THE ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING

___BY-THE CITIZEN COMPANY, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

CHAS K ROBINSON. Editor
JOE L BAKER. Managing Editor
GRAY GORHAM. City Editor

Entered at the postoffice Asheville, N. C., as secon class matter under act of March 5, 1879.

TELEPHONES Q Editorial Rooms 207 Business Office 80.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

(By Carrier in Asheville and Suburbs) Daily and Sunday, 1 week, in advance......

(By Mail in United States.)

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dis-patches credited to it or not otherwise cred-ited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE he E. KATZ SPECIAL ADVERTISING AGENCY 5-13 East Twenty-sixth street, New York City. 124-925 Harris Trust Building, Chicago, Ill., and 13 Waldheim Building, Kansas City, Mo.

Buncombe's War Memorial.

The Kiwanis club has done a public service in erable exchange of ideas on the subject soon after efore any definite recommendations were made.

d it should not be settled in the haste that might ment. ean repentance at leisure. Whatever is done in morial is based on some ideal which will have a universal appeal to human nature, there is dan- tween the Mexican people and their government ger that what is erected now will seem inade- than he found it with regard to Germany. There quate 100 years from today. This memorial can- is no evidence that Carranza has done anything not be something which the men and women of in Mexico to make himself loved or respected by the next century can change; it is to be the con- his people. An invasion would almost certainly tribution of this generation to a cause which is unite all factions against America, but the qu-

Municipal league has asked for "an open competi- that his successor could give Mexico a strong govtion in ideas" and "a competent jury of artists ernment and one able to develop the country's reand architects" to decide the nature of the memo- sources and educate its citizenship. rial. This suggestion might well be adopted here by the Kiffin Rockwell post of the legion, and by various clubs and other organizations interested in civic undertakings. Last year the Fine Arts' federation of New York expressed the ideal which the past six weeks yesterday at Indianapolis. Alshould be kept steadily in mind in selecting the though Acting President Lewis and Secretary of this sort. It is their privilege and duty to commenced and the second operate with others in leading crusades against memorial, saying that it should "be to the great- Green, of the Mine Workers' union, have accepted est possible extent representative of the expressed President Wilson's proposal so far as they were ideas, desires and sentiments of the great body of concerned, the executive board held conference fighting for moral and social progress. For this our citizens of all classes."

There will be, as there have already been, many this issue will continue to be the obstacle to agree- hours. Just why there is delay is not easy to say. ment, and agreement ought not to be accepted un- To continue the strike would mean, as the Presitil after the most careful and painstaking study dent says in his statement to the miners, a strike and expression of opinion. On this point it can to force the government to increase the public only be said here what the memorial should not coal bill after the cabinet had agreed that the be: it ought not to be some civic necessity has public is paying enough for coal. tened to completion under influence of the desire suggestion of opportunism or expediency in a then face serious competition. matter which calls for unique tribute to a sacri- But that competition the operators will probably fice which will receive unique consideration have to face no matter what settlement is made throughout all the ages to come. It should also of their controversy with the workers. After this be agreed by everybody that none but artistic winter's experience with coal shortage, every estalent of the highest order should be entrusted tablishment that finds it practicable will install with the work, whatever, the form shall be, and oil furnaces or Diesel engines. The instability of If these considerations require more money than the working week and the demand for coal will can be subscribed now the program should be be further upset and soft coal mining will prob-

Men have always believed, and probably always tific basis a year from today. will believe, that to offer one's life for one's counpassed by the fact that he was the author of production any time soon. Prometheus, Bound and Agamemnon and recorded that he had fought for his country against the forms of beauty and dignity that men today woman should retain that mystery and elusiveness acknowledge as the height of human achieve- which has always been the secret of her power ment in commemorating valor and devotion to over the lords of creation. the state. The present generation owes it to itself and to its heroes to build a memorial, whatever woman for a time. But economic causes and its form, that not only will endure, but will be theories which have caused men to band together worthy to endure.

Campaigning in the Ninth.

sampaign methods in the Ninth district as evidence that democracy is having the fright of its life in that contest. As proof the people are asked to look at the array of speakers who are lending their efforts to elect Clyde R. Hoey, Secretary Daniels, Tom Heffin, Senator Simmons, Morrison and Gardner and others, who have spoken or will speak in behalf of Hoey.

On the other hand Candidate Morehead has announced that he will not make any speeches, although he is conducting a gum shoe canvass of the district. Reports from Madison and other counties say that Morehead has stirred up more activity among the republican workers than anybody can remember to have seen in the ninth. It is said that expense money is not to look for, that the lid has been taken off the barrel and the bung knacked out. Fords carrying personal workers are snorting their way into the uttermost parts of Mitchell, Madison, Yancey and the boys are being maked on to roll up a republican tidal wave.

It may not be so spectacular; it is calculated not to, but those who gother the improvion that the republicans in the ninth are not working their machinery night and day "to break the solid south" are not yet informed of what is going on.

A difference in campaign methods, one might say. Yes, and one can sympathize with Mr. Morehead's reluctance for stump-speaking after Dr. Moses of New Hampshire has announced his antisouthern methods of "purifying the electorate." What Hefin has told the Nnith about the Moses plan to reduce southern representation in congress can undoubtedly be best and most satisfactorily ilscussed by republican leaders in heart to heart talks rather than on the forum for all men to hear.

The democrats have some things to tell the oters and they are telling it out where everybody may hear. While Morehead and his lieutenants may not be making public attacks on the administration, the charges made by republican congress-Daily and Sunday, 1 year, in advance.....$7.00 men and republican newspapers are being retailed Daily and Sunday, 3 months, in advance..... 1.95 over the district by efficient workers. This propaganda ought to be answered, and the democratic candidate and his friends are answering them on

Senator Fall makes out a strong case against | analysis. President Carransa, the "first chief" who claims to have brought peace and plenty to Mexico. Unless the New Mexico senate has been made the agent of a frame-up against Carranza, the Mexican president has been plotting with I. W. W.'s and other radicals to bring about a revolution in the United States that would among other things restore to Mexico territory she lost in the war of 1848.

According to the evidence submitted by Senstor Fall. Carranza shows no more knowledge of conditions in the United States than the German rulers did in the early days of the war. Carranza is represented as staking his hopes, along with the reds, in the strikes and general disorder that were to come to a climax in this country November 1.

President Wilson had apparently not read the Fall disclosures when he wrote to the senator disapproving of his resolution in reference to breaking off relations with the Carranza government. reviving the discussion of what form Buncombe At any rate he deferred whatever recommendasounty's war memorial should take. After consid- tions he may have on the Mexican question for a special message. Unless he has very radically the armistice, the community dropped the subject changed his convictions, the President is still opposed to American interference with the Mexican There is plenty of time to decide this matter, people's efforts to establish a sure enough govern-

If the charges against Carranza are true it will his respect will have to stand the critical judg- of course, be impossible for this government to of future generations. And unless the continue its official recognition. But it will be easier for Mr. Wilson to make a distinction beforced exile of Carranza would not cause any re-In New York the American legion is holding grets among the majority of the Mexicans. But referendum on this question; the Woman's as to deposing Carranza, there is also little hope

Miners in No Hurry.

Having given the country several disappointments, the miners kept in line with the record of to control both.

Society has a right to expect college men to help all afternoon without reaching agreement.

At today's meeting the miners' board will probconflicting views presented. The divergence of ably announce its acceptance of the President's opinion has arisen over the issue of art or utility; terms and the miners should be at work inside 24

The operators, contrary to general belief, are to have it said that Buncombe acted promptly in opposed to higher prices on their commodity. establishing a memorial of her sons who fell in Higher coal prices will cause industries to substi- Louisiana State university. the war. There should be in the memorial no tute fuel oil for coal and the operators would ably be on the same unsatisfactory and unscien-

But the question for answer now is when will try in war is the supreme service that the citizen the miners go to work. The public had reason can render to his country. When the Greek poet to expect a favorable answer yesterday, and the Asschylus wrote his epitaph in his old age, he delay does not promise well for peace and normal

If the political ideals of Mrs. Vanderlip are fol-Persians at Marathon. It was with such feelings lowed by enfranchised woman, the women will about service in war that the Greeks and the Ro- hold the balance of political power in the United mans recognized the deeds of their soldiers in States. Mrs. Vanderlip believes that in politics

Such a program may be possible for the new for political action will tend also to make women act together for the achievement of the ends they believe in. If they can resist the desire for political Republican newspapers dwell on the democratic power for its own sake and hold fast to the moral ideal of reform through independent action, woman suffrage will become the blessing that its most ardent advocates have claimed for it.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

AN OPEN LETTER ON LYNCHING.

A few years ago there was organized in the south what is known as the University Commission on Race Questions. This commission has just issued four open letters to the college men of the south The first of these deal with lynching and should be pondered by all who prefer civilization to barbarism and government by law to the unrestrained imand government by law to the unrestrained im-pulses of the mob.

I heard an ex-judge say not long ago that the indifference of "good citizens" to the inforcement of law is appalling and bodes ill for our boasted democracy. We must make democracy safe for the world by arousing and creating public sentiment. enclose the open letter on lynching.

R. F. CAMPBELL. Asheville, December 8.

than rob its victims of their constitutional rights and of their lives. It simultaneously lynches law and justice and civilization, and outrages all the finer human sentiments and feelings.

The wrong that it does to the wratched victims is almost as nothing compared to the injury it does to the lynchers themselves, to the community, and to scalety at large.

to society at large. Lynching is a contagious social disease, and as such is of deep concern to every American citizen and to every lover of civilization. It is especially of concern to you, and you can do much to abolish it.
Vice and crime know that their best, though unconscious and unwilling allies, are luke-warmness and timidity on the part of educated "good" citizens.
Wrong is weaker than right, and must yield whenever right is persistent and determined.

It is, of course, no argument in favor of lynching, nor can we derive any legitimate satisfaction from the fact that it is not confined to any one section of country and that the victims are not always it quickly becomes a habit, and, like all bad habits deepens and widens rapidly. Formerly lynchings were mainly incited by rape and murder, but the habit has spread until now such outrages are com-mitted for much less serious crimes. The records of lynching for 1914, compiled by three different agencies, give the total number for the year at 52, 54, and 74, the authority for these figures being Tuskegee institute, the Chicago Tribune, and the Crisis, respectively.

The conflicting reports can not be harmonized, but, to avoid any possibility of exaggeration, we may employ the most conservative of these for

It reveals these facts: Number lynched-colored. male 46; female, 3; white, male, 3; female, 0.

Crimes charged against victims: Murder, 13; robbery and murder 6; robbery and attempted murder, 1; suspected of murder, 1; rape, 6; attempted rape, 1; killing an officer, 5; wounding officer, 1; murderous assault, 3; alleged murderous assault, 1; killing an officer, 1; 1; biting off a man's chin, 1; accused of wounding a person, 1; killing person in quarrel, 4; beating child to death, 1; trying to force way into woman's room, 1; stealing shoes, 1; stealing mules, 1; stating fire to barn, 2; as stating a man to escape who had wounded another, 1; being found under a

The three women were lynched for the following reasons: One, 17 years old, for killing a man who, it was reported, had raped her; the second was accused of beating a child to death; the third was accused of helping her husband set fire to a barn. But the last case both husband and wife were lynched. The three women were lynched for the following In the last case, both husband and wife were lynched in the presence of their four-year-old child.

It should be especially noted that of the fifty-two persons lynched, only seven—two white and five colored—or 13 per cent, were charged with the crime against womanhood. This shows clearly how far and how quickly the habit has spread beyond of colors if that seat is bought and the bounds set by those who first resorted to lynching as a remedy.

According to states, the lynchings were distributed as follows: Alabama 2, Arkansas 1, Florida 4, Georgia 2, Louislana 12, Mississippi 12, Missouri 1, New Mexico 1, North Dakota 1, North Carolina 1, Oklahoma 2, Oregon 1, South Carolina 4, Tenness

Texas 6.
The same agency which reported fifty-two lynchlings for 1914 makes the following report for 1915; suells that honor.

Number lynched—colored, male, 51; female, 3;— It was Michigs white, male, 14; female, 0. Total 68. This is an of sending rich report of 16, or 30 per cent, over the total num-

According to states, the lynchings for 1915 were distributed as follows: Alabama. 9; Arkansas. 5; get to the senate because he Florida, 5; Georgia, 18; Illinois, 1; Kentucky. 5; rich man. Other senators from Louislana, 2; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 2; Ohio 1; gan owed their seats to their coklahoma, 3; South Carolina. 1; Tennessee, 2; Omar D. Conger, a poor man, go

It is worthy of note that in at least four cases it

Have we not sufficient legal intelligence and ma- he was conspicuous and picturesque. to take care of every case of crime com-Must we fall back on the methods of the jungle? Civilization rests on obedience to law which means the substitution of reason and deliber which means the substitution of the passion. It is easy them in the action for impulse, instinct, and passion. It is easy them in the action for impulse, instinct, and passion. It is easy them in the corrupted the electorate and tempting to obey the latter, but to be governed ideals." Who corrupted the electorate and tempting to obey the latter, but to be governed in with money employed to bribe voters. The damning heresy that the end justifies the means has been accepted justifies the means has been accepted in the college man's opporand action. Herein lies the college man's oppor-justifies the means has been accepted tamity to serve his fellows; to interpose deliberation by vast numbers of our citizens, elders between their impulses and action, and in that way in the land and conspicuous for many in moulding opinion and shaping conduct in matters crime and mob rule and for law and civilization. The college man belongs in the front rank of those reason the University Commission makes its first appear to you and urges you strongly to co-operate with the press, the pulpit, the bar, officers of the law, and all other agencies striving to eliminate this great evil, by speaking out boldly when speech is needed and letting your influence be felt against it in decided, unmistakable measure and manner.

Signed: the School of Education, University of Alabama

versity of Arkansas. James M. Farr, professor of English, University

R. J. H., DeLoach, professor of cotton industry, University of Georgia. William O. Scroggs, professor of sociology,

W. L. Kennon, professor of physics, University of Mississippi. E. C. Branson, professor of rural economics, University of North Carolina. Josiah Morse, professor of philosophy, University

James D. Hoskins, dean of the University of S. Sutton, professor of education and dean of the School of Education, University of Texas.

W. M. Hunley, professor of economics, Virginia Military institute,

THE SCISSORS ROUTE

RECKLESS SPENDING.

(Winston-Salem Journal.) War heritage and profiteering are not the only causes of the excessive cost of living. A third cause, reckless spending, is largely concerned. For the reckless spenders egg the profiteers on. They encourage them to believe that they can get away with any amount that they may choose to demand. cause, reckless spending, is largely concerned. For the reckless spenders egg the profiteers on. They encourage them to believe that they can get away with any amount that they may choose to demand. The illuminating story is told of a Boston hosiery manufacturer who, when the council of national defense issued its proclamation, adopted the expedient of raising the price of silk and lowering the price of cotton hose. He thought this a patrioric thing to do and would help the people of moderate means. To his astonishment during the moderate means. To his astonishment, during the succeeding three months he sold twenty-five per cent. more of silk hose and about twenty per cent. less of cotton.

It is not merely the wealthy who demand the best at any cost. The passion of extravagance seems to have seized large masses of the people. To many of these the war brought increased wages and they fail to realize that owing to the high prices they are no better off. Many others are mere victims of the manla for extravagance. Still others purchase in the panic fear that if they do not pay whatever is asked now they will have to pay more next week or next month. It must be admitted that there is good reason for the existence of the class last named, but they are making a mistake. The widely noted "orgy of spending" adds fuel to the flames. Unquestionably the of minimum spending and economical waiting is best both for the individual and for the country. For this policy widely followed can not fail to help bring down prices and restore normal conditions.

TOBACCO.

But tobacco has lots of friends. It may not be any too healthy and may not contribute to the highest development of the human experiment, but millions and millions of people find their patience millions and millions of people find their patience with life materially supported by it. It smells had in some forms to some people, but it ruins no families. It costs money, but workingmen do not blow in their week's earnings on Saturday night in cigar stores. It injures some people but destroys few, and is regarded by many as probably beneficial. The W. C. T. U. may be game to fight it and annihilate it if possible, but the W. C. T. U. is not really a very formidable concern. The Anti-Salcon league, which has a lot of punch, will think a long time before it starts to knock out tobacco.

If the millennium comes, tobacco will probably

Asheville, December 8.

This letter is not written to convince you that lynching is a crime. for you know it already. Its chief is to urge you to show others whenever opportunity presents itself that lynching does more

SAVOYARDSVIEWS

THE ACCUSED STATEMAN.

Truman H. Newberry appeared on the floor of the United States senate the first day of the session and his republican colleagues gave him an ova-tion." Mr. Newberry had just been in-dicted by a grand jury having juric-diction of the matter on a charge of the dignity of felony, viz., the pur-chase for cash paid down of his seat in the senate from Michigan. His ad-versaries charge that he and his versaries charge that he and friends paid a million dollars for it, while they admit it cost them about

$176,000.00 Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge was conspicuous among those who rapturous-ly hailed Senator Newberry and hugged him in affectionate gratulation and well he might, for it was New berry, the plutocrat, no less than La Foliette, the pro-German, whose sup-port enabled Mr. Lodge to "handpick" the foreign relations committee and slect himself chairman thereof, where by he succeeded in dealing stilletto blows to the treaty concluding the world war. It is meet that Mr. Lodge get authority from such source as he did to play the fantastic tricks he has with the hopes and fears of good men

Not only does the indictment charge Senator Newberry with corruption o voters, but it accuses him of fraud in the record and count of the votes Newberry claimed last winter that he knew nothing of the transaction, that he was utterly ignorant of the conduc of his friends in his behalf, and that if money was illegally employed to secure his election he was utterly unaware of the fact. There are down-right folk who believe that a man as gulleless and as innocent as Mr. New States.

eral senate is a miscreant of all sorts of colors if that seat is bought and paid for with filthy lucre. The mur derer deals himself a greater harm than he bestows on the victim of his dagger; the seducer of female inno cence debauches himself to an infi-nitely greater extent than falls to the dupe of his lust. And the man who buys political honor is incalculably more deprayed than the voter who

It was Michigan that set the fashion of sending richmen to the senate. There were rich men in the senate before Zach Chandler got there, but Zach Chandler was the first man to Other senators from Michigan owed their seats to their money.
Omar D. Conger, a poor man, got to be senator from Michigan because two or three multi-millionaires bid for the later was discovered that the victims of the mob seat to a deadlock that amounted to were innocent of the crime of which they were exhaustion. Old Conger vegetated in accused. at the other end of the capitol edifice > dealt all too leniently with miscreants in both political parties, but most of them in the "Party of Great Moral Ideals," who corrupted the electorate virtues otherwise.

I'll try to illustrate by a citation from French history. In his old age Louis XIV., "the Grande Monarcque," Louis XIV., "the Grande Monarcque," resolved to cheat the devil of his own by a plous life. Under the tutelage of "Scarran's Widow," to whom he was morganatically married, the old misereant became enormously religious. She it was who persuaded him to the iniquity of revoking the Edict of Vantes, an act as ruinous as it was horrible and stupid. The king spent most of his waking hours in prayer. most of his waking hours in prayer, and the French court, lately the most brilliant and dazzling the he School of Education, University of Alabama.

D. Y. Thomas, professor of political science, University of Arkansas.

Saw, became gloomy and forbidding. Piety was the only wear. Some nobleman whose name I do not recall was suggested to the king for ambassador to Spain. The old despot shook his head, with the objection that the candidate was a "vile Jansenist," non-conformist sect, and Louis w extremely orthodox.

The candidate's fliends rallied around and represented to his majesty that so far from being a Jansenist, the candidate utterly repudiated the Christain religion. Then a complacent smile came over the aged countenance of the king, and he relented with this:
"I am glad to know it. He is one of my favorites. Let him be appointed." And so he was

And so he was.

And in our country, good men of both parties view the party opposed to them just as the old king ylewed the Jansenists, and they condone even bribery of the electorate if it is a means of success at the polls.

In Newberry's case it is admitted that $176,000.00 was expended on his

of Michigan half as much.

The democrats put Newberry's boodle fund at $1,000,000.00. Newberry will be tried, all right, but as the thing is in politics up to the hub of course there will be no conviction by a jury; but public opinion will pass on the case, and you can depend on it New berry's punishment, if guilty, will be condign. Not only is his seat the costliest in money the senate ever knew, but it will be even more costly in infame. Washington, December 6.

Daily Reminder

"IN THE DAY'S NEWS."

who, without collegiate education, found his way into the profession of law. Resident for awhite in Texas, he arrived in Oklahoma in 1901, when it was first coming into possession of the whites, and prior to its formation as a state. He at once entered into politics, attained recognition as a democratic leader, and in due corrse was elected to the territorial legislature. When Oklahoma was admitted to statehood, and had to decide upon its representative in the upper house of congress, Mr. Gore won in the state primary, took his seat in December, 1907, and has been one of the state's senators ever since. He now has a tenure until 1921.

MAKE YOUR OWN SUCCESS-HELP YOURSELF

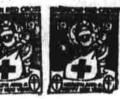

Thrifty people find a Savings Account with this institution a big help in accumulating funds for future use.

No matter where you live, you can deposit your savings with us, forwarding them by mail if you cannot call personally. Be ready to meet life confidently by putting your thrift impulse to the test.

WACHOVIA BANK & TRUST CO

Capital and Surplus, $2,000,000. . Member Federal Reserve System.

BUY THESE LIBERALLY

FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

The Only National Bank in Asheville 4% on Savings and Certificates of Deposit. Travelers Cheques and Foreign Exchange Issued

RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

If a Doctor wants a book on a special subject, he can't read it first, but must buy it on the strength of the Authors recognized authority on that particular subject.

Peerless and irons are recognized the standard in style, grace and beauty and you don't have to buy to see them. We have them on display and invite your inspection."

BROWN HARDWARE CO + + 25 BROADWAY . PHONES 2586 AND 2587 +

The first small Sedan finished as well as the expensive ones. Don't buy until you see it.

OVERLAND-ASHEVILLE SALES COMPANY

12-16 E. Walnut

Phone 2967

Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, who today enters upon his 50 year, has the distinction of being the first blind man to sit in the United States senate. Senator Gore is a native of Mississippi

TODAY'S ANNIVERSARIES Eugene Sue, the French novel-ist, who made $13,000 a year from his books, bora in Paris-

Senator Zachariah Chandler of Michigan, who was chairman of the republican national committee that conducted the Hayes presidential campaign, born at Bedford, N. H. Died in Chicago, November 1, 1879. KILLING 'BILLY' DANSEY Chicago, November 1, 1879.

Lafayette was welcomed to the HAMMONTON, N. J., Dec. 8 .-Lafayette was welcomed to the house of representatives in an address by Speaker Clay.

—Wyoming gave women the right to vote and hold office.

—A great financial panic in Newfoundland was followed by the resignation of the government.

White, also was arrested charged with being an accessory after the fact.

Aspach in Alsace.

American relations with Austria reported near breaking point over killing of Americans on the Ancona.

American relations with Austria reported near breaking point over killing of Americans on the Ancona.

The body of three year old "Billy" T German merchant submarine nation-wide search had Deutschland reached Germany on the completion of her second trans-Atlantic trip.

1917—Roumania officially reported the conclusion of a three months' armistice with the Germans.

Billy Dansey.