NORTH CAROLINA SENATORSHIP.

A WRITTEN CONTEST IN PROSPECT BEHIND THE CONTENDING FACTIONS.

[Washington Post.]

The approaching Senatorial contest in North Carolina promises to be the most intensely interesting ever held in that State. There is no derth of political timber. The prominence of the candidates adds to the interest of the fight. Senator Jarvis, appointed by the Governor to fill the unexpired term of Senator Vance, announced before he accepted the appointment that he would be a contestant for the seat now held by Senator Ransom. Between Messrs Ransom and Jarvis there has long been a bitter rivalry. Mr. Ransom has won the Senatorial toga for twenty-four years and wants to succeed himself. He will make a bitter fight to retain his hold, and the equal determination of Governor Jarvis to win will add zest to the race before unequalled. Hon. T. W. Mason, Railroad Commissioner, is another contestant. Senator Jarvis is a free-silverite; Senator Ransom is a staunch administration man, and the administration forces will probably be with Senator Ransom. The result of the race will depend upon the complexion of the new Legislature and also whether Congressmen Henderson and Alexander will announce their candidacy. The friends of Captain Alexander are urging him to enter the race and assure him of success. Among the many candidates for the Senatorship from the Western District are Judge A. C. Avery, of the Supreme Court; Judge Armfield of the Superior Court; Judge R. T. Bennett, Hon. Augustus Leazer, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives of the State; ex-Judge J. H. Merriman; ex-Attorney-General Davidson, and Hon. F. I. Osborne, the present Attorney-General.

A PASTOR WHO SAYS PEOPLE THAT GO TO HELL, ARE BURNED UP AS A LOG.

[Charlotte News.]

Rev. J. E. King, of Arlington Baptist church, is succeeding in getting up a big stir in his vicinity. He has become not only rich and racy in his expressions and manner but is decidedly sensational in his doctrinal belief, and out-Beechers Beecher himself. Some of his members stand by him and even swear by him, while others won't venture near the church at all.

Some time ago Rev. Dr. Harrill, of the Philadelphia Presbyterian church, preached a sermon on "The Future Punishment," in which he declared: "The man who goes to heaven is in the very presence of God and enjoys the highest glory forever. But the man who goes to hell burns up like a log heap and that's the last of him. It may take longer to burn him than it does to burn the log, but the process is the same."

Some of his congregation are up in war, but he quoted scripture in order to prove what he said and many of his hearers accepted it as gospel truth. At present he is the talk of Clear Creek.

Rev. Mr. Crabtree, a Baptist who still holds to the old faith, was in the city today to confer with Revs. Pritchard and Austin in regard to the case, and to ask their opinion on the matter. Mr. Crabtree says King has become very sensational and preaches all manner of heresy every Sunday. He says further that King served Arlington and Wilson Grove churches about four years ago, left there and at Waxhaw church was expelled from the Baptist ministry. He returned and has been spreading discord around Arlington and Wilson Grove since.
