CAMPAIGN ON THRIFT WEEK OPENED SUNDAY

ADDRESS AT LOCAL "Y" BY REV. DR. McLARTY.

Local Association to Be in Charge of Plans for Carrying Out Work of National Thrift.

The local Y. M. C. A. started its program in connection with the National Thrift Week yesterday afternoon with a strong address by Rev. Dr. E. K. McLarty, pastor of Central Methodist church.

Rev. Dr. McLarty in his address yesterday afternoon spoke directly on the relationship of a man's money to his fellowmen.

"The Gospel of Jesus Christ is today receiving emphasized attention from men who are studying problems of every day life. Not satisfied with the promise of the solution of those questions which pertain to the charitable and moral and welfare conditions of society, we are commencing to see that it can be applied to the problems ordinarily called material. God seems again to have let down sheet from heaven to teach men that there is no distinction between the clean and the unclean. To all realms of action he has given the potentiality of being clean. When Warren Stone chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Homer Ferguson the employer of thousands of men and Bishop Williams, a great church leader, all agreed that the doctrines of Christianity were the only ones which would bring peace in the industrial world—as they did from the same platform in Detroit—it is a good illustration of the cosmopolitan trend of this conviction. In a more personal and possibly more commonplace realm—that of individual thrift—the case is equally clear. It has always been considered commendable to earn more than you spend. Emerson's dictum that the difference between the rich and poor man is, that of a man who earns twenty dollars a week and spends nineteen and the man who with the same income spends twenty-one has always been considered good fundamental philosophy.

The solvent state induced by thrift is necessary to the spiritual life because of its influence over others. The supreme test of a man's Christianity is the ultimate influence he has upon other lives. The society which surrounds us has our autobiography written into its records. It is an unflattering record which is written of the thrifless. His influence for good upon his own family is discounted. Be he ever so

ENLISTED SAILORS CAN TRY FOR ANNAPOLIS

100 Are Allowed to Enter Each Year, But Many Fail to Pass Required Examinations.

Every year 100 enlisted men of the navy are allowed to enter the naval academy at Annapolis. The largest number ever admitted in one year was 52. There has never been a lack of applications but the most of them have failed to pass the entrance examinations due no doubt to the lack of a real system of preparing the applicants for the examination. To remedy this defect the navy department has established preparatory schools at Newport, R. I. and at San Francisco to which the applicants are sent for three months' intensive study to prepare them for the examination.

The following are the requirements for entrance to the class that will enter Annapolis in 1921:

- 1. Must have passed eighteenth birthday and must be less than 20 years of age on April 1, 1921. 2. Must be able to pass a rigid mental examination. 3. Must be a citizen of the United States. 4. Must have had two years in high school or the equivalent education. 5. Must enlist in the navy before August 20, 1920. At the present time Ensign Wesley McL. Hagus, who entered the navy in 1915 as an enlisted man and who graduated as honor man in his class in Annapolis in 1919, is conducting a class of enlisted men preparing for Annapolis on board the battleship Oklahoma. These young men will be transferred on January 20, 1920, to one of the preparatory schools for three months intensive study. Men in civil life who secure congressional appointments to Annapolis must pay well for the preparatory study that is necessary before they take the examination. In the navy this course is absolutely free and in addition the men are well paid while undergoing instruction. There is no doubt but that the full allowed number of enlisted men will enter the academy in August of the present year.

Watches

In every class of merchandise there is a Standard that is always spoken of—compared to—and judged by. Our policy in every case is to secure just that line of standard merchandise for our customers. Until recent years it has seemed the policy of each European watch maker to produce a watch peculiar to himself. The Swiss watch makers of established reputation have, like their American brothers, standardized their models. The manufacturers of the celebrated Gruen Watches have now in their works watch makers from Switzerland to the end that they may furnish American watches made under Swiss supervision. We are now showing the most dependable makes—standard watches that have established reputations for accuracy and reliability.
