RED RUSSIA TRANQUIL BESIDE REST OF WORLD

Opinion of American and Other Correspondents Seeing Crisis.

MOSCOW, Sept. 27.—American and Western European newspaper correspondents who have been in Moscow during the period of the railway and coal mine strikes in the United States; the renewed fighting in Ireland; the political crisis in Italy; and the troubles in Germany incidental to the fall in value of the mark, reached the conclusion that Soviet Russia was the most tranquil country in the world.

Under the iron hand of the proletarian dictatorship, strikes and disturbances such as the cables reported daily from abroad are impossible in Russia. So, while their colleagues in other countries were actively engaged in reporting wars, strikes and near-revolutionary demonstrations, the Moscow correspondents found little or nothing to do. The court trials and death sentences on the counter-revolutionists seemed mild in comparison with the news coming into Russia.

This tranquility was particularly surprising to the first French newspaper correspondents visiting Russia since the early days of the revolution. American newspapers for more than a year have had direct relations with Russia, but the French press has obtained its "news" of Russia by way of the "grapevine" route printing obvious fabrications indicating that bloodshed and horrors were continuous performances in every Russian city, even up to this day.

One French correspondent was so surprised to find Moscow calm and even attaining the gaiety of a metropolis—with brilliant cafes, crowded race courses and flower bedecked parks and glass full of smiling and well dressed promenaders—that he dressed his Parisian readers, accustomed to a different brand of Russian news, would not believe what he wrote.

NOTABLE WEDDING AT SALUDA BEING PLANNED

Haffenden-Coates Nuptials Are to Be Observed October 14.

(Special Correspondence The Asheville Citizen) SALUDA, Sept. 26.—A Fall wedding of interest throughout the Carolinas will be solemnized in Saluda October 14, when Miss Mary Coates discharges the bride of Mr. Charles Radcliffe Haffenden. Miss Coates is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coates, formerly of Macon, Ga., but now of Saluda. The wedding will take place in the Episcopal Church of Transfiguration at 8 in the evening.

Miss Coates is a member of one of Georgia's oldest and most prominent families and has numerous friends throughout the South. She is a graduate of Wesleyan College and a member of the Theta Tau Alpha Sorority. She later studied voice for two years at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. She possesses a beautiful lyric soprano voice of wide range. For the past two years she has been studying under George Ferguson in New York, and was preparing to take a course abroad this winter to complete her training.

Mr. Haffenden is a graduate of Trinity College, N. Y. At the outbreak of the war he qualified as Ensign in the Naval Reserve and rapidly rose to the rank of Lieutenant, serving two years in foreign waters. He still holds his commission in the First Battalion, New York Naval Militia. He is the only son of the late Myles Radcliffe Haffenden, London, Eng., and Mrs. Haffenden, of New York. After his discharge from active service he has returned to his real estate business in New York.

The bride will be given away by her father. The Maid of Honor will be Miss Elizabeth Wall, New Orleans. The bridesmaids will be Miss Margaret Cowan, Asheville; Miss Helen Estes, Gainesville, Ga.; and Mrs. Jennings Adams, Macon, Ga.

Mr. Fred Kellman, New York, will be best man and the groomsmen will be the groom's friends from New York. The ushers will be: Mr. John T. Coates, Jr., Harry Kendall, Macon, Ga.; Walter Stapler, Atlanta, Ga.; and Brown Hamer, Hamer, S. C.

Mrs. George Wyman, Boise, Idaho, will play the wedding march, and Dr. Donald Sanders, Spartanburg, will sing.

A reception will follow the ceremony at Breeze Point, the Summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Coates. Mr. and Mrs. Haffenden will spend several days at the Grove Park Inn, Asheville, and then leave for a trip to Bermuda. On their return they will visit the groom's mother in Flushing, N. Y., until their apartment in New York is completed.

105 CHURCH ACCESSIONS FEATURE BIG REVIVAL

First Methodist Church at Hickory Gratified at Great Success.

(Special Correspondence The Asheville Citizen) HICKORY, Sept. 26.—Rev. C. S. Kirkpatrick and the members of the First Methodist Church are congratulating themselves on the success of a two weeks' evangelistic campaign which came to a close with 105 accessions to the church, 86 of which were on profession of faith, and a pronounced increase of interest in the congregation. The local minister, who is closing his first year in Hickory, did all the preaching himself, the past week preaching twice a day. A large choir under the direction of Julian P. Moorman, of Knoxville, furnished the singing, aided by an orchestra. Large crowds attended each service.

The South Fork Baptist Association will convene in River View Baptist Church, Lincoln County, Thursday, and the First Church of Hickory will make the best report in its history. During the year 32 new members have been added to the church, which has raised for all purposes over $11,000 and the Sunday School has averaged more than 141 during the year. Rev. H. C. Whitener, Pastor of the Highland Baptist church, will deliver the annual sermon. Osborne Brown of Long Island is Moderator and J. F. Cline of Hickory, is Secretary.

Light showers late yesterday and today interrupted, it is hoped, a drought that has extended over a period of several months and that has put farmers so far behind with their fall plowing as to make a general sowing of wheat improbable. In this immediate section very little wheat land has been prepared and the condition is still worse farther West in Lincoln County, which adjoins Catawba, some farmers have prepared their lands, thanks to the occasional rains, but in Caldwell, to the North, it has been even drier around Hickory. Farmers say the dry weather has forced the cotton to mature and put it ahead of the boll weevil, which made its first appearance here several weeks ago.

The sweet potato crop will average little more than a third of a normal yield, though the corn and cotton yields will be good in this section.

Garden vegetables have almost disappeared from the market.

COMMUNITY FAIRS IN THREE COUNTIES AHEAD

(Special Correspondence The Asheville Citizen) HICKORY, Sept. 26.—Community fairs in three Counties—Catawba, Alexander and Caldwell—will precede the Catawba County fair next week when all the best products of farm and pantry and the sewing room will be put on exhibit. Last year several South Carolina farmers, hit hard by the boll weevil, visited community fairs in Catawba County to get a line on the system of farming here and more are expected this week. Quite a number will find an education in the large fair that will begin next Tuesday. Burke, Catawba, Caldwell and Alexander Counties will participate and a feature this year will be a larger exhibit of sheep. The fruit exhibit, short for several years, is expected to be the best ever shown. Good apples are obtainable here for 50 cents a bushel from wagons.
