REV. DR. TALMAGE. THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUN-DAY SERMON. Subject: "Easter in Greenwood."

TEXT: "And the field of Hebron, which was In Machpelah, which was before Mamre, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure unto Abraham,"-Genesis xxiii., 17, 18. Here is the first cemetery ever laid out. Machpelah was its name. It was an arbo-rescent beauty, where the wound of death was bandaged with foliage. Abraham, a rich man, not being able to bribe the king of terrors, proposes here, as far as possible, to cover up the ravages. He had no doubt previously noticed this region, and now that irah, his wife, had died-that remarkable agree that for a period of ten years, beginning with the date of exchange of ratification of this convention, the coming, except under conditions hereinafter specified, of Chinese laborers shall be absolutely prohibited.

Article 2. The preceding article shall not apply to the return to the United States of any registered Chinese laborer who has a lawful wife, child or parent in the United States, or property therein of the value of $1000 or debts of like amount due him or pending settlement. Nevertheless, every such Chinese laborer shall, before leaving the United States, deposit, as a condition of his return, with the Collector of Customs of the district from which he departs, a full description in writing of his family, or property, or debts, as aforesaid, and shall furnished by said collector with such certificate of his right to return under this treaty as the laws of the United States may now, or hereafter, prescribe, and not inconsistent with the provisions of this treaty; and should the written description aforesaid be proved to be false the right of return thereunder, or of the continued residence, at heir return, shall in each case be forfeited. And such right of return to the United States shall be exercised within one year from the date of leaving the United States; but such right of return to the United States may be extended for an additional period, not to exceed one year, in cases where, by reason of sickness or other cause of disability, beyend his control, such Chinese laborer shall be rendered unable sooner to return-which facts shall be fully reported to the Chinese Consul at the port of departure and by him certified to the satisfaction of the collector of the port at which such Chinese subject shall land in the United States ; and no such Chinese laborer shall be permitted to enter the United States by land or sea without producing to the proper officer of the customs the return certificate herein required.

Article 3. The provisions of this convention shall not affect the right, at present enjoyed, of Chinese subjects, being officials, eachers, students, merchants or travelers for curiosity or pleasure, but not laborers, of coming to the United States and residing therein. To entitle such Chinese subjects as are above described to admission into the United States they may produce a certificate from their Government, or the Government where they last resided, vised by the diplomatic or consular representative of the United States in the country or port whence they depart. It is also agreed that Chinese aborers shall continue to enjoy the privilege of transit across the territory of the United States in the course of their journey to or from other countries, subject to such regulations by the Government of the United States as may be necessary to prevent said privilege of transit from being abused. Article 4. In pursuance of article 3 of the Immigration Treaty between the United States and China, signed at Pekin on November 17, 1880, it is hereby understood and agreed that Chinese laborers, or Chinese of any other class, either permanently or temporarily residing in the United States, shall have for the protection their persons and property all rights that are given by the laws of the United States to citizens of the most favored nation? excepting the right to become naturalized citizens. And the Government of the United States reaffirms its obligation, as stated in said article 3, to exert all its power to secure protection to the persons and property of all Chinese subjects in the United States. Article 5. The Government of the United States, having by act of Congress, approved May 5, 1892, as amended by act approved May 5, 1893, required all Chinese laborers lawfully within the limits of the United States by the first named act to be registered as in said acts provided, with a view of affording them better protection, the Chinese Government will not object to the enforcement of such acts and reciprocally the Government of the United States recognizes the right of the Government of China to enact and enforce similar laws or regulations for the registration, free of charge, skilled or unskilled (not of laborers. merchants, as defined by said acts of Congress), citizens of the United States in China, whether residing within or without treaty ports. And the Government of the United States agrees that within twelve months of the date of the exchange and ratification of this convention, and annually thereafter, it will furnish to the Government of China registers and reports showing the full name, age, occupation and number of the place of residence of all other citizens of the United States, including missionaries. residing both within and without treaty ports of China, not including, however, matic and other officers of the United States residing in China upon official business, together with their body and household servants. Article 6. This convention shall remain in force for a period of ten years, beginning with the date of the exchange of ratifications and if, six months before the expiration of the said period of ten years, neither Government shall formally have given notice of its termination to the other, it shall remain in full force for another like period of ten VOATS. CAN'T BE SAVED.

The Kearsarge Stripped and Burned. to the Water's Edge.

The wrecking steamer Orion, which satial from Boston for Ronca for Reef, for the purpose of saving the stranded United States war ship Kearsarge, found that the Kearsargo had been stripped, set on fire, and burned to the water's edge by the local wreekers, After necoming satisfied that there was atsolutely nothing left of the Kearsarge that was worth saving, the Orion proceeded on her way.

Secretary Herbert was much disappointed on hearing that all chance of saving the old ship was gone, but was not surprised, as he had had great doubt, after resent reports of the condition of the wreck when seen by passing steamers, that the vessel could be raised and brought to some port for repairs. The burning of the ship is believed to be due to the pilfering of natives from the Nicaraguan coasts, who flocked to the vessel in great numbers soon after she was lost.

While the attempt to save the vessel was dictated by purely sentimental reasons, there will be general regret among thousands of ople, as well as many of the older naval

PLUCKY FARMER HALL

But He Gave Up $5000 After Losing Both Hands and an Ear.

Basil D. Hali, a rich farmer and land owner at Great Bend, W. Va., recently sold a farm for $5000 in cash, which he kept in concealment about the house. Thieves entered his house and threatened to kill Hall if he did not deliver that amount to them. Hall told them he had sent his money to the Ravenswood Bank, but they tied him on a chair with ropes and then began to torture him by holding a burning lamp under the palms of his hands. Although they were burned to a crisp, Hall refused to give up his money, and then the robbers forced his head lown over the lamp and fairly roasted one of his ears. Then Hall turned over the $5000 in money, along with a gold watch and other valuables.
