BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY.

In speaking of a person's faults, Pray don't forget your own; Remember those in houses glass Should never throw a stone. If we have nothing else to do But talk of those who sin, 'Tis better we commence at home, And from this point begin. We have no right to judge a man Until he's fairly tried; Should we not like his company, We know the world is wide. Some may have faults—and who has not? The old as well as young; We may, perhaps, for aught we know, Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan, And find it works full well, To try my own defects to cure, Before of others tell; And though I sometimes hope to be No worse than some I know, My own shortcomings bid me let The faults of others go.

Then let us all, when we commence To slander friend or foe, Think of the harm one word may do To those we little know; Remember, curses sometimes, like Our chickens, "roost at home;" Don't speak of others' faults until We have none of our own

GREATER PROSPERITY THAN EVER BEFORE KNOWN IN AMERICA.

The great industrial development throughout the South continues to show an ever-increasing activity, and the attention of Northern capitalists is being turned Southward as never before. New England, which has heretofore sent its surplus capital and energy to the West, is now making heavy investments in the South, and Hon. Henry B. Pierce, Secretary of State of Massachusetts, in a letter to the Manufacturers' Record, published in this week's issue, referring to this fact and to the vast mineral wealth of this section, says: "I am thoroughly convinced that it is to be the great iron center of the world, and that the people will marvel at the growth which will be brought about during the next twenty-five years. * * I predict for the New South an era of prosperity which shall eclipse any which has ever been achieved in any other section of our great country so remarkable for its successes in that line." Governor D. H. Goodell, of New Hampshire, in an interview with a correspondent of the Manufacturers' Record, referring to the great success which has attended the organization of a $4,000,000 company of New England capitalists to build a town at Fort Payne, Ala., says that there are over 1,900 stockholders in this company and "the success of this venture will have for its effect the diversion in great measure of New England capital from the West to the South, for this solitary enterprise has done more to awaken our people to the opportunities offered by the South than all other attractions that the last 10 years have brought forth." Thus New England capital as well as the vast accumulations of wealth in New York are turning Southward for investment. This means an era of unprecedented activity. As illustrating the progress which is now being made throughout the South and which should stimulate the people of every town in that section to renewed energy, Florence, Ala., which seven months ago had probably not over 2,500 inhabitants and comparatively few industrial enterprises, has since the first of last September, been able, by the energy of its business men, to secure the location there of twenty new factories, every one of which is either at work or else its buildings are under construction, the aggregate cash capital of these plants being $1,500,000, and the number of hands to be employed upwards of 5,000 while about 1,000 dwellings and business houses have been commenced since the first of January, and still greater progress is predicted. While Fort Payne's development is due to New England men and money, this wonderful growth of Florence has come almost wholly through the work of Southern men. Among other enterprises reported by the Manufacturers' Record for the week are a $200,000 coal and coke company at Birmingham; rolling mill and pottery works at Fort Payne; the purchase of 30,000 acres of Alabama coal land by New England capitalists; a $1,000,000 coal mining company in Arkansas; six cotton seed oil mills, three of them to be very large, one at Baton Rouge, La., one at Charlotte, N. C., and one at Houston, Texas; a $150,000 furniture factory company at Asheville, N. C.; a $150,000 furniture company, Lenoir, N. C.; 5,000-spindle cotton mill at Concord, N. C., where a $300,000 cotton mill and a $1,000,000 cotton bag factory were reported last week; a cotton mill at Laurens, S. C. In every part of the South this remarkable activity is seen, and every day adds to the list of enterprises which are destined to add so immeasurably to the wealth of this whole section. One town after another steps into line, and as Mr. Frederic Taylor, the New York banker, said in his letter to the Manufacturers' Record last week, there is "a continuous and unbroken strain of what has been aptly termed the music of progress, the whir of the spindle, the buzz of the saw, the roar of the furnace and the throb of the locomotive."

FARMERS' WARNING.

The News and Observer says: "The farmers are duly warned by the jute-bagging trust as follows: 'We propose to make the farmers pay us $3,000,000 this year for bagging in excess of what they paid last year, and we could levy twice as much if we wanted it.' That is what they say. They are bold, or, rather, the best of them. They give notice a year ahead. Last year they stole a march on the farmers. This year they come with loud sound of war. They should find no farmer napping. 'Forewarned is forearmed.'"

EUPEPSY.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you good Digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle by Dr. W. J. Leary, Druggist.

WAKE UP!

The Norfolk Landmark says with reference to its own charming and active city the following which we conceive to be worthy of publication. Let the advice come to our people and serve an intended purpose; The first thing to our mind is to work in union, to sink all personal opinions and prejudices, and after mature reflection to endorse any and all advance movements with our whole heart and will. Don't stop to see what extent the movement is going to benefit the individual, but the public—even if you see an item that may or even does injure your interests for the time, the general result will make it all O. K. Will we forever think of only self? Then it is a fact, that we dwell too much on the past; what our forefathers did or did not do. The past is only useful as experience to guide us in our present and future actions. Our forefathers made mistakes and did not have the light before them that we have now—hence their view cannot be our guiding star. One fact more apparent than any other is that wealth and energy do not go together here— It is too frequently the case that wealth is satisfied with matters as they are, and has not the ambition and vim to push enterprise that once established, would benefit all more or less. Capitalists cannot expect that the results of their investments shall be all their own, nor should they wish it—general prosperity will redound to the personal benefit of the individual."

A SCRAP OF PAPER SAVES HER LIFE.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at Dr. W. J. Leary's Drugstore.

WHAT CLEVELAND SAID TO A NORTH CAROLINA EDITOR.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 11.—Last Friday, when ex-President Cleveland passed through Goldsboro, A. Roscower, editor of the Goldsboro Headlight, boarded the ex-President's car and spent two hours with Mr. Cleveland. To-day Mr. Roscower reports the ex-President as saying that he intends to spend the balance of his days as a private citizen. We asked in regard to the Democratic standard-bearer for 1892 Mr. Cleveland said that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination. Mr. Roscower told Mr. Cleveland that the South was now and would be unanimous for him in 1892, but the ex-President replied that he would not accept the nomination no matter how it came to him. He expressed deep interest in the welfare of the South, but said he intended to continue the practice of law until he saw fit to retire from active business, and that he would not again be a candidate for any office
