S. J. Chandler, Richmond, Va., writes: "No one can afford to be without B. B. B. who wishes an appetite. I could scarcely eat a single biscuit for breakfast, but since taking B. B. B. I clean the table so to speak."

Russia's Best Friends.

It is a curious fact that Russia's only friends among the great powers of the world are republics—the two republics of France and the United States. The czar is not much of an admirer of the German and Austrian kaisers, or the Italian king or the Turkish sultan, or the British sovereign, but he is on the best of terms with Mr. Cleveland and M. Carnot and is a practical friend of their respective countries, each of which sails under a tricolored flag.—New York Sun.

Chicago a City of Deadheads.

Among other big things the Chicago exhibition may certainly boast "the largest free list in the world." On Sunday there were 80,000 paying visitors, but the free admissions increased the total to 125,000. Chicago calls itself a "live" city. It might fairly be called the city of the "deadhead."—London Globe.
