

Lardner Finds Thrill In Football Guide

List of All-Star Elevens Gives Way to List of Gridiron Stars Who Have Won Success.
By RING LARDNER.

Amongst the books recently laid on the undersigned's desk for review is the 1922 football guide which generally always sells like hot cakes but will sell more than ever this yr. when the news leaks out about the new feature which they get in there namely a roll of honor which is a list of former players that has been successful in their business or profession and has showed in their after life that what they learned on the gridiron has helped them win success.

I'll confess at this pt. that when I first opened up the book I was disappointed on acct. of running across a item which said that the different all star left out of the book this time and we wouldn't never be able to find out who had been chose for substitute left tackle on the All-Boone County, Iowa 3rd eleven.

But the list which the boys has printed in place of those lists has not them best to death as far as interest is concerned to say nothing about the element of mystery which will strike every reader as they go over the list and come across the names of some of the famous athletes and their alma maters.

Like for inst. I am still personally dazed by the thrill I got from reading that Geo. Bungardner of Morris Harvey college was now with the C. & O. Railroad. Of course you remember Geo. and the day his 24 drop kicks sent the Morris Harveys home triumphant over the brindle and blue of the Colorado Institute of Tuna Fishing.

Another item that throwed me into a fever of surprise was the one about Eugene Hager of Huren now a concert singer in Chicago. It vividly recalled that breezy Saturday P. M. in the winter of 1889 when Eugene picked up a fumbled punt and raced 25 miles for the touchdown that humbled the cauliflower and gray of the South Dakota College of Instruction in Removing Callouses on the Feet.

How Young Studebaker Got His Start.

What a great many readers will regret is the guide's failure to state just what part football played in the success of the above and other agents on the list and I am sorry I can't satisfy your curiosity except in a few cases where I happen to have heard details of same.

One of these cases was Snake Ames who is on the roll of honor under the name of K. L. Ames (Princeton) full back 1889; President of the South Fisheries Co. of Chicago.

Well it was in the fall of 1887 and Princeton was playing Harvard in East Chicago, Indiana. The Princeton nine took the field first and was waiting the rival of the Harvard cohorts and when the last named finally trotted on the field the Harvard cheer leader rose up and demanded seven raws for Harvard.

Maybe he means oysters thought Mr. Ames to himself and then there made up his mind to go into the fish business in bulk.

Another case of which I know the details of same was the case of Frank E. Hering who was capt. of Notre Dame in 1894 and afterwards became grand exalted ruler Eugene picked up a fumbled punt and raced 25 miles for the touchdown of the Eagles. Well it was in the fall of 1884 and Notre Dame was playing their final game of the season with the Ohio School of Chronology at Atlantic City.

"Maybe he means oysters," thought Mr. Ames to himself and then there made up his mind to go into the fish business in bulk.

not able to make no head way and their star ground gainer Mr. Hering was thrown for loss after loss. Late in the 2d half the following ideal struck him:

"If I could fly I could go over their heads and score a touchdown." He then and there determined to become a Eagle.

Still another case I heard about it in regards to J. M. Studebaker who was on the Purdue team in 1895 and is listed on the roll of honor as a manufacture. I can't give no details of how Mr. Studebaker's football career flung him into the manufacturing business but it is the gen. belief that if he had not learned to punt at old Purdue he might of took up painting and paper hanging and lived from hand to mouth.

How to Choose The College For Your Boy.

But probably the most wonderful case in the guide is the case of Russell Stein, which the book says he was capt. of Washington and Jefferson in 1921 and is now successful in the coal business at Washington, Pa. Well if Mr. Stein was capt. in 1921 why he probably didn't graduate till this yr. and that means he must of become a successful coal man between commencement and the time the guide went to press.

A case like this shows that football ain't a game to be sneezed at even in the hay fever season and

Mr. Stein's rapid rise is all the more wonderful when you stop and think that it occurred during a yr. when they ain't no coal.

There is quite a lesson to be learned by parents if they will take the trouble and study this roll of honor. Like for inst. they will find that a good many of our men who owes their success to college football is men who attended college at Davis-Elkins, Carson-Newman and Grove City.

Whereas they ain't nobody that ever played football at Harvard, Chicago, Yale and Dartmouth that ever got anywhere, at least they ain't mentioned on the roll.

So wise parents whose boys shows a talent for the gridiron sport as I sometimes call it, why they will pass up colleges like Harvard, Chicago and etc. and send their little ones to Grove City, Carson-Newman or Davis-Elkins after locating same by writing to your congressman.

It is still to early yet for any plans in regards to next year's guide but it is the wish of football fans who I have talked with that the guide will keep up the good work and maybe add other interesting lists like for inst.

FIERY, ITCHING SKIN IS QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

got along with it. This kind of a prize with its butter exhibited at Worcester Salem in competition with other creameries of the State last week. At the State Fair their competition was with creameries from a number of States, and the local creamery won second place. The info. giving this information has just been received from J. H. Ames who is in charge of the State dairy work in North Carolina.

In speaking of the local creamery winning this distinction Mr. Ames says in his letter: "This speaks well for your butter makers and is evidence of the fact that you have local conditions in Caldwell county which will make possible the manufacture of butter of as high a quality as can be produced in this State."

There is constant danger in an oily skin

A certain amount of oil in your skin is necessary to keep it smooth and supple. But too much oil actually tends to promote an unhealthy condition. A skin that is too oily is constantly liable to infection from dust and dirt.

You can correct an oily skin by using each night the following simple treatment:

FIRST cleanse your skin by washing in the usual way with Woodbury's Facial Soap and lukewarm water. Wipe off the surplus moisture, but leave the face slightly damp.

Then, with warm water work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap in your hands.

Apply it to your face and rub it into the pores thoroughly—always with an upward and outward motion.

Rinse first with warm water, then with cold—the colder the better.

If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

GET a cake of Woodbury's today, and begin this treatment tonight. A 25-cent cake of Woodbury's will last for a month or six weeks.
