INSPECT NEW POSTOFFICE SITE FOR ASHEVILLE GETS UNDER WAY

Mountain Metropolis Heads List of Cities for New Offices. OFFICIAL WILL BE IN CITY MONDAY Appropriation Bill Expected to Be Introduced in Congress Soon.

A new postoffice and federal building for Asheville is beginning to loom as a definite possibility, with J. M. Geary, Superintendent of Public Buildings, on the staff of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, scheduled to arrive in Asheville Monday morning for the purpose of conducting a preliminary inspection of the site should it be decided to erect a new building.

Mr. Geary is at present in Greensboro, where he is considering the question for the city and word has been received by The Citizen, from its Greensboro correspondent, that he intends leaving for Asheville Sunday night for the purpose of conducting a preliminary inspection of the site should it be decided to erect a new building.

Representative Weaver has made repeated efforts to obtain appropriations for a new federal building for Asheville and several other places in his district. In the event an appropriations bill for public buildings comes up it is expected he will press the claims of Asheville for a new building.

The regular session of Congress, which will assemble in December, is expected to be faced with the appropriation bill and in that bill will be included an appropriation for a new Federal Building in Asheville.

The action of the Treasury Department in obtaining data is believed to mean that this Department is optimistic over the prospects of success for the measure.

A check on the public buildings bill of this character has not been passed since 1913, the World War temporarily halting work of this character.

The Asheville Postoffice is working under crowded conditions and the records of the office for the past 20 years will probably be considered by Mr. Geary upon his arrival. Dan W. Hill, Postmaster, will visit Asheville with the Postal Department has been watching the growth of the business in Asheville and the needs for larger quarters have been evident and he will be in close touch with Mr. Geary during his stay in the city, which will probably be for several days.

Judge Webb Heartily in Favor of Proposal. Judge Webb, of United States District Court, when interviewed by a representative of The Citizen, following the receipt of word that the Washington official will visit Asheville, said he is heartily in favor of a new Federal Building, and will personally take any steps necessary to aid in securing a building on a location that will serve the best interests of the Postoffice and the courts convening in the city.

Children's Faces Awaiting Verdict of Court. Children's faces were awaiting the verdict of the court martial which was held at 10 o'clock, presumably, at the hands of the military authorities at the Port of War Barracks, here, after conviction by court martial of having possessed, without proper authority, an automatic pistol, in violation of the order of the constituted government.

Several Say They Gave Credit to Patent Medicine Promoters. With the recent attachment of furniture and other possessions left behind by officers of the Carolina Medicine Company upon their departure from Asheville about a month ago, leaving behind no forwarding address and numerous creditors, reports are being received that indicate a number of officers are pending.

No Redistricting Of North Carolina Is Afoot Just Now

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The last election convinced North Carolina Democrats that the plan to re-organize the Congressional Districts and put all of the Republican counties in one district is not a good one. The big majorities of Representatives Weaver, Dougherty and Hammer make such a proposition seem absurd.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—His fighting blood up, the Tiger of the East returned from the abstract to the specific today, answered his critics at Washington with a bold phrase, and declared that what he really came to America for was to seek to draw the United States into the conference at Lausanne, for the settlement of the Eastern crisis.

Speaking in Tremont Temple before a fastidious audience, Clemenceau said he had not intended to tell Americans how to run their own business. "But they have asked me to go further," he said, referring to the assertions of Senators at Washington that his addresses were too vague.
