AMERICAN-JAPAN FRIENDSHIP AIDED

Arms Parley Dissipates Clouds That Marred Skies of Pacific.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Shantung negotiations took another step forward today while all of the other activities of the arms conference were at a standstill.

Meeting for the 28th time since they began their separate conversations the Japanese and American negotiators met today for the preliminary moves looking to complete restoration of Kiao Chow territory to China.

At the same time there was apparent in some of the negotiators hope that the question of the Shantung railroad, the only point on which the two delegations have found themselves completely deadlocked, would be settled soon on the basis of American proposals.

The halting progress of the discussions, however, could not completely suspend the conference negotiations on other subjects, led to renewed rumblings of dissatisfaction from foreign delegations who are anxious to get home.

Conferees, however, were confident of a resumption of the sessions of the Far Eastern committee next week, although 24 hours before they had indicated that the committee would not reconvene until the Shantung problem had been solved.

Besides Shantung, the general Far Eastern issues constitute virtually the only remaining business of the conference, it being agreed that the Japanese and Chinese groups were fully occupied with the question of the Kiao Chow leasehold and that the Far Eastern committee could not go ahead without them.

In the background of the conference has appeared a suggestion that it might also help solve the remaining problems of the far east if the Shantung question first were put on the way.

It is evident, however, that not all the delegations agree with the American view. After nine weeks of discussion, and with important political developments shaping in the conference, it is not surprising that the Japanese and Chinese states are outspoken in their desire to avoid every unnecessary delay in the main tasks of the conference.

To what extent Secretary Hughes has become cognizant of the developments in the conference is not clear.

That some spirited clashes of opinion are to be expected when the Far Eastern meetings eventually are resumed is being more and more apparent as the various delegations are preparing to depart today.

Dr. Chung-Hui Wang, of the Chinese delegation issued a formal statement reaffirming the determination of China to press her requests for a conference discussion of the "twenty-one" demands and the objections of the Japanese.

Meantime among other delegations there developed evidences that not only the Chinese but also the British and American delegates are in favor of a conference discussion of the "twenty-one" demands.

JAPANESE DELEGATE SAYS FRIENDSHIP IS PROMOTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The advancement of American-Japanese friendship has been signally promoted by the Washington conference, Admiral Baron Tomonaga, chief of the Japanese delegation to the conference, said tonight in an address before the Japan society.

"In a few short weeks," he added, "we have dispelled the clouds that marred the naturally clear and happy skies of the Pacific."

"Two months ago," Baron Tomonaga continued, "we heard loose talk of possible war. Today we are contemplating an established peace."

Early in November the newspapers frequently used such phrases as "conflict of interests," "supremacy of the sea" and "menacing aggressions" today they are talking more in terms of "understanding," "accord" and "co-operation," and the principal criticism of Japan nowadays is that she does not agree quite as quickly as you make proposals for accord.

"Nor is this my friends phraseology. Critics may say that such declarations as we have been making at Washington were made a hundred years ago at Vienna, and subsequently at The Hague, and therefore, will amount to nothing. But that is not the case, for very definite reasons. In the first place, the several nations represented in Washington have given, by the concessions they have made to the views of others, tangible demonstrations of the earnestness of their intentions. Unless the spirit that actuates the people of these nations were deep-rooted in sincere desire, these concessions would not have been possible. Fortunately, the interests and the desires of the greater nations of the world are in accord; otherwise, the scrapping

Indictment Is Outgrowth of Armed March of West Virginia Miners

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14.—Frank W. Snyder, publisher of the Federationist, weekly publication, devoted to the interests of organized labor, was arrested late today by state troopers on a capias issued by the Logan county court, charging treason and conspiracy in connection with the armed march of miners from Kanawa county to Logan county last summer.

Snyder was taken to Logan tonight in the custody of troopers. The publishers was indicted by the Logan county grand jury yesterday, it was learned tonight, after the capias had been presented to the state department of public safety by a deputy sheriff from that county.

Isaac Scott, acting secretary-treasurer of District 19, United Mine Workers of America, also was arrested on a capias issued by the Logan county court, making an indictment against him similar to that issued for Snyder. Scott also left tonight for Logan in the custody of state troopers.

POSTOFFICE FOR ASHEVILLE INTERESTS ON BUILDING BILL

If Appropriation Is up Asheville Is on List, Weaver Says.

N. C. SENATORS FOR FARMER ON BOARD

Demand Started in Period of Deflated Prices of Cotton.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Representative leaders have not decided to permit the passage of a public buildings bill during this congress. They have been cutting out such expenditures for several years.

Representative John Langley, of Kentucky is chairman of the house committee on public buildings and grounds. He said today that he thought the party would be arrested on a capias issued by the Logan county court, making an indictment against him similar to that issued for Snyder. Scott also left tonight for Logan in the custody of state troopers.

Mr. Weaver said today he would use every bit of the influence he can muster to put through the Asheville bill if a public buildings program is carried through. He could not predict what the republicans would do.

The chances are that the republicans will not agree to an outlay for public buildings. Their appropriations are running high and they are being criticized.

Mr. Weaver said Langley is well disposed toward Asheville for Mrs. Langley is from there. She was a daughter of the late Representative J. M. Giddiger.

ASHEVILLE STANDS HINDERS FOR BUILDING

Mr. Weaver said tonight, "I have had the matter of the Asheville public building bill up with the house committee at different times. No such legislation has been allowed recently. The republicans are strong for the bill, but are steering committee work made up of this year. This much can be said, "If any public buildings are provided for, the one for Asheville is among the first on the list."

The demand for a farmer on the federal reserve board was aroused by the nullification of the Oregon measure in that direction. It has been growing ever since the deflation period started last fall a year ago and caught many cotton farmers with costly crops on their hands.

Senators Simmons and Overman are strong for the plan to have the fillers of the soil represented.

Senator Overman made clear his position today in a letter to North Carolina business men who had written him on the subject. He said that he had made his views known at various times within the last few months.

OVERMAN URGES TO SEND BILL BACK

Senator Overman has been urged by bankers and others back home to use his influence to send the bill providing for a farmer on the reserve board back to the committee on banking and currency.

Ireland Looking To These Men To Put Free State On Harmonious Working Basis

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The provisional government of the Irish free state is now a functioning body.

Final formalities for approving the treaty with England were carried out here today when, after an historic meeting in The Mansion house of representatives of the southern Irish constituencies, the treaty was ratified by the Eamon J. Duggan, Dublin cabinet, a copy of the treaty signed by the members of the new government was provided for in the terms of the peace pact.

Sixty-five members elected to sit in the house of commons in southern Ireland, attended the morning meeting. No women representatives nor any of the other adherents to Eamon de Valera, former republican president, were present.

First on the list of eight men appointed as constituting the provisional government is the name of Michael Collins, and it is assumed he will be made the nominal head of the government. However, the correspondent is authorized to inform that Arthur Griffith, as president of the dail eireann and chairman of the treaty delegation, that negotiated the treaty will be looked to as its supreme authority.

The ministers appointed to administer the provisional government include, with two or three exceptions, all the members of Mr. Griffith's republican cabinet. There is no room in the provisional government for the minister of foreign affairs, George Gavan Duffy, because foreign affairs are outside its scope. But Mr. Collins, Mr. Duggan and William T. Cosgrave, as well as other departmental heads, will be appointed to administer the provisional government.

HARVING GRANTS HAS PERMISSION TO QUIT CABINET

Postmaster-General Hays to Head $250,000,000 Corporation.

TO BE GIVEN SALARY $150,000 PER YEAR

Will Organize Sixty-five Film Producers Into Single Unit.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Postmaster General Hays to retire from the cabinet in the near future to become the directing head of an association of motion picture producers and distributors, was announced today at a conference here at the invitation of a conference between President Harding and the postmaster general.

President Harding in a statement declared he could not "well interpose any objection to Mr. Hays retiring from the cabinet to take up the work so important, while Mr. Hays stating he had decided to accept the offer of the motion picture interests, made it clear that as yet no contract had been executed. The postmaster general, however, expressed confidence that a satisfactory contract could be agreed upon.

Representatives of motion picture producers and distributors have been negotiating for the services of the postmaster general for some time and are understood to have outlined work to be done that they wish him to undertake. Within a few days he expects to confer again with them, probably in New York, and unless something unforeseen develops, it is expected that the contract will be signed at the meeting.

The date of his retirement from the cabinet Mr. Hays said, would depend largely on the wishes of his prospective employers. He declared, however, he would not take up his duties until the President has had time to select his successor. It was said at the White House that nothing would be done toward selection of a new postmaster general until Mr. Hays formally tenders his resignation.

FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

The postmaster general and I have been discussing at considerable length the possibility of my being made to him to become the head of a national association of picture producers and distributors. The arrangement proposed to be made is that I should take up a week's work for the public service.

It is a very important matter, and I am sorry to have him retire from the cabinet, where he has already made up his mind to stay. He has agreed to look upon the situation from the broadest viewpoint and seek the highest public good.

With the President's consent, I have decided to undertake the work suggested by the motion picture producers and distributors. I am assuming, of course, that a satisfactory contract will be made, and that the carrying out of the high purpose contemplated by this great industry.

NOT YET DECIDED

The postmaster general in discussing the matter informally said no decision had been reached. He decided on that matter being left open awaiting his negotiations with the motion picture producers.

Mr. Hays further discussing the proposition, informally expressed confidence that satisfactory arrangements could be made with the motion picture interests. He said that as soon as possible he would confer, probably in New York, with the motion picture producers and distributors, who have been negotiating for his services.

Mr. Hays refused to discuss the salary he would receive in his new position, but it has been reported as upwards of $150,000 a year. He said he would not discuss his friends, however, not to regard the salary as the controlling factor in his decision.

Mr. Hays stated at the White House that the question of a successor to Mr. Hays had not been considered by the President. He said he had definitely made his decision immediately there sprung forth numerous and varied reports. These included the names of Harry New, postmaster general from Indiana, Mr. Hays' home state; Dr. Humbert Work, present first assistant postmaster general; and William A. Stearns, Kansas city manufacturer and representative Stearns, of Minnesota, chairman of the house postoffice committee.

TO WORK FOR GOOD OF THE PICTURE INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—John M. Quinn, general manager of the Vitagraph Film corporation, today announced that the first duties of William A. Hays, should be to organize the motion picture men, who would be organized into a single co-operative unit of 65 American producing and distributing companies, with a total of more than $250,000,000. He said Mr. Hays' salary had been tentatively fixed at $150,000.

The new organization, Mr. Quinn said, probably will supersede the present National Association of Motion Picture Industries, of which William A. Brady is president. The latter association has a membership of 200 producing and distributing corporations, subsidiary industries and exhibitors.

Mr. Hays would undoubtedly be Mr. Quinn's chief adviser in the general good of the motion picture industry by setting before the public facts concerning it, to counteract the evil impressions gained by moving picture fans through circulation of false and harmful reports.

PUT RALEIGH BANK IN HANDS-STATE EXAMINER

RALEIGH, Jan. 14.—The Central Bank and Trust company, formerly the City bank, with a capital of $25,000 and deposits of approximately $200,000, was closed today with a notice posted on its doors announcing that the institution was in the hands of the state bank examiner.

Chief Bank Examiner Latham said he was not prepared to make a statement regarding the closing of the bank until he had completed his investigation of the books, but added that it was hoped the bank would be able to reorganize. It was learned in banking circles that the bank's difficulties were due to slow collections.

WASHINGTON, Va., Jan. 14.—Four Virginia cities, Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Petersburg, will face a strike of the car men of the Virginia Railway and Power company at midnight tomorrow night, unless steps are taken in the meantime to bring about a settlement of the controversy between the company and men arising out of a proposed cut in the wages of the men, effective January 16.

Officials of the power company announced today after a poll of the union men showed they overwhelmingly favored leaving the company rather than accept the cut.

Representatives of the power company announced they were prepared to handle the transportation situation in event the strike occurred. Representatives of the company state they will, as far as possible, fill vacancies in their ranks from the unemployed in Richmond.

VIRTUALLY SPELLS END OF THE SUPREME COUNCIL

M. Poincare, who has accepted the premiership to succeed M. Briand and tonight named his cabinet, stated it will be an entirely new cabinet today with the British prime minister, who came to Paris from Cannes especially for the purpose. M. Poincare, in a statement to the correspondents, declared that the virtual disappearance of the supreme council, although he admitted that it would be a great loss.

"There must be one final meeting of the supreme council to which all the allies should be invited, should the French viewpoint prevail, and I have good reasons to believe that it will be a great success. Britain is concerned. Let us hope our ambassadors settle these questions."

M. Poincare thought there had been too many meetings of the supreme council, and he desired to have a fresh start. A great deal of work will be done in the way of dealing between nations.

"My meeting with Mr. Lloyd George," he said, "was most amicable." (Continued on Page Two)

Number of Contributions Made Before Campaign Starts on Monday

The national campaign to endow the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, with a goal of one million dollars or more, will be officially launched tomorrow and during the past week a number of contributions have been made to the fund.
