SOME OTHER DAY.

BY ALFRED ELLISON.

There are wonderful things we are going to do.
Some other day.
And wishes we hope to fulfill later.
Some other day.
With noble hands and ours that trail.
We watch and wait for a favoring gale
To fill the folds of an idle sail.
Some other day.
Some other day.
We know we must toil if ever we win.
Some other day.
But we see to ourselves there's time to begin.
Some other day.
And so, deferring one later on.
Full at length we find withdrawal
The strength of the hope we leaned upon
Some other day.
And when we are old and our race is run
Some other day.
We fret for the things that might have been done
Some other day.
We trace the path that leads us where
The beckoning hand of a grim despair
Leads us yonder, out of here,
Some other day.

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE IN IOWA.

OVER 100 PEOPLE KILLED AND MILLIONS' WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED.

A terrible cyclone passed through Sioux county, Iowa, Saturday last, passing from southwest to northeast; and causing the death of probably 100 persons.

Half a score of prosperous little hamlets were touched by the flying storm and hundreds of farms were laid waste. The territory devastated is as rich and populous as any in Iowa, but the storm mainly kept clear of the railroad tracks and the full extent of the ruin is hard to get at.

The cyclone was followed by a furious rain and wind storm. The fatalities in various towns are estimated as follows:

Sioux Center, 50 dead.

Perk, 40 dead.

Doon, 10 dead.

Ripley, 5 dead.

No intelligent estimate of the damage inflicted can be made, but it will reach into the millions.

A curious feature of the cyclone was the accompaniment of electric violence. Many deaths have been reported. Numerous victims were found lodged in the trees, where they had been hurled by the storm and so seriously injured that death is expected momentarily.

Cyclone in Alabama.

The Southern part of Cullman county Alabama, was visited, on the 6th inst., by a cyclone, the path of which was half a mile wide. Many buildings were destroyed, crops ruined and several persons injured.

Charles A. Morgan, alias Morganfield, one of the Aquia Creek train robbers, has been received at the Virginia penitentiary to serve eighteen years. Morganfield is not able to walk on account of his broken limb, the result of his jump from the train in Cincinnati. He was placed in the hospital department, where he will have to stay for some time.

SIX NEW SHIPS.

Secretary of the Navy, Herbert decided to build two varieties of light-draft composite gun boats authorized by the last Congress, four to be of the class with large sail power and single screws, as recommended by Chief Constructor Hiehorn and Commodore Chadwick, and two of the other class with sail and twin screws, recommended by Engineer-in-Chief Melville and a majority of the construction board. Six of these boats were authorized, not more than two to be built by any one shipyard. The contract for three sea-going torpedo boats was signed by Sec. Herbert and President Macster, of the Columbian Iron Works, of Baltimore, Md., this week. The vessels are to be completed and delivered to the Government within fifteen months.

Murder in Rocky Mount.

Guilford Pittman, a colored man from Battleboro, was murdered on Sunday, April 27th, on the Nashville road at Rocky Mount. Wm. Mitchell and a colored woman named Sallie Cooper were arrested.

Being closely examined the woman broke down and confessed that Mitchell did the killing, and that she was within twenty feet of him when he shot Pittman. Mitchell and the woman are in jail. Both the murderer and the murdered man claim to be preachers.

George Mills Hanged.

George Mills, who so brutally murdered his niece, Ina Wimberly, near Apex, June 19th last, was hung in the jail yard at Raleigh, on Friday at 11:39 o'clock, and thus, paid the penalty of his atrocious crime.

No orders in that particular are now needed, her sleeves giving sufficient warning that he must not approach too near.—Greenville Reflector.

RIVAL MELODIES.

BUT THE ARMIES OF THE NORTH AND SOUTH UNITE ON "HOME, SWEET HOME."

During the war it so happened that at one time the armies on both sides were encamped on the bank of a river—on one side the Union army; across the Rebel. And as they lay there in their encampments the bands on both sides began to discourse music. On the Northern side it was "The Star Spangled Banner," swelling out upon the breeze, and on the Southern side the band responded with "Dixie Land." Again the Northern side said in their music, "Hail Columbia," and yet the Southern bands responded with "Dixie Land." Again, the Northern band played "Yankee Doodle," but the response was only "Dixie Land."

And then a chorus of "Home, Sweet Home," was struck up on the Northern side of the stream and the bands on the Southern side took it up and it was "Home Sweet Home," on both side, and every voice responded in perfect harmony, and strains of those instruments and the great soul of the country breathed anew and again with the delightful inspiration of the love of home. That was the lesson that was implanted deep in the hearts of all the men assembled there.—Extracts from Congressman Robinson's speech.

Sentenced to be Hanged.

Marshall Price, found guilty, at Denton, Md., of murder in the first degree, has been sentenced to be hanged. Price was convicted of waylaying Sallie E. Dean, a 14-year-old schoolgirl, after making an attempt to assault her while she was on her way to school on March 26th. Gov. Brown will name the day of the execution.

The unveiling of the Confederate Monument which will take place in Raleigh, May 20th is exciting the interest of the people all over the State. The Railroads will give cut rates and an immense crowd is expected to be present.

Must not Fight in Florida.

Since the Florida Legislature assembled three weeks ago, measures have been introduced into both houses which not only prohibit prize fighting, but also sparring matches and boxing contests with or without gloves. There is an overwhelming sentiment in favor of some kind of a prohibitory bill.

The only opponents are the saloon keepers and hotel men at Jacksonville. People living outside of Jacksonville claim that the State is disgraced, and that their property is injured in value, and Northern visitors are deterred from coming to the State.

One bill introduced in the Senate lies on the table subject to call, while another introduced in the House has been favorably received and is now on its third reading. It may pass any day and will surely go through the Senate.

Governor Mitchell will sign the measure when it reaches him. The provisions of the House bill are stringent, and it will be impossible to have the big fight in that State if it is passed.

O'Donnell the Winner.

After a vicious fight of 21 rounds at the Seaside Athletic Club, Coney Island, N. Y., Jake Kilrain was knocked down and out by Steve O'Donnell on Monday night.

Leaving in Covered Wagons.

A party in Colorado has signified the intention of leaving there in the old fashioned way—covered wagons—for North Carolina. They say it is cheaper than paying railroad fare. They bring stock, household and other personal property.

Mrs. John Guy, living near Fair Oaks, Va., was visiting at a neighbor's house, when one of the children choked badly in swallowing food at the table. Mrs. Guy was so frightened at the occurrence that she fell dead. It is thought her death was caused by a rupture of a blood vessel. The child soon got all right again.

No other business Board adjourned.

A. T. BUSH, Clerk.

Strangled Nearly to Death.

Miss Kate Champe, a servant in the family of George W. Lumson, living near Abbevale, Webster county, West Virginia, was sleeping alongside a window, on the first floor, last Saturday night, when some one opened the window without waking her and seized her by the throat. Her efforts to breathe awakened Mr. Lumson, in the next room, and he came to the rescue, whereupon the man fled. Miss Champe was almost dead, and did not recover consciousness for three hours. Her throat is terribly marked, and the villain must have used terrible force to produce such an effect. It is believed to be the work of some naturally vicious person, and not a robber.

Pannil Released on Bail.

Robert H. Pannil, who has been twice tried in Lynchburg, Va., for aiding and abetting ex-Teller Walker G. Hamner in purloining money from the First National Bank, and whose third trial is set for the September term of the United States District Court, the two former trials having resulted in hung juries, was released from jail on Monday upon giving $6,000 bail.

State of Texas Insolvent

When the Texas State treasury closed Tuesday night, it was announced insolvent by Treasurer Wortham.

The passage of the general appropriation bill by the Legislature just closed, made the State liable at once for $614,000. To pay this amount there was only $100,000. The bill became effective Monday and within six hours every cent of the $100,000 in the treasury was taken out and there is now a shortage of $514,000.

Treasurer Wortham says it will be next January before the State will be on a cash basis again.
