EDENTON, N. C. Dec. 6th, 1895

Condemn no man for not thinking as you think. Let every one enjoy the liberty of thinking for himself.

Congress convened Monday. Tuesday the President's message was read, which is a lengthy document, but interesting in all its details.

The Norfolk Virginian, one of the best papers published in Virginia, is thirty years old. The FISHERMAN & FARMER offers its congratulations.

It is said Grover Cleveland has not the slightest idea of accepting a nomination for the Presidency should it be offered him by the Democratic party in 1896.

The Berkley, Va., Graphic has in its issue of November 30th an illustration of Chowan County's Court House—built in 1731, as recently illustrated in the FISHERMAN & FARMER. Thanks.

The scheme of Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, to reorganize the Senate along Populist lines, did not succeed. He extended invitations to fifty-two Senators who are known to favor the white metal to attend a caucus for the purpose of taking control of the Senate organization, but very few of those who received invitations attended the conference.—Norfolk Ledger.

"The country editor, as a rule, is not the man to yell for sympathy, but in these piping times of peace, when day often pass with scarcely anything to break the monotony, and the weary editor has to write industriously against space he is deserving of pity. If the people would assist him a little by furnishing him with any items of news which they may chance to know, he would be able to give them a much better paper and his job would be a happier one."

The greatest enterprise shown by any newspaper in North Carolina, and probably the finest industrial issue that has come from any press in the State, is the 36-page Cotton Mill edition of the Raleigh News & Observer sent out on Thanksgiving Day. It is nicely illustrated with the various cotton mills of the State and those who are operating them; besides it is filled with valuable information. The issue is not only a credit to the News & Observer office but to North Carolina, and cannot fail to result in much good. To Brother Daniels and his entire staff, the FISHERMAN & FARMER offers its congratulations.

This is the season of the year when the autumn leaves are scattered in profusion. Sentimental persons give to these a friendly prominence, and bestow upon them a tenderness befitting the mystery which surrounds them. They are typical of our own helplessness. To-day we flourish, to-morrow we fall by the wayside. When you wander through the forest and trample under foot the poor fallen leaves you should pause and think of the end of a things created. 'Twas but yesterday when these dead leaves were expanding under the genial sunshine of spring time, now they lie withered at your feet. Pick them up tenderly, handle them with care, for such is the course of human life.—Ex.

Mirror of a Town's Doings.

The newspapers of a town are its looking glasses. It is here you see yourselves as others see you. You smile on them, and they smile back at you; you frown on them and you are repaid in kind. They are the reflex of a town. If the town is doing business the newspapers will show it in its advertising columns. If the merchants are spiritless, shiftless fellows, whose stores are jumbles of junk and jam, the newspapers will show it by the lack of space they take. If you want the world to know that you have a live town, you can only let it be known through its newspaper.—Phnham. Minn. Bulletin.

The merchant that advertises is the one who does the business,

YOU CAN'T ALWAYS TELL.

"Well, but, auntie, what kind of dog is it?" "I bought him for a black and tan, but when he was a few weeks old he looked like a setter, then he broke out in spots like a coach dog, and just as I thought he was going to be a greyhound he began to show the points of a bulldog and—well, I really don't know what to call him!"—Life.

A Good Showing.

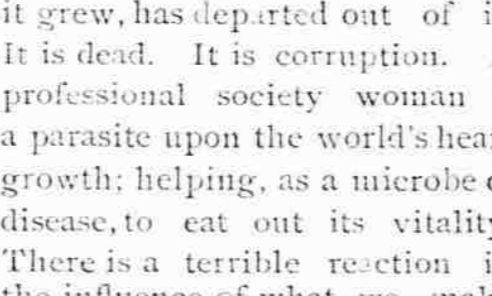

From the Raleigh News & Observer's mammoth Cotton Mill edition we learn that there are now in operation 184 cotton mills in North Carolina, which contain 989,093 spindles and 24,624 looms, giving employment to 24,825 operatives. The capital invested therein amounts to $16,710,600, and during the last year they worked up $74,220 bales of cotton—ninety per cent. of the cotton production of the State.—Ninety-seven per cent. of the operatives are native North Carolinians and ninety-three per cent. of the money invested in the mills is North Carolina capital. Eighty-five per cent. of the managers of the mills are natives of North Carolina.

SOCIETY, A CORRUPTION. The Society Woman a Parasite on The World's Heart-Growth.

Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney in discussing society, with her girl friends, in December Ladies' Home Journal, has this stinging charge to make against modern Society, as it is spelled with a capital S:

"Society as a pursuit, an end, is a thing without a soul. The home spirit, from the sharing of which between home and home it grew, has departed out of it. It is dead. It is corruption. A professional society woman is a parasite upon the world's heart growth; helping, as a microbe of disease, to eat out its vitality. There is a terrible reaction in the influence of what we make society to be, without its true heart and centre. It is to blame for the many confused problems of our time; it is responsible for the frantic turning of the world upside down. Conventionalities, false effort and restriction crowd in upon and choke out our most beautiful and sacred realities. True homes become more and more scarce. Society women abandon them; they make of them mere arrival and departure stations in the rush of a whirling round. Women who cannot or who will not maintain the modern artificial conditions, are discouraged and repelled from any home-making at all. They are forced, through the very need of their nature, to outside work and interest for fellowship; and so there is a great deal attempted, from strong desire for the best, that is yet, in its turn, untrue, one sided; adding a fresh derangement to our perplexed systems and theories—our transitional social and political economies."

A HEARTLESS MOTHER-IN-LAW. Mrs. Van Million—But, Mr. Marigold, if you marry my daughter how do you and she expect to live without money? Jack Marigold—Do you mean to say that you would allow your son-in-law to starve?—Frank Leslie's Weekly.

A Sufferer Cured. "Every season, from the time I was two years old, I suffered dreadfully from erysipelas, which kept growing worse until my hands were almost useless. The bones softened so that they would bend, and several of my fingers are now crooked from this cause. On my hand I carry large scars, which, but for AYER'S Sarsaparilla, would be sores, provided I was alive and able to carry anything. Eight bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me, so that I have had no return of the disease for more than twenty years. The first bottle seemed to reach the spot and a persistent use of it has perfected the cure."—O. C. Davis, Wautoma, Wis.

Too Tired to Smile

Weak, Weary and Worn

Dizziness, Impure Blood—Cured by Hood's.

Many weak and worn-out women know just what this means. In totally unfit condition for work, they force themselves through the daily routine of duties, almost too discouraged to even look for relief. But it is to be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, which makes the blood pure, builds up the nerves, makes the weak strong and gives a cheerful spirit. Read this:

"I have suffered more than tongue can tell from dizziness and severe pains in my head. It also felt so low spirited that I often said I wished I was dead. A friend suggested that I try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I gave it a trial and was more than surprised to see what a great change came over me after I had taken the first bottle. I felt better right away. I have now taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and am happy to say I am entirely cured. I would advise all suffering on account of impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will cure." Mrs. Wm. Smith, 319 E. 88th St., N. Y. City.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them, 25c. per box.

CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Peppermint Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called soothing syrups and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons without labeling them poisons? Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell them unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Parry, that it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office of the United States, and other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Fisher and his associates to sell "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate there is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless? Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 10 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, you can be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest? Well, these things are unwritten knowledge. They are facts.

The facsimile signature of Dr. J. C. Fisher is on every wrapper. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.
