Skate, skate, skate, Early aad late. While the ice is sparkling and strong: And the air is gay, In its winter array,

As in summer with flower and song; With the laugh, and the shout, And the dazzling quick rout, And the musical click of the skate.

Skate, skate, skate, Keep your knees straight, And your arms from a windmill sprawl; For the "outer roll," And the firm "cross roll"

Strike out, with no fear of a fall; With the head quite upright, And with grace and delight, And the rhythmical glide of the skate.

Skate, skate, skate,

The "figure eight," And the "figure three" in both ways; And the "double three," Back and forward free, And "loop" in its serpentine maze; With the laugh and the shout, And the dazzling quick rout, And the musical click of the skate. -Laura Sanford, in Independent,

WINNIE'S FORTUNE

The handsome dining room in the Mayberry mansion was all a-glitter with floods of gaslight and the genial glow of the fire-for Mr. Josiah Mayberry was a very "queer man," according to his wife's opinion, and this fancy of his to have nasty, ashy fires all over the splendid mansion before the weather became cold enough was one of his "eccentric freaks," Mrs. Mayberry called it, with a curl of her lip, a toss of the head and a smile, almost of contempt, directed at the hale, honest-faced old gentleman who had married her for her pretty face ten years ago, when he was an immensely rich widower, with his handsome half-grown son for a not undesirable encumbrance.

They were sitting around the handsome table, discussing their seven o'clock dinner, with the solemn butler and his subordinate in silent, obsequious attention-these three Mayberrys, father, son and the haughty, well dressed lady who was wearing a decided frown of displeasure on her face-a frown she had barely power to restrain from degenerating into a verbal expression of anger while the servants were in waiting, and which, as the door finally closed on them, leaving the little party alone, burst forth impetuously:

"I declare, Mr. Mayberry, it is too bad! I have gone over the list of invitations you have made, and to think there is not one-no, not one-of our set people as you have named!" Mr. Mayberry sipped his wine content-

"I told you, didn't I, Marguerite, that it was my intention to give an old-fashioned dinner? And by that I meant, and mean, to whom it will, indeed, be cause his. for thankfulness. As to making a grand fuss, and seeing around our table only | the other one. the people to whom a luxurious dinner mistaken, my dear. None of them have a worse failing than poverty. There is not a 'common,' vulgar person among do love him, you know." the ten names on that paper."

Mr. Mayberry's good old face lighted | are after, eh?" up warmly as he spoke, and Ernest Mayberry's handsome face reflected the question. satisfaction and pride he felt in his father's views.

Mrs. Mayberry flushed, but said noth- laughing and patting his cheek.

and indulgent as her husband was, there were times when he suffered no appeal boy. We will have roast turkey with man. cranberry sauce, and mashed potatoes and turnips, boiled onions and celery, and all on the table at once. For des-Lorton, or will you attend to it?"

rings almost roughly. "Oh, don't ask me to give such an inappear as a laughing stock before my are beggars." servants, Mr. Mayberry. It will be as capable of to be forced to sit at a table and braveness nothing could daunt. with such people as the Hurds and the Masons, and that Thyrzra Green and her own cheeks paling. lame brother, and that little old Wilmington and his granddaughter, I can wait, too.'

Mr. Mayberry interrupted her gently: mine long before he went to India. his shrewd old face as he listened. Since he came home with his son's infant daughter and lived in such obscurity- You stay here and tell Winnie I am just used money, he never allows others to comfortable, although plain, for Winnie as willing she shall be your wife when view, although the museum may be earns enough as daily governess to support them both cheaply-I regard him as pened, because I believe you can earn diplomatists and the friends that they more worthy than ever. Ernest, my boy, I shall call upon you to help entertain our guests, and especially at table, for I shall have no servants about to scare them out of their appetites."

And Mr. Mayberry dismissed the sub- me." ject by arising from the table.

"Would I like to go? Oh, grandpa, I should! Will we go, do you think?" wrinkled, weather-beaten old face in The little, wizened old man looked Mayberry & Thurston's private office. fondly at her over his steel-rimmed where Mr. Mayberry sat alone, with rigid glasses. berry's invitation to dinner, eh, Winnie ? friend. You wouldn't be ashamed of your oldfashioned grandfather, eh, among the fine folk of the family? Remarkably not come to reproach me is a comfort." fine folk, I hear, for all I can remember when Joe was a boy together with myself. Fine folk, Winnie, and you think | which Mr. Mayberry sat among a hopewe'd better go ?"

"I would like to go, grandpa. I don't have any recreations-I don't want many, for I think contented honest labor is the grandest thing in the world, and | marry him?" the best discipline-but, somehow, I can't tell why, but I do want to go. I then the gloom returned I can wear my black cashmere, and you'll be so proud of me."

matter what you wear. Yes, we'll go." in your wooing of Winnie Wilmington.' ten guests that sat down at Josiah Mayberry's hospitable, overflowing board, that cold, blue-skied day, Winnie Wilmington and the little old man were two-and two to whom Ernest Mayberry paid more devoted attention than even his father had asked and expected. Of course it was a grand success-all excepting the cold hauteur on Mrs. Mayberry's aristocratic face, and that was a failure, because no one took the least you what, Mayberry; perhaps you will notice of it, so much more powerful were the influences of Mr. Mayberry's settle a quarter of a million on Winnie and Ernest's courteous, gentlemanly at- the day she marries your boy. And I'll

Josiah said, with what was meant to be withering sarcasm, after the last guest had gone, and she stood a moment before less bewilderment. the fire; "I only hope you are satisfiedparticularly with the attention Ernest paid to that young woman-very un- it's safe and sound in hard cash in good necessary attention, indeed."

gether briskly.

had in my power to make them forget glisten when Ernest gave him the second triangle of pie? Bless the youngsters' hearts," they won't want anything to eat

"I was speaking of the young woman Mrs. Mayberry was icily severe, but her husband cut it short. "So you were-pretty little thing as ever I saw. A ladylike, graceful little girl, with eyes beautiful enough to excuse the boy for admiring her."

"The boy. You seem to have forgot- serve, eh?" ten your son is twenty-three-old enough to fall in love with and marry even a poor, unknown girl you were quite quixotic enough to invite to your table."

wants to marry a beggar, and she is a guest at her board she candidly feels good girl !- why not?"

A little gasp of horror and dismay was the only answer of which Mrs. Mayberry was capable.

"Grandpa!" Winnie's voice was so low that Mr. Wilmington only just heard it, and when place. It contains a profusion of costly he looked up he saw the girl's crimson articles and objects of art such as exist cheeks and her lovely drooping face.

something?" among them, and such a horrid lot of her hot cheek caressingly against his, her that of the contents of the so-called green sweet, low voice whispering her answer: vaults at Dresden. It is impossible to asked-he wants me to-oh, grandpa, tion and valuation by experts; but can't you tell what it is?"

is an every-day occurrence-I shall not shown his uncommon good sense by exquisite Persian and Hindu workmando it. And as to the guests on my list wanting you for his wife. So this is ship, etc. The so called peacock throne Being 'horrid' and 'common,' you are what come of that dinner, eh, Winnie?" (a part of the plunder Nadia Shah car-

She knew from experience that, kind there, I hear the young man coming priceless mosaics and exquisitely painted himself. Shall I go, Winnie?"

from his decision. And this was one Ernest Mayberry, with a shadow of deep and side by side with them you will trouble and distress on his face as he notice horrible daubs, veritable 10-cent "We will have dinner ordered for 12 came straight up to Winnie and took chromos, picked up the Lord knows how o'clock, as it used to be when I was a her hand, then turned to the old gentle- and where. You will perceive glass would be the proudest, happiest hour of garnets, topazes, beryls, of all sizes and my life, sir, for I should have asked you kinds, cut and uncut; and cheek by jowl sert, pie and cheese and nothing more. to give me Winnie for my wife. Instead, with these your eyes wil see cheap music Marguerite, shall I give the order to I must be content to tell you how dearly boxes, Jew's harps and squeaky hand-I love her, and how patiently and hard organs. Mrs. Mayberry twisted her diamond I will work for her to give her the home which she deserves-because, Mr. Wil- "bull" the market on pearls, for here is, mington, this morning the house of May- for instance, a big glass case, twentysane order to him. I have no wish to berry & Thurston failed and both families four inches long by eighteen inches wide severe a strain on my endurance as I am eyes were bright with a determination Persian Gulf fisheries) of all sizes and most shut behind the heavy, frowning himself forever, waking or sleeping, "Old Mr. Wilmington was a friend of foreheard, and a quizzical look was on carries the keys. The contents of this box > you want her, as if nothing had hap- visited once a year by the European bread and butter for both of you, and my | vouch for. - Cosmopolitan. Winnie is a contented little girl. I'll hobble up to the office and see your father; he and I were boys together; a word of sympathy won't come amiss from

"Never mind, Ernest, on my account.

And off he strode, leaving the lovers alone, getting over the distance in a remarkable time, and presenting his wrinkled, weather-beaten old face in face and keen, troubled eyes that never-"So you'd like to accept Mr. May- theless lighted at the sight of his old

"I'm glad to see you, Wilmington. Sit down. The sight of a man who has

But Mr. Wilmington did not sit down. He crossed the room to the table at less array of papers.

"There is no use wasting words, Mayberry, at a time like this. Did you know your son has asked my Winnie to Mr. Mayberry's face lighted a second.

"If my son had a fortune at his command, as I thought he had yesterday at "Proud of you, indeed, my child, no this time, I would say, God speed you And thus it happened that among the As it is-for the girl's sake, I disprove." "So you haven't a dollar over and above, eh, Mayberry?"

"There will be nothing-less than nothing. I don't know that I really care so much for myself, but Ernest-it is a terrible thing to happen to him at the very beginning of his career."

Mr. Wilmington smiled gleefully. "Good. Neither do I care for myself, but for Winnie, my little Winnie. I tell wonder if I am crazy, but I'll agree to lend you as much more if it'll be any "I only hope you are satisfied," Mrs. use, and I'll start the boy for himself, if you say so. Eh?"

Mr. Mayberry looked at him in speech-

Wilmington went on: "I made a fortune out in India, and hands-a couple of millions. I deter-Mr. Mayberry rubbed his hands to- mined to bring my girl up to depend on herself, and to learn the value of money "Satisfied? Yes, thankful to God I before she had the handling of her fortune. She has no idea she's an heiresstheir poverty, if for only a little hour. my heiress. Sounds like a story out of Did you see little Jimmy Hurd's eyes a book, eh, Mayberry? Well, will you shake hands on it and call it a bargain?" Mr. Mayberry took the little dried-up hand almost reverentially, his voice hoarse and thick with emotion.

> "Wilmington, God will reward you for this. May He, a thousandfold!" Wilmington winked away a suspicious > moisture on his eyelashes. "You see it all comes of that dinner, old fellow. You acted like a charitable gentleman, and between us we'll make the boy and Winnie as happy as they de-

And even Mrs. Mayberry admits that it was a good thing that her husband gave that dinner, and when she expects "Twenty-three? So he is. And if he to see Mrs, Ernest Mayberry an honored that she owes every atom of her splendor and luxury to the violet-eyed, charming girl who wears her own honors with such

The Shah's Great Wealth.

What he terms his museum is a curious nowhere else at the present day, it being "Yes, Winnie. You want to tell me the opinion of well-informed Europeans, who have viewed these treasures, that She went up behind him and leaned their money value is perhaps twenty-fold "Grandpa, I want to tell you some- give exact figures, for they could only be I-Mr. May-we-Ernest has obtained after a long and minute inspecroughly estimated, it is probable that He felt her cheek grow hotter against there is more than $100,000,000 worth of jewelry, precious stones, coined and un-He reached up his hand and caressed coined gold, costly objets de vertu, fine porcelain and glassware, old weapons "Yes, I can tell, dear. Ernest has and armor, tableware and ornaments of "And may I tell him you are willing, ried off from Delhi 150 years ago) is alone perfectly willing, grandpa? Because I valued at many millions, even after a number of the large, rough and uncut "And you're sure it isn't his money you | jewels have been broken out and stolen. It is an incongruous place, this museum.

She did not take umbrage at the sharp | There you will see vases of agate or gold and lapis lazuli, said to be worth millions; "I am at least sure it is not my money and alongside of them empty perfume he is after, grandpa," she returned, bottles of European make, with gaudy labels, that can be had at wholesale for "Yes, you are at least sure of that; about five cents apiece. You will see cups and cans and vases, which were It was the "young man himself." presented by some European potentate; cases filled with huge heaps of rubies, "Until an hour ago I thought this diamonds, emeralds, sapphires, turquoises,

The Shah must also be in a condition to and high, that is more than half filled His handsome face was pale, but his with beautiful pearls (mostly from the degrees of loveliness. In a separate long Winnie smiled back upon him, her case the orders and decorations of the Shah, coming from nearly every country in the world, are kept on exhibition; but the crown jewels are in a little box that Old Mr. Wilmington's eyes were al- is always locked and for which the Shah and of the several vaults where he keeps "Gone up, eh? Well, that's too bad. his piles on piles of bright, shining, un-

Paper "Window Glass."

Paper "window glass" is now said to be an assured fact. As described: "A window pane is made of white paper, manufactured from cotton or linen, and modified by chemical action. Afterward the paper is dipped in a preparation of camphor and alcohol, which makes it like parchment. From this point it can be molded and cut into remarkably tough sheets entirely transparent, and it can be dyed with almost the whole of the aniline colors, the result being a transparent sheet, showing far more vivid hues than the best glass exhibits."

Duty puts a blue sky over every manup in his heart, maybe-into which the skylark, happiness, always goes singing. THE ENIGMA.

What the Scientific World Wants to Know .- A $100,000 Offer. We have published in our columns from time to time different advertisements in regard to Bright's Disease and its cures.

What is this terrible disease! We have taken the trouble to make an investigation from the best sources, and we give the results to our readers. What astonishes us is the general indifference given to kidney disorders. The kidneys do not sound the alarm of their diseased condition, owing to the fact that they have very few nerves, hence few suspect that there is any disease in them. Irritation, inflammation, ulceration set in. and then the little tubes, of which the kidneys are full, are destroyed and thrown off, and from this fact are called tube casts.

As soon as this begins to take place it is only a question of how fast decomposition goes on before the disease results fatally. If the proper remedies are taken before final decomposition or waste of these tubes commences or becomes too far advanced, that is the only and last chance for relief. It is at this point or before that Warner's safe cure proves so beneficial, and may cure or stop the wasting away of the kidneys if it has not advanced too far.

The most remarkable thing of all our investigation is the fact that the patient with Bright's disease has no exclusive symptoms, but has the symptoms of every common

First he may possibly feel a dull pain in his back, generally upon one side, which does not debar him from his usual business routine. After a time he may begin to feel neuralgic pains, or have a slight attack of what he may call rheumatism, or headache, with high or dark colored urine, with an unpleasant sensation in its passage, and after standing showing an unnatural condition. Later on, come tired feelings, loss of ambition or vigor, or loss of or failing eyesight, which is very common, with a distressed condition of the stomach. Any one of these symptoms is liable to occur.

This no doubt explains why the proprietors of Warner's safe cure are curing so many diseases. By regulating and building up the kidneys, symptoms of general ill-health disappear. They justly accuse the medical profession of treating the effects and not the cause. Finally if this disorder is neglected the patient either dies of appoplexy, pneumonia, heart disease, blood poisoning. consumption, or any other disease that the system is most subject to.

There appears to be some one cause for nearly every other ailment of the human system, but up to the present time no one has been able to fully account for this terrible malady. We understand that the people of Germany have become aware of its fearful fatality, and have offered 400,000 marks ($100,000) to any one that can satisfactorily explain the cause.

Realism on the Japanese Stage.

The following is an extract from the London Pall Mall Gazette describing a play in Japan. This was the plot which amused the Mikado's subjects: A man becomes jealous of his wife and quarrels with her loudly and long, using strong language, and she answers him in kind. Finally, after much by play and rhetoric, he, in an exacerbation of passion, stabs her to death, and is immediately ceased with remorse. But hark! some one approaches, as is evidenced by the clatter made with two sticks on the stage by an orchestra man. The murderer hides the body behind a screen, and a neighbor enters and asks for something, but | right nos ril, which wa soon goes away. Now to get rid of the evidence. He draws his victim's body from its hiding place and tears its clothing away; then he takes a weapon like a bil hook, and butcher-like, severs an arm off and throws it, dripping blood-yes, dripping blood-and quivering, into a basket; then he cuts off the other arm; then the legs and head; and finally he divides the carcass in two, and the stage assumes the appearance of a human shamble; then he collects the pieces and ties them up in a pack and slings it on his back, and is about to depart, when lo! the police appear, and tableau! The body of a freshly strangled criminal was substituted as a dummy, and the play was only given three nights because the supply of criminals gave out and there were no more dummies to be had. The public executioner sold his corpses at 80 cents a head. There's relish for you.

Floating Gardens of Cashmere.

The floating gardens on the rivers are formed by the long sedges being interwoven into a mat, earth being superimposed thereupon and the stalks finally cut under water, thus releasing them from the bottom of the lake; they are usually about twenty by twelve yards in size. A dishonest Cashmiri will sometimes tow his neighbor's garden away from its moorings and appropriate its produce, which generally includes cucurbitaceous fruits and vegetables and a fine description of grape. - Highlands of

The Homeliest Man in Town,

As well as the handsomest, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is selling entirely upon its merits and is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Large bottles,

THE steel tube of the great Lick telescope in California is fifty feet long.

C-h-o-o! C-h-o-o!! C-h-o-o!!! Don't sneeze, sneeze, hawk, hawk, spit, blow, and disgust everybody with your offensive breath. If you have acrid, watery discharges from the nose and eyes, throat disease, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in head, splitting headache and other symptoms of nasal catarrh, remember that the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, $ 00 reward for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. The Reriedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents.

ENGLAND pays $15,000,000 a year for imported

Cold Waves

Are predicted with reliable accuracy, and people liable to the pains and aches of rheumatism dread every change to damp or stormy weather. Although we do not claim Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a positive specific for rheumatism, the remarkable cures it has effected show that it may be taken for rheumatism with reasonable certainty of benefit. Its action in neutralizing the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of rheumatism, constitutes the secret of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing this complaint. If you suffer from rheumatism, give Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fair trial; we believe it will do you good. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

The Sweetest Girl in School. "She's the sweetest girl in school!" enthusi. astically exclaimed one young miss to anoth as they passed down the street together. Edith is so kind, and gentle, and unselfish every one likes her. And she has lovely golden hair and pretty eyes. Isn't it a pity her complexion is so bad; it spoils her looks. And then she has such dreadful headaches!" The girls skipped along, but it happened Edith's mother had heard what they said. It set her thinking What could be done for these headaches and the rough, muddy complexion, that was square trial to her gentle daughte. She recalled what she had read of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and on the spur of the moment she slipped into a drug store and bought a up-ply. Edith took it faithfully, with the result that it cleared her disordered blood, released the headaches, made her skin soft, fair and rosy, and now she is not only the "sweelest girl in school," but the most beauti ul. QUEEN VICTORIA owns land in nearly every country in Europe.

Oft obscure the road that leads to health, Inmarked by board or sign; Wisdom avails not, powerless is wealth

To sooth those aches of thine. But do not despair, with life there's hope The cloud conceals the sun; With Pierce's Favorite Prescription at hand

Your life's full course may run. More truth than poetry in these lines, as thousands of ladies all over the land, now blooming with health, testify to the great curative powers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, adapted by much research and careful study to the happy relief of all those weak. nesses and ailments peculiar to females. All

WASHINGTON is said to be overrun with bridal couples

From N. Y. Times, Dec. 9, 1887. The Grant Monument Fund Likely to Re-ceive Several Thousand Dollars from an Unexpected Source.

Funds for the Monument have been coming in slowly of late, though encouragingly. the whole amount desired (about $250,000) has been received to date, about $135,000, Now, Messrs. Wyckoff, Seamans & Benedict, the proprietors of the Remington Standard Typewriter, have challenged all other writing machines to a contest in which it is proposed to decide the question as to which is the superior machine. They propose to deposit $1,000 in the hands of the umpire (who, by the way, is to be appointed by their competitors); each competitor also to deposit $1,000. After paying $500 for e expense of operators, the whole sum thus deposited is to go to the Grant Monument Fund. It is to be hoped that at least several of these typewriters will accept the challenge It will be seen that should this challenge be accepted by three of the competitors of the Remington, the result would be, not only to establish the superiority of one of the competing machines, but at the same time to give the Grant Monument Fund the sum of $3,500.

Consumption Surely Cured. To the Editor:-Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have con-sumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y

"Taylor's Hospital Cure for Catarrh" can now be had on ten day's trial without charge from the City Hall Pharmacy, 264 Broadway, New York. All who suffer from this disease should write there at once. Free pamphlet.

'ROYAL GLUE' mends anything! Broken China, Glass, Wood. Free Vials at Drugs & Gro.

CATARRH

HAY FEVER DE

ELY'S

I was surprised ofte. using Ely's Cream Baln two months to find th closed for twenty years. was open and free the other. I feel very thankful.-R. H. Cress EASP engham, 275 18th Street

A particle is app into each nostril and is HAY-FEV agreeab e. Price 50 cents HAY-FEV at druggists: by mall, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 25 Greenwich St., New York.

In from one to twenty minutes never falls to re-lieve Pain with one thorough application. No mat-ter how violent or excruciating the pain, the Rheu-matic, Bedridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neural-gic or prostrated with disease may suffer, Radway's Ready Relief will afford instant ease. It instantly relieves and soon cures

Rheumatism, Coughs, Cold in the Head, Asthma, Pneumonia, Headache, Toothache,

Neuralgia, Colds. Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Sciatica, Inflammations, Congestions,

DIFFICULT BREATHING.

Radway's Ready Relief is a Cure for every Pain, Sprains, Bruises. Pains in the Back, thest or Limbs. It was the First and is the Only PAIN REMEDY

That instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays Inflammations, and cures Congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or organs by one application.

INTERNALLY, a half to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will in a few minutes cure Cramps. Spasms, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Vomiting, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhœa, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pairs. MALARIA IN ITS VARIOUS FORMS CURED

AND PREVENTED. There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other Malarinas, Bilions and other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILLS, so quickly as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

R. R. R. not only cures the patient seized with Malaria, but if people exposed to the Malarial poison will every morning take 20 or 30 drops of heady Relief in water, and eat, say a cracker, before going out, they will prevent attacks. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by druggists.

RADWAY'S PILLS

The Great Liver and Stomach Remady For the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Feinals Complaints. Loss of Appetite, Headache, Constipa-tion, Costiveness, Indigestion, Billousness, Fever, Inflammation of the Boweis, Piles and all deraute ments of the Internal Viscera. Purely vegetable, con-taining no mercury, minerals or deleterious drugs.

PERFECT DIGESTION will be accomplished by taking Ralway's Pills. By so doing

SICK HEADACHE,

Dyspepsia, Foul Stomach. Billiousness will be avoided, and the food that is eaten contributes its nourishing properties for the support of the natural waste of the body. Observe the following symptoms resulting from disease of the Digestive Organs: Constitution In ward Piles, Fullness of the Blood in the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust of Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructailors, Sinking or Fluttering of the Heart, Choking or Suffe Sinking or Fluttering of the Heart, Choking or Suits cating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision. Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Duficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes Pain in the Side, Chest, Limbs and Sudden Fig. 1989. Pain in the Side, Chest, Limbs and Sudden Fig. 1989. A DWA Y'S PILLS will free the system of all the above named disorders.

Price 23 conts per box. Sold by all druggists.

CO., No. 32 Warren Street, New York, for Our Book of Advice.

"BE SURE TO GET RADWAY'S.