West of Wilton, Mrs. W. E. McKelvie of Reidsville, Mrs. E. N. Carr, Misses Janie Lyerly, Lillian Field, Grace Patrick, Dixon, Edith Plank and Gertrude Finger. An hour or more was spent in sewing, after which a delicious course of refreshments were served.

Miss Katherine Clement entertained twelve of her friends Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. H. L. Bushong of Washington, D. C., guest of Mrs. A. L. Whitener. The guests busied themselves with hemming cup towels for an hour, when the work was judged by Misses Bobbie Foster and Dorothy Ivoy who awarded the prize for the best work to Miss Sallie Hamilton and the booby prize to Mrs. Russell M. Yount. The towels were marked with the names of the guests and sent to Mrs. Lura Smith of Bishopville, S. C., recent bride and sister of the hostess. Miss Edward Clement assisted the hostess in serving a sweet course.

Miss Millie Kate McComb entertained the members of the Do As You Please club Friday afternoon with the regular weekly meeting. Miss Sadie Menzies and Miss Leahheart of Erie, Pa., were welcome visitors. A discussion of books exchanged and a number of selections on the Victrola made the afternoon most enjoyable. A delicious salad course was enjoyed by the guests. One of the most delightful dances of the mid-winter was held New Year's night when the young girls of the town entertained the young men and the young married couples of the social set. An out-of-town orchestra furnished the music and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. About one hundred couples were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Yoder have returned from Rochester, Minn., where they spent about a month. Miss Sadie Menzies entertained a few of her friends Friday evening in honor of her brothers, Sherrod Menzies of Bethlehem, Pa., and Henry Menzies of Virginia, who spent the holidays with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Menzies. Several enthusiastic games of rook were enjoyed, while Miss Leahheart of Erie, Pa., entertained her bearers with a number of piano selections. The hostess served a delicious course of refreshments in conclusion.

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Goode observed their nineteenth wedding anniversary with a reception in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon and night and hundreds of friends called to extend their best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Goode. The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and during the receiving hours many beautiful selections were given by the Edison. A number of young ladies served refreshments consisting of coffee and water. Mr. and Mrs. Goode were the recipients of many handsome gifts.

Tryon

TRYON, Jan. 4.—Mr. C. Y. Lynch went to Columbus, Ga. Tuesday. Mr. H. L. Bullinger was a business visitor in Asheville Tuesday.

Mrs. Chas. Grover, of Lynn, Mass., is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Missilline.

Miss Virginia Butler, after spending the holidays with relatives here, returned to her home in Atlanta, Ga.

Messrs. Robert A. Carruth and Frank Page, of Loudon, S. C., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Leonard Sunday.

Miss Mossie Edwards returned Sunday from a week's stay with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, of Mill Springs.

The studio at Lenoire was burned yesterday morning about 8 o'clock. When the fire was discovered it had gained such headway that it was impossible to save anything. The building and contents were a total loss.

Dr. M. C. Palmer announces that he has associated with him Dr. Allen James Jervey, formerly of Charlotte, S. C., for the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Jervey has leased the Business cottage on God-shope hill.

The Tryon Casino club was organized at a meeting held at Oak hall, Friday night. The club will repair and open the old Casino at Mimosa as a place of amusement. Billiard and pool tables, bowling alleys and dancing floor will be installed.

The clerk of the Superior court for Polk county has been for the past few weeks laboring on one of the largest documents of his kind that has ever gone on the records of Polk county. The document is the last will and testament of the late Mrs. Katherine C. Ferris, of Tryon. This document consists of 70 typewritten pages and conveys a large estate.

The Christmas tree held in the town hall for the mountain children was as usual a big success, about 140 being cared for, each receiving an orange, a bag of candy and a toy of some kind. Miss Beaten wishes to thank those who made it possible to have this gathering each year by their unselfish donations, also the girls of the Rainbow club, who ably assisted. The Helping Hand society, under the supervision of Mrs. John Orr, served coffee and cakes.

There has been a suit filed in the Superior court of Polk county against Mrs. Mary D. Osborne, executrix of the will of the late F. Hicks, by Y. C. Rams and others, for the purpose of having the will properly construed by the court. The plaintiffs allege that they are beneficiaries under certain clauses of the will, and the executrix has denied them of their rights under such clauses. The plaintiffs have employed Mr. Frank P. Spears, of Columbus, as their counsel, and the defendants are represented by Mr. John Robinson, of Charlotte.

THEATRICAL

"Pollyanna," a joyous four-act comedy, with a thread of wholesome sentiment and a healthy thrill of romance, will be seen here at the auditorium tomorrow night. The reports of its exceptional success in other cities have awakened keen and genuinely pleasant anticipation. "Pollyanna" is founded upon the famous glad-books of Eleanor H. Porter, that have sold by the hundreds of thousands. Catherine Chisholm Cushing, who has brought their characters and incidents to the stage, has written many successful comedies. The producers are Klaw and Erlanger and George C. Tyler, respectively credited with the presentation of many famous book plays; among them "Ben Hur," "The Garden of Allah," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "The Eternal City," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and "Daddy Long Legs." "Pollyanna" is the story of the girl of gladness who grows during the development of the comedy to radiant, prosperous well-poised young womanhood. She always finds something to be glad about and changes the viewpoint of a good many chronic grouches. Its merit, pathos and lessons of right living carry universal appeal. As an example of what substantial prosperity attaches to the comedy of this sort, "Pollyanna" is significant, for it is one of the real money-makers. It shows that theatre-goers are wearied by the dull, depressing drab things that occasionally overtake the stage and soon yearn for manliness. "Pollyanna" has been cordially welcomed and has attracted capacity houses wherever it was cast.

The cast that will present "Pollyanna" in this city is headed by little Viola Harper, perhaps the youngest leading lady upon the American stage, who will play the title-role. In the supporting cast are: George Allison, Garland Gaden, Alice Baxter, Katherine Weber, Helen Curney, Gertrude Rivers, Fanny D. Hall, A. W. MacCollin, William Blaisdell, Chas. S. Turner, Harold McArthur and others. Seats on sale at Paramount Drug store.

LOU TELLEGEN TONIGHT.

The appearance at the auditorium tonight of Lou Tellegen in his latest success, "The Lust of Gold," an event that has brought a great many lovers of spoken drama, will from all accounts, afford that gifted artist an opportunity to strengthen his hold on local admirers.

Lou Tellegen has so many claims to fame, it is hard to choose one to list first. His entire career on the stage has been for its distinct gain. He not only possesses a high order of talent, but that something that is even more winning—personality. He possesses that quality that it is hopeless to try to designate by any other word than magnetism. In his new play he is said to have a part that is especially fitted to his rare gifts and he has shown the good judgment to surround himself with the strongest supporting cast obtainable. Attractively of his calibre are seldom seen outside the Metropolitan cities. His appearance here will undoubtedly meet with the reception it deserves.

AT THE GALAX.

Geraldine Farrar and Lou Tellegen in "World and Its Woman." Al St. John Travlogue.

The offering at the Galax for today and tomorrow is one of the best ever shown at that good home of the silent drama. It is singular that Lou Tellegen, the husband of Geraldine Farrar, should be here in the spoken and silent drama on the same day. This will give the theatre-goers a fine chance to compare the merits of the two.

For the first time in her career Geraldine Farrar appears with her husband, Lou Tellegen. For the first time in her career Geraldine Farrar is backed by a super-production that is already astonishing moving picture goes throughout the country. The upheaval of royalty and how it affected each human heart was never so realistically depicted as in this gigantic Geraldine Farrar picture—a picture that will rank with the greatest you have ever seen. It is another triumph for "America's most talked of woman"—a photoplay that will hold your interest until "The End" flashes on the screen. Lou Tellegen, Al St. John appears here in a comedy, "Speed." This is the first appearance of this popular comedian here in a long time. The local management is pleased to state that he will be an attraction here tomorrow night and those who know him, need know the strength of his humor and fun.

A Burton Holmes Travelogue about interesting parts of the world, concludes its offering for Monday and Tuesday.

AT THE STRAND.

Clara Kimball Young in "Eyes of Youth."—Pathe News.

It is with a feeling of pride that the Strand management offers such a picture as Clara Kimball Young's "Eyes of Youth"; it is her most recent and best effort and it will please Sills, Ralph Lewis, Sam Southern and Edward Kimball all have important roles. The story deals with the problem of knowing the right thing to do—whether to sacrifice one's happiness for another or to choose the career that means the soul's highest development. That is the problem that confronts Gena Ashline. Her beautiful voice offers her a career in Paris, a rich, much older man wants her for his wife, and a young brother and sister, motherless, make a convincing home seem her duty. Which shall she choose—ambition—wealth or duty? And all the time there is Peter waiting for her, young and handsome Peter, who loves her and dreams of the future they shall build together. This picture is absorbing, dramatic, appealing.

Pathe News, the world of events before you, will complete the program beginning 12:20. The Pathe News will be shown at the Strand on Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

In the "Eyes of Youth," to be shown at the Strand Monday and Tuesday, Clara Kimball Young has the best cast of players that has yet characterized any of her productions. Gareth Hughes, Vincent Serrano, Pauline Starke, Edmund Lowe.

This program will be at the Strand today and tomorrow.

MRS. ROGERS' TROUBLES OVER

Georgia Woman Says That Padgett's Indian Herb Juice Entirely Relieved

Indigestion.

"I want to tell everybody about the wonderful good Padgett's Indian Herb Juice did for me," says Mrs. Mary Eva Rogers, who lives in Tennesse, Georgia.

"There has been times in the past year that I could not eat anything. I was in a mighty bad run-down condition, all tired-out and nervous, because I suffered so from indigestion, I could not find anything that tasted good to me and nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach. I could not sleep at nights because I was so restless and nervous and the least unusual noise would startle me and I would jump out of bed and tremble all over."

"I thought for a long time that I would never get well and I tried so many medicines and none of them did me any good. I was persuaded to try a bottle of Padgett's Indian Herb Juice and before I had finished the first bottle I could just feel the good it was doing for me. I began to sleep at nights and my appetite began to return and soon I was completely a well person. I am truly grateful for what Padgett's Indian Herb Juice has done for me, it is a wonder medicine."
