

SURVIVED BY MANY GRAND-CHILDREN

Thomas Fletcher Drum Dies at Newton.

Leaves 120 Grand-Children and 98 Great Grand-Children.

(Special to The Citizen.) NEWTON, Feb. 17.—Thomas Fletcher Drum, one of Newton's oldest citizens, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Etta Coleman, in this city, at the age of 91 years. The remains were buried at Pisgah Methodist church, about ten miles from this city, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. P. W. Tucker, pastor of the Newton Methodist church, conducted the services.

Mr. Drum was the father of sixteen children, thirteen of whom are living. There are one hundred and twenty grandchildren and ninety-eight great-grand children. The grand total of living and dead posterity is 224. His wife nineteen years ago.

The deceased enlisted in Company I on April 1, 1862, and joined the 49th regiment at Raleigh, and went from there to Goldsboro. After drifting at Goldsboro for some time he went with his company, which formed a part of the 49th N. C. regiment, to Petersburg, and went into camp at Dunn's Hill. After leaving there he went to Richmond, arriving in time to take part in the Seven Days' Fight Around Richmond.

On July 1st he was in the thickest of the fight at Malvern Hill, where he received a severe wound in the thigh. After being wounded he lay all night on the battlefield in the hardest kind of rain. He was taken to a horse stall, in which he lay two days, after which he was moved to Richmond and placed in the hospital. After remaining there about a month he was given a furlough and sent home. After being at home a considerable time he returned to his company at Weldon, N. C., and remained with it until the close of the war. He took part in several hard-fought engagements. He was near the famous "blow-up" at Petersburg and was on the spot in a few minutes after it occurred. Mr. Drum was present at the surrender at Appomattox, where he received an honorable discharge.

Pretty Wedding.
A very pretty wedding occurred at the Methodist parsonage today at high noon when Mr. Benjamin T. Mitchell and Miss Della Mae Reeves, of Salisbury, were united in marriage. Rev. P. W. Tucker, pastor of the Newton Methodist church, performing the ceremony, the ring ceremony being used.

The bridal party arrived in Newton this morning on No. 11, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cahill, of Spencer, Mr. E. M. Kendrick and Miss Sadie Daniels, of Salisbury, and went to the parsonage, where the wedding took place. The bride was gowned in white satin and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. P. W. Tucker, the bridal party entered the parlor. This wedding was to have taken place at South Main Street Methodist church, in Salisbury, but owing to the church being closed on account of influenza, and the death of the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe, the young people came to this place and got a former pastor to tie the knot. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are among Salisbury's most prominent young people.

The bride and groom left on No. 15 this afternoon for a bridal trip to Key West, Florida. They will be at home in Salisbury after March 2nd.

Floyd Fincannon and Miss Gettie Boyles, of Hickory, motored to Newton this morning and were married in the office of the registrar of deeds. Rev. P. W. Tucker performed the ceremony in the presence of quite a number of friends of these young people.

SUM OF $100, 00 NEEDED TO REACH CHURCH QUOTA

The Presbyterian Campaign Fund Drive Short of Goal of $1,000,000.

By MAMIE BAYS. The carefully compiled figures at the headquarters of the "million dollar campaign for Christian education of the synod of North Carolina," which is located at Greensboro, show that to the present time $900,000 has been pledged during this campaign, thus making it necessary for additional pledges to the amount of $100,000 to be secured between this date and March 1, when the campaign will come to a close. This shortage is the goal of the campaign fund means that it will be necessary for pledges equal to a little less than a per centum of $1.75 from the 60,000 Presbyterians in this synod be secured within the next 12 days, in order that the 11 schools owned and controlled by the synod may receive their quota from this fund in order that certain additional gifts from outside sources, which are conditional, may be secured.

Emphasizing the close connection which must exist between the church and the school, if each is to help the other as it should, James A. Blaisdell, prominently known as a leader in the forces of Christian education in America, says "the college is on the firing line in the battle for a trained nation, the church is behind that line. We shall not be able to refashion the present world, making it clean and sweet and habitable, unless we make men ready for the life to come, unless the church and the college walk together," and the necessity for this cooperation between the church and the school is a feature that has outstanding prominence in this campaign in the interest of the schools of the synod of North Carolina.

SUFFRAGE LEADER STOPS IN RALEIGH

Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst Gives Out Interview.

Declares Women Must Aid In Checking Propaganda of Reds.

(By JULE B. WARREN.)

RALEIGH, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, noted suffragist of England, who started herself into the United States before the war stopped the activities of the militant suffragists in London, is spending the day at a local hotel, waiting to see if she is scheduled to speak, has been cancelled because of influenza. She was booked for a speech in Raleigh, but that meeting had to be cancelled because of the closing orders of the city health authorities.

With Mrs. Pankhurst are Miss Pine, and Mrs. Pankhurst are Miss Pine, nor shall we make men ready for the life to come, unless the church and the college walk together," and the necessity for this cooperation between the church and the school is a feature that has outstanding prominence in this campaign in the interest of the schools of the synod of North Carolina.

who nursed the noted militant through fourteen hunger strikes, and for which she received fourteen medals and Mrs. Dora E. English woman who is now making her home in New York City. Mrs. Pankhurst, a little woman, with pleasing speaking voice, with gray hair, looks anything but the militant suffragist. She was ready to talk, but not on the militant methods.

"That is past. It never was anything but the means to an end," the noted English suffragist said, in answer to a reporter's question about militant methods. "It served to make woman suffrage a practical political problem and took it out of the class of the 'fads.'" Mrs. Pankhurst said that woman's part in the war had won the victory for her, and that militant methods would no longer be necessary.

"Suffrage is not even the end," she said, growing enthusiastic. "Just the mere right to cast the ballot is not the big thing the women have been fighting for. With this victory practically won it is up to the women of the world to become good citizens."

Mrs. Pankhurst is not even talking of woman suffrage in her tour of the states. The general subject of her lecture is "The Woman Citizen and Bolshevism." She firmly believes it is up to the women of the country to stamp out bolshevism and red propaganda which she thinks has crept in through organized labor and is leaving its poisonous trail in many sections of the land. The men of England are worn to a frazzle. They have grappled with the bigger problems of the war until they are tired out. They should not be expected to do the major portion of the work in stamping out bolshevism. That job

HICKORY, Feb. 17.—Probably the saddest case yet reported in this section as a result of the influenza was the death of the mother and father in one family less than a week apart. Last Thursday Mrs. Raymond Hefner, aged about 30 years, died at her home in Clinch township of pneumonia and her husband died Saturday night of the disease. He is survived by three small children, the youngest being a week old. Mr. Hefner's father, Calvin Hefner, died two weeks ago.

What is declared to be the coldest weather of the winter settled over this section Sunday and sent the mercury down to ten degrees above zero Monday morning. The cold was accentuated by a stiff wind. The previous record for the winter was five degrees above early last month.

The influenza situation here continues to improve here, though five or six new cases are being reported each day. It is believed that the danger will be over by the end of this week.

NEGRO FINED $200 FOR HAVING LIQUOR

(Special to The Citizen.) WINSTON-SALEM, Feb. 17.—Otis Wilson, colored, of 218 West Thirtieth street, was fined $200 and the costs in a case this morning in which he was charged with having whiskey in his possession for sale. A six months' road sentence was also placed over him. Officers in raiding Wilson's house found thirteen one-quart fruit jars full of whiskey in the garage. Wilson stated that he bought the whiskey so as to be prepared for the influenza epidemic, paying $75 for it. He told the officers he hated to see the whiskey go because it was "awful good stuff." The whiskey was seized and if it is as good as Wilson said it was, it will probably be used in the treatment of influenza cases by the city hospital.
