello and Miss Ethel Grandin are the co-stars of this continued photoplay. Miss Margarita Fischer was seen some time ago in "Miss Jackie of the Navy" and owing to requests to return this film, the management decided to do so. In this Mutual production, Miss Fischer proves herself versatile, in that she portrays the role of a jolly Jack tar aboard one of Uncle Sam's "big fighters." Miss Jackie of the Navy is said to be as instructive as it is entertaining on account of more than two reels being taken up with scenes aboard the battleship, where Miss Fischer gets off many stunts unknown to many other stars. She is said to indeed prove herself both charming and versatile in this play. The Strand orchestra will accompany both features today with appropriate music.

Mrs. M. F. Teague has returned to her home on Woodfin street after spending several months in Texas and Florida.

Mr. R. F. White, of Washington, D. C. has returned to his home after spending several weeks in Asheville.
