EDENTON, N. C. Oct. 26th, 1894

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

- For House of Representatives M. MAKELY. For Clerk Superior Court, H. C. PRIVOTT. For Treasurer, C. S. VANN. For Sheriff, L. W. PARKER. For Register of Deeds, T. D. BYRUM. For Coroner, T. J. HOSKINS. For Constable—1st Township JAMES H. ROBERTSON. OUR STATE CANDIDATES

The men selected by the Democratic party for offices this year so far as we have knowledge, are Democrats, with or without office. This is an important distinction right here. Some men are "powerful good Democrats" when it is a question of pay and grub. The pone of bread is a potential, all persuading factor with some. But the Democrats have put honorable and worthy men in the field. We have heard of but one or two complaints. The Judicial ticket is all right we believe. The gentlemen selected are supposed to be capable, to be learned in the law, to be men of character, above reproach or suspicion, and true Democrats. It is of very great importance to keep the Judiciary pure, above censure, incorruptible. A purchasable or a drunken Judiciary is a curse to any people or State. North Carolina knows what this means. It has an experience. In the Republican days there were drunkards on the Supreme and Superior court bench. It is known that there were men who had their price also, at least in the lower court.

The people will do a very bad thing for themselves if they turn out competent, learned and honest men to put in their places men of small capacity, little learning and of iron-bound, blind, incorrigible partisanship. The people have nominated men to represent them in the Legislature. They should know their neighbors and whether they are trustworthy or no, and if they are true Democrats. We suppose they are selecting men they believe to be honest and faithful. If not then they are blind and censurable. We take it that only Democrats of the "right stripe"—indigo-blue kind, are this year put on guard. It is a critical and perilous time, and not one should be chosen who is not of good character, intelligent and a Democrat from principle. The members nominated for the United States House of Representatives are mostly new men. They may not be any abler or safer than the men they displace, but we take it that every man nominated for the Federal House is a Simon-pure Democrat. Then the next thing to do is to elect the candidates. Vote for all; Do not drop one. Go the whole ticket. Quit you like men, "Be ye steadfast, unmovable." Give them big majorities and be happy.—Wilmington Messenger

"Let the Democrats rally around the flag. It is no time to be bickering as to men. Men are fallible and many of very easy political virtue. Principals are foundations of party—eternal, inevitable, absolutely necessary—the same yesterday, and to-day, and forever. Democrats in a crisis like this—and a mighty one for North Carolina it is—have no political, no moral, no patriotic right to be indifferent and lukewarm. Stay-away Democrats can ruin a great cause and set back for a generation the prosperity of a great State. Will you be one of the stay-aways?"

A correspondent of the News & Observer says:—It is admitted that so far as the First district is concerned the Democrats start in with the advantages in their favor. The district, however is naturally a close one, and the Democrats need to be on their guard. In 1878 Joe Martin, Republican, carried the district over Latham by a small majority, and again in 1882 another Republican, Walter Pool, was elected by some 600 majority. Since that time the Democrats have carried the district, though in 1884 Judge C. C. Pool was beaten by Thomas G. Skinner by only a very small majority. But the district is now, perhaps, in better condition than it has been for many years. Certainly the Democrats are more enthusiastic and more confident. There is hardly one of the party to be found who does not believe that though the fight will be hard and close one, success will be absolute and sweeping.

The Republicans and Populists, though not so enthusiastic and loud in their claims as in some other sections, are by no means idle. So far as the leaders are concerned fusion is complete, and they are doing their best to organize their forces and throw the whole strength of the opposition to the support of Col. Harry Skinner, the fusion candidate. And it is all plain sailing till they come to the negro—and a great part of the voters of this district are colored men—and there they find trouble. The majority of the educated and intelligent negroes of the district are strongly opposed to fusion, while all the negroes, as a rule, dislike Skinner and will not, if let alone, support him. They are opposed to the Democrats and desire to see them beaten, but they have the greatest contempt for the Populists and their party and look on its leaders with suspicion. But in addition to this there are other reasons why they will not vote for Skinner unless considerable pressure is brought to bear upon them. They feel that they have been sold out, and are therefore more anxious than ever to keep their organization intact and retain their standing as Republicans. This being the case they will vote the Republican ticket wherever they have one, but when that is denied them they feel themselves free to exercise their own choice, and that no one has a right to dictate to them.

A LETTER.

BY AN EDENTON BOY AT OXFORD, N. C.

In this day of business activity, when the struggle for material gain is the passion of the hour, we are apt to undervalue the importance of education—to suffer its claims to go unobserved, thereby failing to secure for ourselves and posterity that inestimable benefit, that most ennobling power, which produces the best type of citizenship and without which no people can enjoy the privileges and blessings of enlightened civilization. Every man, whoever he may be, owes a debt of obligation to mankind and above all, to his Maker. This being true the question arises how can this debt be best discharged? There can be but one answer and that is—by striving to do your utmost towards the development of your own nature and that of your fellowman, physically, mentally and morally. This is best done by the process of education. By education I do not mean what the word commonly means, but giving to it its unrestricted meaning. Oxford is noted for its educational advantages. Here, in addition to private schools of a smaller grade, are to be found three Female Seminaries, a Military school and Orphan Asylums for both races.

Though there are many places in North Carolina that can outstrip Oxford in material prosperity, they can boast of greater wealth and numbers, yet there are very few that can boast of educational advantages superior to those found here. The chief glory of a nation does not consist in its wealth or population, but in its educated men and women. So it is with a town or city. As it has been said before there are three Female schools in Oxford, representing the Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopal denominations. One of these is under the efficient management of the Misses Hilliard, daughters of Rev. Mr. Hilliard, at one time rector of St. Paul's Church at Edenton. Edenton people will be glad to hear of the success with which these ladies are meeting; for by perseverance and rare attainments in scholarship and refinement they have succeeded in establishing a most excellent school for girls. The people of Edenton and elsewhere should show their appreciation by giving the school a liberal patronage. There is, perhaps, no family in North Carolina that has done more for the cause of education than the Horner family. Horner Military School, founded in 1851 under the auspices of J. H. Horner, who for nearly half a century was considered the leading educator in North Carolina, has entered upon another year of great usefulness and prosperity. The school is now under the able management of Mr. Jerome C. Horner, Rev. Junius M. Horner and Col. T. J. Drewry. The stand that boys, who complete the course at Horner school, take at college, speaks in words of highest commendation as to the merits of this school. The secret to the success of the principals of the school is due to the fact that they most strenuously insist upon thoroughness and accuracy as the basis of education and will not permit a pupil to drop a study until he has thoroughly mastered it. Horner School has some most excellent features that other military schools do not possess. Here the hearing department is under the immediate supervision and control of the ladies of the Horner family and hence that rodydism generally present in Military Schools is displaced by gentlemanly behavior. The boys are required to attend church once a week and prayers twice a day. Then, again, whenever it is discovered that a boy's presence in school is injurious to his fellow students he is immediately removed. In short, the boys are educated physically, socially, mentally, morally and religiously. The crowning glory of Oxford, the culmination of her greatness, is found in the Oxford Orphan Asylum. This noble institution, partly self-sustaining, and partly supported by the Masonic order and public charity, stands as a monument of human beneficence and Divine Providence. T. D. WARREN. Oxford, N. C., Oct. 8, '94.
