Ar a meeting of the Weavers' Union, held at Fall River, Mass., it was voted to make another strike allowance to members, amounting in all to about $4000. It was also voted to stay out of the mills until present indications in the market are changed, or the manufacturers offer a restoration of wages. Since July 14th, 1890, the sum of $28,977 has been paid out by the union on account of breakdowns and strikes.

The Trade of the World.

Renewed confidence in the commercial situation has been created throughout the country by a circular issued by Sir Albert Rollit, President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which includes in its membership all the boards of trade, chambers of commerce and similar institutions throughout Great Britain. He is a Conservative of the most progressive and enlightened type. In the circular in question, and which is being distributed in financial and commercial circles throughout the length and breadth of the country, he takes a most hopeful view of the prospects of trade, while paying his respects to the United States. Among other things he says . "Since the end of 1893, the indications, though variable, have been, upon the whole, more favorable. Brazil and South America are more peaceful; Argentine is sending us supplies of wheat rivaling even those of the United States, and Chile at least finds honesty the best policy. In Australia the effects of the banking and land crises, for which we, as a money lending nation, were not wholly irresponsible, are passing over, and there is already a renewed demand at the Antipodes for textile and for some iron manufactures; in India the silver difficulty is allayed by the experimental closing of the mints.

PENSION OFFICE REPORT. Pensioners on the Rolls-New Claims Falling Off.

The report of the Commissioner of Penslons for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, has been forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior. It says that the number of pensioners on the rolls June 30, 1893, was 966.-012 : that during the year 39,085 new pen sioners were added to the rolls, and 2399 previously dropped were restored, while $7,951 have been dropped for death and other causes, and on June, 30, 1894, the number of pensioners upon the rolls was Roux has been too modest in his claims for 969,544. The number of pension certificates seued during the year was 80,213, an i 132,-873 claims of all classes were rejected.

On July 1, 1894, there were undisposed of and in different stages of preparation and advancement claims for pension and for increase to the amount of 619,027, of which 287,209 claims-originals, widows, and dependents-are on behalf of persons not already on the rolls. These claims, save some recently filed, have been examined more than once and found lacking in essential evidence. They are the lame cases that have come down through the past years. New claims of all kinds have fallen off from 363,799 in 1891 to 40,148 in 1894, the fact he ing that original claims for pensions unler existing laws are substantially all in, and the bulk of new claims are for increase, or for widows and dependents.

The amount paid for pensions during the year was $139,804,461.05, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $25,205,712.65 of the appropriation. Much dishonesty and fraud. mainly attributable to unscrupulous claim agents, was uncovered, and there were 194 convictions in the United States Courts within he year for pension frauds, perjuries, and | buildings. forgeries.
