ICING WITHOUT EGGS.

A recent newspaper article called at tention to an excellent recipe for making icing without eggs. It is a convenient thing to know at this time of the year when we are entering upon the days of scarce and expensive eggs. The recipe in question directs the stirring of confectionary sugar-not merely pulverized-into orange juice. A still better way of making eggless icing is the following, which has been in use in some households for a long time, and has entirely superseded the usual method: Put over a bright fire a cup of granulated sugar to a quarter cup of water. Shake together first, but do not stir once after they have been set on the stove. When it drops into a soft ball in water take off and set on the ice or in a dish of cold water. When it has partially cooled begin to stir with a fork. It will become a creamy pliable mass, if all is well, that after flavoring is added can be spread at once on the cake. If it should harden too much, or be at all rough, add more water and cook it over. The final result is perfection for icing or for hard pudding sauce.-New York World.

Different flowers need different surroundings. Tall flowers like gladiolus, lilies, dahlias, chrysanthemums, need large, tall vases, while sweet peas, nasturtiums, pansies and other short-stemmed flowers need low vases, bowls or baskets. In whatever we arrange our flowers, let it be secondary to the flowers themselves. It should not be highly colored, so as to "kill" the coloring of the flowers, or so elaborate as to draw attention from them.

We are not compelled, as in former years, to put our flowers in the regulation vase, says Good Housekeeping, or use a glass preserve dish. There are many beautiful receptacles for flowers, American cut glass, cut into innumerable facets, reflecting myriad rainbows of colors; in bowls, baskets, and dishes of various forms. There are bowls and jugs of crystalline white, amber color, delicate yellow, turquoise blue, apple green and a thousand and one conceits of various kinds.

Cut flowers should be taken from the vases each morning and a bit of the stems cut off, all decaying leaves and flowers taken out, and replaced in fresh water. Soft water is better than hard; if the latter is used, a few drops, of ammonia may be added. The cooler the flowers are kept the longer they will last. In the winter, when flowers are scarce, it is a good plan to take cut flowers from the vases at night and place them in a washbowl, keeping the flowers above water. Put them

Making Imitation Stones.

The manufacture of imitation stones of various kinds is a rapidly growing industry in this country. It is encouraged by the demand for a great variety of rock materials in the building of modern cities. Architects are always looking for new substances to create variety and lend ornamentation in construction. The production of artificial stones is one of the most important of the indirect results of the development of geological science .--Washington Star.
