Regular Yearly Meetings Will occur on the 17th of April.

The Roanoke Colony Memorial Association at its annual meeting last week re-elected for president Maj. Graham Daves, of Edenton, vice-president, and John S. Bassett, of Trinity College, secretary and treasurer. Among the business transactions of the section of the by-laws was so amended as to make the regular yearly meeting occur on the 17th of April, in Edenton, N. John M. Benson, defaulting treasurer of Bladen county, is in the penitentiary to serve three years. The time was commuted three years ago, the amount of the fine being six thousand dollars. Benson was put in jail, but just before the date set for trial, he was liberated by a mob of his friends. For eighteen months he remained away then reappeared and was again placed in jail. Threats were made last Saturday that he would be taken from the custody of the sheriff while on the way to the penitentiary and the judge ordered extra guards to accompany the sheriff. No attempt at rescue was made.

RICHARD DILLARD.

FOR FISH COMMISSIONER.

Dr. W. R. Capehart Prominently Mentioned for the Place.

ADMIRABLY QUALIFIED.

HE IS THE NEWEST ASPIRANT FOR THE HONOR, IS HIGHLY INDORSED AND IS A MAN OF PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.

Dr. Wm. R. Capehart is among those who are being prominently mentioned for United States Fish Commissioner, and is being highly endorsed for the position. From the Washington (D. C.) Evening Times we take the following:

A strong candidate who has just been mentioned for the first time is Dr. W. R. Capehart, of Avoca, near Edenton, N. C. He is largely engaged in the fish business and is personally acquainted with the most of the wholesale fish dealers along the Atlantic coast. He understands the commercial fisheries of both coasts better probably than any other man mentioned in the connection. He operates at his home on Albemarle Sound one of the greatest fisheries in the country. His seine is drawn by two steamboats, and during the season is laid and pulled in with clockwork regularity every six hours, six days in the week. In addition, he has been engaged in practical fish culture as long, probably as any other man in the country.

Supt. Stephen G. Worth, of the fish culture station here, said of him in answer to questions by a Times reporter:

"Dr. Capehart is one of the most admirably qualified men for Fish Commissioner to be found in the United States. His intellect is brilliant and his alertness and penetration remarkable. He is of lightning rapidity in seizing upon a situation, and directs all kinds of mechanical, agricultural, and fisheries work with accuracy and pushes it forward with energy. No man has a readier knowledge of the technique of the fishing industry. He is a master of practical fish culture."

Mr. Theophilus White, Chief Inspector of Shell fish, has written a circular letter to oystermen in which he calls their attention to the new laws passed by the last Legislature, and warns them that they must comply with the same or suffer the consequences.

How to Market Cotton.

Upon the subject of when to market your cotton, a very eminent authority gives the following advice. "If they would only market a part of it from time to time along through the winter months if they would devote nine months to marketing, instead of four, they would get better prices for their cotton. I believe they will be able to do this now, for they have made good grain crops and can live without hasty sale of their cotton. If they will practice this caution and not flood the market within cotton during October and November, the price is going to be much higher than it has been for two or three or four years, in my opinion"—Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald.

WANTED TO SACRIFICE HIS CHILDREN.

A MAN ARRANGED A GUILLOTINE AND ATTEMPTED WHOLESALE MURDER.

Louis Hirschberger, a German, aged forty years, living at Buffalo, N. Y., attempted to kill his five children Sunday morning. Hirschberger has for some time past been afflicted with religious mania, but he was thought harmless and was not arrested. He told his neighbors Saturday night that he had eaten meat yesterday, and for this crime against the canons of the church he had been commanded by the Lord to sacrifice the lives of his five children.

Hirschberger then took a board and cut five circles in it to fit the necks of his children, and with this improvised guillotine, he went into the house and dragged the children out of bed. He was just fitting their necks into the board when his wife came out and rescued them. He renewed his attempt at noon. Once more he overpowered the children, and once more got their heads into the board, and with a big axe was in the very act of cutting off their heads, when neighbors, called to the scene by the children's cries, overpowered the maniac and rescued the little ones. Hirschberger was then arrested.

Water at Forty Cents a Barrel.

The continued drought has caused serious loss throughout Ohio. The tobacco crop is almost a total failure, and fall wheat is in bad shape, a great deal of it having been killed after sprouting. Water sells at 25 cents per barrel at West Union and Wellston and 40 cents per barrel at Winchester. A number of furnaces and brick works in Scioto, Lawrence and Jackson counties have been compelled to shut down. Cattle is being sold at the first price offered, owing to scarcity of feed, as the hay and corn crops have been an almost total failure in many localities.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

To err is human; to forgive, divine—We'll admit as true, of course, But if the sin is yours, forgiveness mine I've noticed that it has unusual force.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

TROUBLE IN GEORGIA.

RESULT OF THE MURDER OF SHERIFF BROOKER.

THE ZIEGLER FAMILY ENTRENCHED AT THEIR HOMESTEAD AND DEFYING ARREST—THEIR FOLLOWING SAID TO NUMBER TWO HUNDRED MEN.

The situation in Screvin county, Ga., as the result of the murder of Sheriff Brooker by the Ziegler brothers, is most serious and really remarkable for a civilized community.

The Zieglers are entrenched at their homestead, about five miles south of Sylvania, and swear that they will not be taken alive. The Zieglers are Populists and the district is strictly a Populist one. They have besides a number of relatives and family connections living in the country right around them, all of whom have espoused their cause and are sworn to stand by them to the death. A dozen or more of the close friends and relatives of the Zieglers remain in their house or in the immediate neighborhood, it is said, and all are armed to the teeth. The house, it is said, is a perfect arsenal of shot guns, Winchester rifles and revolvers. It occupies a commanding position and the garrison inside could do terrible execution against any party which attempted to invade their stronghold.

When old man Solomon Ziegler was killed by Brooker in a quarrel over politics several months ago, it is said that the Zieglers determined on revenge, and counseled with their friends and relatives, who agreed to stand by them. There is a very large farm bell in the yard, and it was agreed that this bell should not be rung except as a warning of danger, and a signal for the Zieglers and their followers to gather to resist an attack.

The bell has not been rung since old man Ziegler's death. The Ziegler following is said to number two hundred men who will respond to the ringing of the bell.

Holmes Placed on Trial.

Herman W. Mudgett, better known as H. H. Holmes, the self-confessed life insurance swindler and alleged multi-murderer, whose supposed crimes have been the topic for general discussion during the past several months, was placed on trial Monday morning at Philadelphia, on the charge of having murdered Benjamin F. Pietzel. Judge Arnold presided.

Counsel for the defense asked for a continuance of 60 days on the ground that they were not prepared to go on. Judge Arnold overruled the motion, and then the defendants' lawyers (W. H. Shoemaker and Samuel P. Rotan) withdrew. The case was then resumed, Holmes conducting his own defense.

A GREAT CALAMITY.

Virginia's Famous University Building in Ashes.

A Third of a Million Loss.

HUNDREDS OF LADIES JOIN IN THE EFFORT TO SAVE THE HISTORIC CONTENTS OF THE HISTORIC BUILDING—THE "SCHOOL OF ATHENS" AMONG THE LOST WORKS OF ART. JEFFERSON'S FIGURE SAVED.

The greatest calamity which has befallen the University of Virginia, located at Charlottesville, Va., since its foundation occurred Sunday last in the destruction by fire of the University buildings which have been standing since 1825, comprising the rotunda, the annex, the reading rooms and old chapel. These buildings were completely gutted, despite the heroic efforts of the students and firemen, aided by engines from both Staunton and Lynchburg.

Among the valuables destroyed are the physical apparatus, the $4,000 painting by Balze, copied from Raphael's School of Athens, most of the library of rare volumes beneath the dome of the rotunda, and part of the law library. The statue of Thomas Jefferson, presented to the University by Congress, and the Minor bust were saved, as well as the adjacent dormitories.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. There had been no fire in the building since Friday night, and it is not thought it could have caught from the furnace. The theory that it took fire from electric wires has many advocates. There can be no doubt that it first developed itself in the engineering room over the public hall. Yet there was no electric wires in that room. Another theory is that it caught during Friday night, as the walls when first discovered were found to be very hot, as though the fire had been burning there for many hours.

The work of rebuilding will be begun at once, contributions to this object having been already begun among the alumni.

The saddest thing about the fire is that while the buildings may be replaced they can never be reproduced. The peculiar style of architecture was of a past age, and was done by workmen imported to this country from Europe for the purpose.

That the casualties were so few during the fire is indeed remarkable, since dynamite was freely used, and heavy portions of the buildings were falling on all sides.

Professor W. H. Echols, who headed the forces, was brave to rashness, and while upon the reading-room, endeavoring to arrange the dynamite cartridges, to blow it up, he fell to the ground, a distance of about twelve feet, and broke three fingers on his left hand. In his efforts he also lost $50 and his gold watch.

Lloyd Williams, a Norfolk boy, was dangerously injured in his efforts to check the flames.

A fireman named Smith, belonging to the Staunton Fire Company, also sustained painful injuries by falling from the rafter of the old chapel after the interior had been blown out. His head struck the sharp edges of some bricks upon the floor, and his forehead and cheek were deeply gashed.

A little son of Mr. C. K. Murray, while running to reach a place of safety before an explosion of dynamite, tripped, and fell heavily to the ground, breaking his arm.

There were no accidents of a serious nature except the above, though several persons were overcome by the heat and smoke.

Not only did the men and boys put forth every effort to save the loved and venerated building but the ladies of Charlottesville
