PRINCE OF WALES PRAISES THE U. S.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The Prince of Wales was the guest and spoke tonight at a large and enthusiastic dinner of the Pilgrims. More than 300 persons were present.

The prince reaffirmed his intention to revisit America, saying the best proof that one had enjoyed a visit was his earnest desire to repeat it. He remarked:

"I am still receiving a large amount of mail from the United States—and not all of it from the fair sex." Referring to the chairman's remark that the prince, after his tour, was again domiciled as a citizen of England, Wales said: "I hope I am domiciled as a citizen of the British empire."

DOCTORS UNABLE TO OBTAIN WHISKEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner, received complaints today that physicians were unable to obtain whiskey for treatment of patients. He said that only about 10 per cent of the druggists in the city had liquor licenses and declared that he would urge establishment of stations by the government where liquor could be procured for medicinal purposes by physicians. Many physicians, Dr. Copeland added, believe whiskey is essential in pneumonia cases.

He urged his "rich uncle." And thus insure your own self-respect and the respect of everybody else. Somebody is investing your money. It may be the stockbroker. Why not invest it yourself?

NED FINLEY READY TO SHOOT MOVIE SCENES

HERE TO MEET WIFE, WHO IS HIS LEADING WOMAN.

Troupe Now at Emeralds to Take "Blue Ridge Bandit"—To Be Series of Pictures.

New Finley, the man who discovered Western North Carolina for the motion picture producers, eight years ago, is in the city from Emeralds, where his company is now located, preparing to shoot a series of pictures. Mr. Finley came here to meet Mrs. Finley (Marion Henry) his leading woman, who will arrive from New York. In referring to the work last night, Finley stated:

"I brought another leading woman with me and she is a very clever actress, but somehow she could not get into the spirit of the mountains. I've loafed more on this trip than all my other trips combined, simply to allow my players to get into the genuine Blue Ridge atmosphere.

"I believe I have the very best character that has ever been put on the screen. I have been doing him out for over three years, and when I got him to what I considered a perfect characterization, I arranged to meet Hapsburg, Lieber, the very best short story writer in America. He came from the mountains of East Tennessee and knows what he is writing about.

"Then I got hold of George Plympton, who was a scenario writer for many years with the Vitagraph, located George at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga. He is an officer in the army. I told him he simply had to write my stuff even though he had to lay off the army for a few months. Well that was all fixed.

"Then I went on a hunt for a man to play my 'bandit.' I originally intended to play the part myself, but the loss of my hand stopped my acting career, now I don't laugh please, but you know I am a very good actor, in fact I will admit that I am the best in the world, so to get a man to fill my shoes or boots was some job, but as usual the good Lord stood by me and threw Dick King my way. I am conceited enough to think I can find actors and actresses. The lad had no screen experience, but that never gave me a moment's worry. If Lad King had only known how much I wanted him, he would have cost me a regular Bill Hart salary, but thank Heaven he didn't know. In the scenes he has played, he even went beyond my most brilliant indications, and it won't be long until the big concerns will be making him some accepting offer.

"Dick has the greatest asset in the world in any business, good or bad sense. Then I got to the place where you look for and generally find trouble a plenty. The leading woman. Of course I had bunches of them to choose from, but I wanted one who had to get the right one in the beginning of the series. The mountain girl hasn't so very much to do, but grows in importance with each picture and the average leading woman wants to be the whole thing right from the jump. Believe me old man I never did so much talking in all my life trying to tell all the Plorkfords how they would finish in a blaze of glory.

"I did not want Mrs. Finley to wear herself out trying to keep me in a peaceful mood, and having Ned, Jr. in New York, and finally selected a woman that I believed was the one. We came to North Carolina. The weather has been simply wonderful, but I could not get myself into the mood to go ahead and shoot. Something was wrong. My boys all jumped in and started working on the buildings we would need. No film in the world has such a fine bunch of actors as I have. They are for Finley first, last and all the good and will do anything for my success.

"Finally I began to think my trouble was with my leading woman. I have been very fortunate in selecting my people to bring down here and all the people of the Hickory Nut Gaps section loved Edith Storey and Mrs. Finley. They were all as nice as they could possibly be to the leading woman I brought this time, but there that indefinable something that didn't blend. So after many sleepless nights I concluded that I had located the trouble, and my leading woman is back on dear old Broadway, and the dearest woman on earth is on her way to make the 'Blue Ridge Bandit' pictures the greatest success of any two reels ever produced. Mrs. Finley has that wonderful serene personality that means everything, everybody loves her on and off the screen. In fact I kinder think that she is it myself.

"My whole cast of players are A1, each an artist. The 'Bandit' is the finest character you ever heard of. He is no bandit of course, a victim of circumstances, and always there with the big smile, all heart!

"You know I was very proud of my 'O'Garry of the Mounted Police,' but that character has O'Garry put in the shade, and now I'll have a chance to show up the scenic beauties of my pet country, Western North Carolina, as it has never been shown before, and in a very short time I expect to have my general office, laboratory, projecting room and may be even a bank at the beautiful Emeralds. I already have a job so tell your newspaper pals to be careful when they come over."

The vast energy, the millions of hands and brains of the nation, need capital. They are glad to pay for it. They can use small as well as large capital.

IRVIN S. COBB WILL LECTURE HERE TONIGHT

NOTED SPEAKER TO APPEAR AT AUDITORIUM.

Will Deliver His Famous Lecture, "Made in America."—Seats on Sale at Paramount.

Everything is in readiness for the appearance here this evening of Irvin S. Cobb, the noted lecturer, war correspondent and short story writer, who will give his famous lecture, "Made in America," at the City Auditorium, at 8:30 o'clock. Reserved seats for the lecture will be on sale all day today at the Paramount drug store and those who have bought tickets from members of the Rotary club, under who auspices the lecture will be given, can get them exchanged at the drug store for reserved seats.

The subject matter of the address to be delivered tonight, it is stated, will be drawn in its entirety from the experiences and observations of Mr. Cobb during and after the great war. The speaker spent a large portion of the five years' conflict on the actual scene of operations, visiting practically every portion of the western front before the conflict finally drew to a close.

Mr. Cobb is visiting Asheville as part of an itinerary which will carry him to about 50 of the larger southern cities, discussing in his lecture various phases of the results of the conflict and its effect upon the world. It is said tonight that this is his first appearance on an Asheville lecture platform.

OPERATOR AND 30 GALS. LIQUOR CAPTURED

C. C. Mason and Possemen Make Biggest Raid of the Year—Liquor Seizure Article Now.

Whiskey, regardless of the fact that it is of the well known moonshine variety, is such a rarity these days that the find of C. C. Mason, deputy United States marshal, with headquarters at Dillsboro, Jackson, who unearthed 30 gallons of liquor, captured an operator and destroyed a still, comes as the biggest raid of this year, by officers of this district.

Mason, accompanied by possemen raided a still in Jackson county yesterday, reporting that they caught the operator, seized 30 gallons of whiskey and destroyed the still. Despite the fact that the prohibition agents have been able to locate a number of stills, in practically every county in the west during the past few weeks, they rarely ever find liquor mainly for the reason that the operators remove the liquor just as fast as it is made, owing to the high price and ready demand that is always found for the whiskey.

Since the National Prohibition act became a law January 16, and all the United States is dry by law, a more stringent enforcement of the whiskey laws will be undertaken by the officers in all sections of the country and with the agents here, working in connection with the city, county and state officials plan to conduct such a vigorous campaign, that moonshiners, bootleggers and others who deal in liquor, will soon become as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

Select time-tried and substantial concerns in which to invest. Beware of promises of exorbitant profits.

DOCTOR SAYS ONE LUNG IS HEALED AND OTHER NEARLY SO

Urges patient to keep up the treatment that did the work.

"I had consumption of the lungs for six years. I had an outside screened-in sleeping room, and remained out in the open air nearly all the time. I used six raw eggs a day and about a gallon of milk. I had a great many hemorrhages and was just barely able to walk around the house a little.

"I began taking Milks Emulsion in Justin I have now taken six bottles and feel greatly benefited. My doctor examines my lungs the other day, and he said that one of them is entirely healed up and the other nearly so. He urges me to keep on using Milks Emulsion, which I intend to do. My original weight was 170 pounds. I have regained most of it, now weigh 160 pounds and feel almost as strong and strong as I ever have been. My regret is that I didn't hear of Milks Emulsion six years ago."—Grady Dees, Magnolia, Ark.
